THOSE AEROPLANE FLIGHTS

A plane "lit" upon Boardman the other day, and what it did and did not do is beyond description. The following is from a special correspondent sent in to cover the event. From those who went up:

Chas. Barnes—Why is it necessary that the pilot sit behind the passengers?

Mrs. John Jenkins—We did not go high enough. The Ocean Roll for me.

Mrs. I. Berger—Too plain and simple. Needs dips and turns for seasoning.

H. Klegas—Terra Firma and close association with hay from now on will be tame and insipid. If one would live he must go high and remain dry. Oh, to be a bird.

John Jenkins—The tottering step of the infant child has nothing on man as he approaches his seat of the flying bird. The get-away is a mind accelerator. The straight-away a soothing sop, but the dips, the loops, the twists—Oh! a kingdom for a bucket of earth.

I. Berger—Not sufficient action to obtain worth of ticket looping should begin on leaving ground and continue until return. Prefer companion that does not crowd.

S. H. Boardman—It's the life if you do not weaken. Not to weaken, you must apply the rule of Mother Earth to the airy kingdom of the floating atom—the straight road. If you cut the corners, you skip the bridges, you flirt with the bright lights of the twinkling stars. Your reward is a buzzing brain, a flopping heart and a "peevish innard." The straight road, the peaceful field, the glistening stream, the wondering Maude Muller, the quickening of the pulse to all things that are good. Life is really worth while.

R. Rand—The straight road for mine. I have always taken mine straight. I am too old to begin the crooked. Upwings and side dips should be accompanied with side curtains and blinders. It's the only time in my life where my stomach preceded me.

Bob Mitchell—It's not such a bad world when you look down on it.

Miss Price—Would that I could teach higher astronomy to a class of one.

Miss Giatt—The early bird grasps the atom.

A. Macomber—It's great to put one over the old man.

Miss M. McNeal—The beauties of Lucerne have highly optically pictured their mark on my heart. Gardner's may escape, but gas-producers, never.

R. Wassner—The trail was too short. The dips, too little. The pilot, too too many eyes. If one would spoon he could only bay at the moon.

To all great upward steps of the human race you find the conscientious objector. The day following the air festival the phone rang in the following:

I had a pan of "near light" dough "gobs" ready for the oven when a low flying plane sputtered over my shack, the jar of same flattening the gastronomic effort to a leaden mass. "Shove off" north.—Shorty White.

Is the plane persuing Gardner or surveying the John Day? It interrupts my Blackstone.—Col. Callahan.

How will this project ever get on a dairy basis with this hifaluting upstart clogging the flow of milk. One cow gave down a quart, the other three I had to get down from the trees.—Mike Flickenger.

