

Local Happenings

Orin Jackson of Bickleton, Wash., visited two days last week at the home of T. E. Hendricks.

Soren and George Matsen from Bickleton, Wash. were callers at the T. E. Hendrick home last Friday.

Harrison Johnson stopped off last Thursday on his way home from Pendleton to Bickleton, Wash., and visited with T. E. Hendricks.

Recently the Boardman commercial club appointed a committee to investigate the present status of the Farm Loan Act, as applying locally because the long delay was causing complaint and dissatisfaction. A few days later the Supreme Court of the United States announced its decision sustaining the legality of the measure. After this tell your troubles to the Commercial club.

Mr. Ballenger made a business trip to The Dalles Tuesday.

Mrs. John Hango is visiting at the home of relatives this week.

A. E. Ricketts spent Monday and Tuesday transacting business in Stanfield.

J. D. Zurcher, attorney of Stanfield, was transacting business in Boardman Wednesday.

A wonder some one does not discover the presence of rubber in the anatomy of George Mitchell's worms from the way they can be stretched.

Mrs. D. F. Rancier and Mrs. Kenith Mulkey were Pendleton visitors Thursday. Mrs. Rancier is having some dental work done and Mrs. Mulkey is taking medical treatment.

Just whistle for Whistle.

Drink Western brew; it's good for you.

Mrs. Talbot is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Blyden.

Do you know we have a Christian Endeavor society in our town? We are just organizing but expect to have a live society and anticipate some good times. Meetings begin at 7:30 promptly. Everyone is asked to come, both young and old.

Visitor—"What are those things hanging in the sun?"

Mitchell—"Those are worm hides I am tanning for auto tires. The smaller ones I ship to a bologna factory."

Our community is showing the right spirit in getting behind the movement for base ball club. A grand ball is scheduled for Saturday evening March 19th in the high school auditorium and promises to be well attended. A community gathering in the interest of community enterprise. Let's turn out with our families and enjoy a pleasant evening.

BOARDMAN HIGH SCHOOL, BOARDMAN, ORE., MARCH 18, 1921

NO. 6

Boardman Utellem

Edited by Boardman High School.

The Departed.

The shades were drawn and the doors were closed. On one of the doors hung a crepe. All the merry laughter was silenced. Even the birds forgot to sing in that hour of gloom.

Why? Because there was one vacant seat in the school room.

Some of his admirers were weeping bitter tears of sorrow, while others were going round with long faces, caused by thots of the departed one.

Yes, Maurice Goodwin passed away Tuesday morning at 11:20 a. m. for Condon, on the train. Poor old "Morry," we all hated to see him leave.

Baseball Game With Irrigon.

On Friday p. m., March 11, the second Boardman team, consisting of the seventh and eighth grades, hid themselves over to our little neighboring town of Irrigon via motor bus to answer the call of spring and baseball. On arriving they found the Irrigon team to consist of four high school boys with the balance of the team made up of seventh and eighth grade, but they pluckily concluded they'd tackle anything Irrigon could put up. The game was called at 3 p. m. In the first few innings, chiefly on account of bad fielding on Boardman's part, the Irrigon team piled up scores rather fast, gaining a large lead. Soon, however, the boys began to pull themselves together and succeeded in reducing the lead to 29-23, Irrigon's favor.

Our team feels greatly encouraged on account of having stood up so well against a mixed grade and high school team, and are anxious for another game at an early date.

The Ark of Exam. Questions

Teachers in Modern School sent out a warning to the Students that a Flood of Examination was to commence in the near future. They were to take unto themselves the Food of Knowledge which would be needed when the Ark of Examinations Questions was completed. Wise student did all things that Teacher commanded him. Students were just six days older when Lo! the Storm of Hard Questions fell upon their heads.

Unwise Student was washed away by the Waters of Forgetfulness. He perished from the lack of the Food of Knowledge.

After the Storm had abated Modest Pupil sent Dave Freshman to Teacher to get a list of those who had perished and those who were saved.

Smiles.

Prof. Signs (looking at excuse): "Lauren, is that your father's signature?"

Lauren: "Yes sir, as nearly as I can make it."

Truman (at a busy barber shop): "How long will it be before I can get shaved?"

Barber: "Why, from your looks, I would say about ten years."

Truman (indignantly): "I want you to understand that I have a little hair on my lip."

Barber: "Oh, yes, I see it now, but wait until you get another, and then I'll shave them both off."
