NEW U. S. TREASURER FROM THE WEST

Frank White, former governor of North Dakota and a colonel with the A. E. F. during the war, is the newly appointed Treasurer of the United States. He comes from Valley City, N. D.

It is such a little thing to dig those cast-off garments out of the clothes box and send them to the Near East Relief, but to at least one, and perhaps several human beings in that far-off land, it may mean the difference between life, hope, strength—and almost certain death.

During a three-inch snow fall in Kars on October 30, 1920, fifty thousand Armenian men were stripped of everything by the invading army, to be driven into the plain unclad.

BALD HEAD HELPS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Stanislaus Zbysko, the oldest active wrestler in the world, who for twenty years has been in the limelight of the American mat game, had to wait until he was an old man before he won the title—then "thanks to his bald head." He took the championship from "Strangler" Lewis at New York last week through one of the most unique situations in its history of the sport. After twenty-three minutes of whirlwind work, Lewis made a flying leap at the forty-seven-year-old Pole in the attempt to clamp on one of his famous leglocks. Zbysko's head and face were perspiring freely. Lewis' feet slipped over and off the young slippery head, and before he could recover, Zbysko was on top of him with a winning neck lock.

NEAR EAST IN GREAT NEED OF CLOTHING

Vast Throngs Wander From Place to Place Clad Only In Rags.

From the Near East comes an appeal for clothing. Five years of destitution have reduced hundreds of thousands of people there to a most pitiable condition.

Many thousands of Armenians, driven from their homes during the war, are still in exile. There has been no way to secure clothing to replace what they wore when they were driven forth.

All industry is paralyzed. The people, though willing, cannot earn a livelihood. Vast throngs wander from place to place, clad only in bits of rags and strips of burlap bags.

The little children are perhaps the severest sufferers. A report from a Near East Relief worker, Miss Maria P. Jacobsen, is typical of scores of others. She writes:

"Hundreds of little children in our orphanage at Harpoot, dragged themselves to us, suffering acute rheumatism and pneumonia as a result of lack of clothes. Some were affected by gangrene from frozen feet."

To relieve—in part, at least—this great distress, Near East Relief, which, under a Congressional charter, operates in this field, had undertaken to collect quantities of cast-off or other spare clothing. What is needed is good practicable clothing.

Every man, woman and child in America is asked to help. Every garment counts.

A single coat may save a human life.

A day's delay in sending it may cost one.

It will take only a few minutes to make up a bundle and send it on its way. If a local Bundle Day has been announced, give that; if none is planned for, send by parcel post to Near East Relief, Portland, Oregon.

Near East Needs Cast-Aside Clothes.

The clothing cast aside as worthless by our people here in America would provide comfortable covering for every unclad one in the Near East, and would be an untold blessing to thousands who have been stripped of all their possessions.

This clothing can be transferred to them through the agency of the Near East Relief, incorporated by Act of Congress to relieve the suffering in that country.

In Philadelphia last year, they used the slogan: "The plea that touched the heart of Philadelphia," and fourteen carloads of worn clothing was the answer.

Such a plea should touch the heart of every county in the country, and bring its answer clear and strong.

A LITTLE GIRL AND AN IDEA

When Miss Kate R. Swisher, a resident of Drewry's Bluff, was sixteen-years old, she possessed with an idea that she was not receiving a square deal. And so thoroughly did she believe it that she went alone to the Governor of Virginia and made a plea before him. He accepted her plea and set aside the second day in June to be celebrated as "Bundle Day." Since then several States of the Union have taken the matter up, and it bids fair to become a national event, all because of a little girl who stuck to her idea.