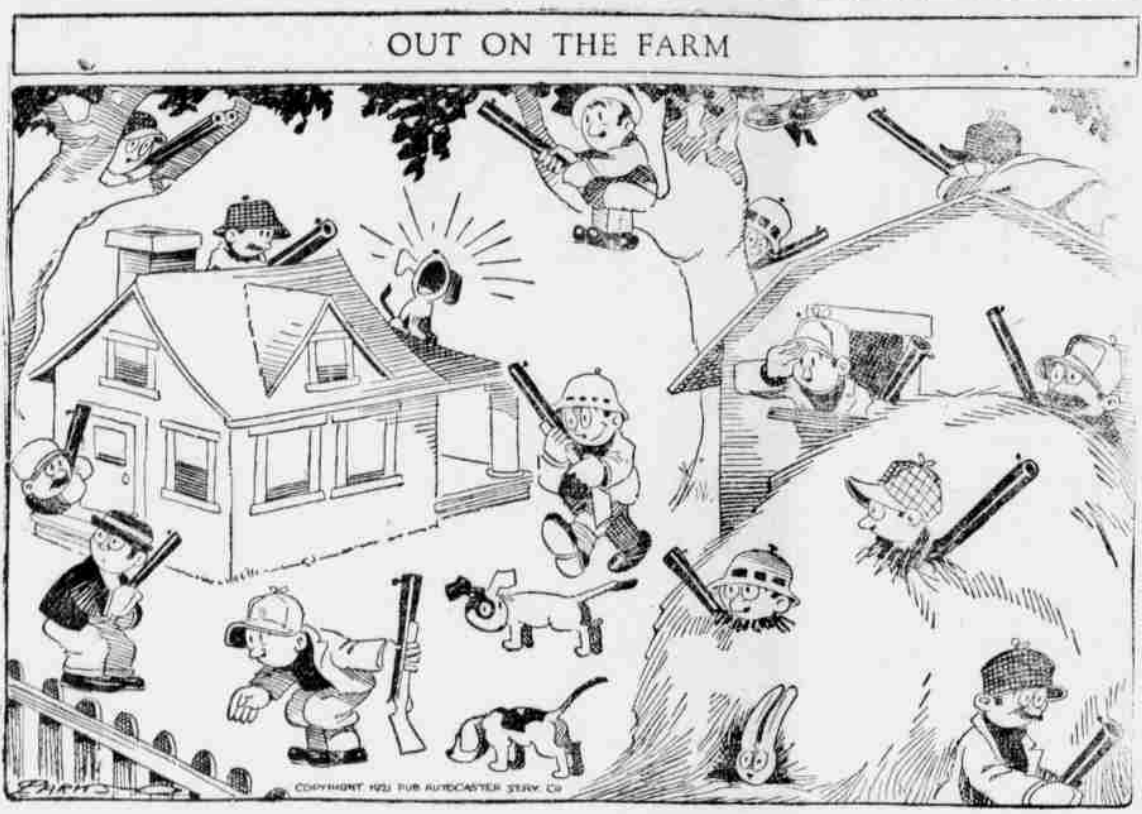

A perfectly good set of eggs ruined by the rubbering curiosity of a Plymouth Rock hen. If you would have your fries or "ham and's", desist. Set your target high but shoot your egg supply.—Mrs. M. Cramer.

Stop the circus. My fifty acre ranch will not hold my horses. My airdale dog is trying to fly. My geese I have confined in the cellar. A wrench narrowly missed my head. The back-wash is teetering my hay. What is this, a farming country or a battle front?—A. W. Cobb.

There were those who stood about and dared not let go of good old Mother Earth.

Wm. Finnell—I have been up five times. Once two miles high. Do not enjoy it as I become sick at the stomach.

P. S. We rise to remark that with Bill's expense, he was some sick, and on the other hand we clearly recall when only a youth of six, we inhaled a green apple and was also sick. I have been up hundreds of times, in fact made the motors.—St. Norton. I would have gone up if my wife had dared to go with me.—Charles Nizer.

Mr. Kingsley personally requested that I remain on the earth. Good managers are hard to get this side of Mars.—Jack Gorham.

I served in the great war with the British Aviation Corps. I have given exhibition and stunt flights throughout the U. S. In putting on my work I have never found a gamer bunch of "air snuffers" than the Boardman people.—Pilot L. Yerex.

HUMANITY'S REAL NEWS IN HOME TOWN PAPERS

R. T. Porte, President of the Porte Pub. Co., Speaks of "Home Town Paper Week."

It is a notable fact that with all the wonderful things that have been written about the so-called "country newspaper," very few of them realize all their possibilities, or what an influence they are in the world.

It is also a notable fact that very few of the readers of those papers realize what a loss it would be to them and to the world if the "country paper" should cease to exist.

The large papers, with immense circulations, tell of "world happenings" as they understand them, and display heads telling of the latest scandals, prize fights, and the misfortunes of humanity.

But, it remains for the "local paper," the "country weekly," the "home town paper" to really give the news of the world, or that give Mr. Common People and his wife.

It is time that the country newspaper should do something to place itself on a higher plane, and also make some noise. Just one paper to start something would not amount to much, but if the 15,000 country papers would join in the chorus, a noise that would go around the world would be the result.

Some time ago I was going thru some trade paper, or bulletin of a state press association, or something of that kind, and noted that somebody had wrote that it might be a good idea to have a "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week." I smiled at the idea at first, but some way the idea stuck, and then I started to find out who originated the idea, but the paper was lost.

The publisher who thought of the idea just let it go at that, but I decided that it was so good, that it should not die, so at once I asked all the trade papers, printers' magazines, and the great printers' supply houses what they thought of the idea.

The officers of the National Editorial Association were written to, and in fact some two hundred letters were sent out.

The result was that everyone wrote that the idea was just the thing, and by common consent it was decided that the week of November 7 to 12 be adopted as the week to be known as "Subscribe For Your Home Town Paper Week."

It is now up to the newspapers of the country, the home papers, to see the wonderful possibilities of such a week, where in every locality readers will be asked to subscribe for the local weekly, and in addition to the home town paper where they were born—if they were not born where they now live.

In this way, every home town paper will help every other home town paper, and by concentrating the efforts to one week, or three or four weeks, the home town paper will receive the publicity it is entitled to.

The home town paper is ever ready to "boost" for the other fellow, to print item after item about this and that kind of a day or week—the time has come for it to boost and blow its bugle for itself, to print several columns about itself and all home town papers, to put on a campaign of publicity, and take advantage of what other papers will do. In other words, throw its hat into the ring, and put up a fight that will get it somewhere instead of sitting on the side lines and hollerin' for the other fellow.
