EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Getting wages back to where they should be, getting prices back to where they are on a par with wages, getting production around to where it will need the demand and bring the demand up to tally with produc tion is not the business of any man or set of men - it's everybody's

If the merchant is now forced to sell some articles below cost, it's his business to see that the concern he buys from in the future gets its product down to a lower price Everyone has to assume a part of the burden no matter what he has to sell, produce, or labor. We don't believe there is a man or a farmhand who expects to draw as high wages now as he did when everything he cats and wears was from three to five times as high as it is today. So he must accept a reduction to meet the gradually lowering price of necessities. Refusing to buy isn't going to help, for if you refuse to buy you can't expect to sell. So long as wages go hand-inhand with the price of commodities, and so long as commodities balance up with wages we'll be all right, and we'll be on a solid foundation

JURY SERVICE FOR WOMEN

Among the five bills up for a vote at the June 7th election the most vital is the one to permit women to serve as jurors.

Two outstanding features of jury trials by all-men juries is that almost no women are ever convicted of anything, and men do not convict each other for sex crime.

The law provides that any woman drawn for jury service may be excused on her own request and that in criminal actions where the complaining witness or the defendant is a minor under 18, half the jury shall be women.

From the standpoint of human rights and moral responsibilities the woman juror bill is the most im portant one on the ballot and should receive earnest consideration.

"Money not necessary to acquire college education" says Carlton 3. Savage, president of the Associatd Students of the University of Oreson. That sure is gratiffing news to the poor young cuss who is so canious for a college education.

But in Oregon today, only men are considered competent to judge. The woman who has borne the child, jursed him, taught him in school and guided him into manhood, is not considered competent under our laws to judge him in his failure to meet troubles and temptati What will the matherhood or Oregon answer at the polls on June 7?

UMATILLA BRIDGE IS

RE-OPENED TO TRAFFIC

The bridge across the Umatilla was opened for traffic last Monday afternoon, after having been put out of commission for a few days by high water. The bridge is now perfeetly safe until the next time the water rises above it.

This structure is part of one of Oregon's best known, most widely used, and most important highways. That so vital a link in a great artery of travel should be rendered useless by a spring freshet is impressive evidence that the County Court and the Highway Commission have been failing in their duty,

Island Cities in Europe

There are four cities in Europe which stand wholly or in part on islands. Ghent, in Belgium, is built on 26 Islands, which are connected by 80 bridges, the city having as many canals as streets. . Amsterdam, in Holland, a city of ten miles in circumference, is mostly built on piles driven into the sandy subsoil, but the flowing of the tide and the debris of the Ainstel river have made 90 Islands, and the city has more canals than streets. The waterways are traversed by over 300 bridges, so that Amsterdam has earned the designation of the Venice of the North. Venice is built on 80 Islands, great and small, which are connected by 400 bringes. There is not a are abundant, and it is possible to go from one end of the city to the other on foot, though sometimes long detours must necessarily be made. Petrograd is built on a peninsula and two islands connected by several large stone bridges, and in summer numerous bridges of boats, which, however, are removed at the first frost,
