IRRIGON NEWS ITEMS

What is this we hear splashing to the south of us? The Columbia River highway has been built thru the north end of the county for several years now. We heard all sorts of arguments at the time and now they are trying to tell us the same story about the Umatilla-Wallula cut-off. Well, it is going to be built, boys, and you cannot hurt anybody but yourselves by the arguments you put up. The main highways will be considered from the standpoint of their general usefulness, and the more you tell the highway commissioners or the federal agents that it will divert business away from any individual or a locality which is not to the general interests of the state or the Pacific Northwest, you simply help the cause and hasten the construction of this cut-off. We may be nothing but rocks and sand, but we are here on the job and we get to our point by always working for the general good of the state. Why not put up your signs at all cross roads, and say, this way to the great wheat belt, this way to the great wheat district, etc.? Those who want to come and go your way, will be there to see you. You cannot drive them your way and make them drink with you. Take our methods which are proven effective. Invite your guests and make it so nice and convenient for them that they will stay with you always.

S. P. Splawn of Gresham, and E. P. Winans of Portland, have rented the Dawson house and will start in rabbit hunting for the winter. Mr. Splawn is an expert marksman, and will travel on horseback to shoot the rabbits, and Mr. Winans will gather up the rabbits with automobile or wagon. Mr. Splawn has a brother in Portland in the selling game, and will handle the rabbits on the market in Portland. We certainly shall try to make the stay of these two gentlemen while with us quite comfortable as we have the rabbits and are glad to have them slaughtered. We wish you both best of success.

The Ladies' Aid have now scheduled the musical to come off on Friday evening, December 16th, and the Christmas bazaar that was scheduled for Dec. 14th, the same evening after the musical. This promises to be well worth 15 and 25 cents admittance that will be charged and you can then make any purchase from the ladies after the entertainment. The proceeds are to make payment on the piano purchased last summer. This will be held in the church.

Mrs. John Beavert and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Brown, of Corvallis, left on No. 23 Friday for Corvallis. Mrs. Beavert expects to be gone about two or three weeks.

The special meeting of the Farm Bureau attracted a capacity house in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening. Mr. Mansfield, president of the Oregon State Farm Bureau, could not come as had been planned, but Will Schulmerich, secretary of the Washington County Farm Bureau, was sent in his place, accompanied by our County Agent, C. C. Calkins. Mr. Schulmerich, who has considerable experience in Farm Bureau organization, and is an old dairyman and farmer in diversified farming, gave us an interesting talk outlining what the Farm Bureau has done and is doing in the way of marketing, buying and solving the various problems of the farmer today. The organization is gaining membership rapidly in every state in the union and is being recognized by some of the leading wholesalers and manufacturers as the coming organization they must line up with and sell direct to its members at wholesale prices, cutting out their agents and other middlemen. The Moline Plow and Implement company has made contracts with the various state and county bureaus and are today selling their machinery at wholesale prices direct to the farmer. company has also arranged to allow the Farm Bureau members a discount of 20 per cent on their tires and tubes. One or two other companies are now figuring on closing similar agreements and the state and national farm bureau heads are working to accomplish much more in this line and as the membership increases, this fact will become more established. Mr. Schulmerich outlined how corrupt funds have been created by other organizations opposed to the farmers and have fought them at every turn but the farmers were gradually becoming aware of their various schemes and are not falling in with their schemes and plans to put the farmer out of business. The plan of education carried out by the Farm Bureau will check these schemes in the future entirely. Mr. Schulmerich also talked at some length on the dairy cow question. He cautioned his audience not to make any mistake along this line. To buy cows that did not produce three hundred pounds of butterfat was not worth having and would mean ruin to the farmer who might be so unfortunate as to purchase such stock. Calves from herds holding official records were very desirable. Mr. Calkins outlined the membership drive now being made and explained the division of the five dollar membership fee. Chairman and Chas. W. Powell to make the present drive which closes for the three-year period on December 17th and some 12 or 15 paid-up members were secured before the close of the evening but several more promised to sign up. The Irrigon Farm Bureau has been organized and doing business for two or three years and has been recognized by the railroad company in its various dealings and has handled seed potatoes, coal and grain in car load lots for its members at different times. At present it has a car of certified seed potatoes ordered and is expected in during this month. Secretary Glasgow wired for a car of corn Monday and this should arrive in a few days. Saving on this car of corn will be in the neighborhood of four hundred dollars to its members. The potatoes will probably figure saving considerable more. These will be certified by the State of Idaho as true to name, clean and free of disease. Under such saving annually, why should any farmer remain a non-member?

The County Farm Bureau meets at Heppner December 17th, and will elect its county officers. At least one member from our bureau will attend this meeting. The rabbit poisoning campaign was also discussed by Mr. Calkins and left to Chas. Powell for necessary action when weather conditions were favorable to accomplish satisfactory results. The Bureau is arranging for a series of lectures in February by men and women from the O. A. C. which will be known as the educational week. They will be held at Heppner, Ione, Boardman and Irrigon. Experts in each line will have an evening or afternoon as the case might be convenient to demonstrate and illustrate the successful methods employed by the different departments. The meeting lasted until after eleven o'clock when refreshments were served by the ladies in the kitchen of the new school and everybody enjoyed themselves.

W. H. Pierce has moved into his properties across from the depot and hopes to have his service station ready in the near future.
The high school play scheduled for Thanksgiving will now be given some evening next week. No definite date has yet been made.
Regular Commercial Club meeting Friday, December 9th. Don't forget the date.
A new tiny tax organization has been formed by some of our friends and it is reported, came near having a fight Tuesday. (This has no reference to where these items are printed.) Go to it boys, might as well have some circus before the 1925 fair comes off. It's a long time to wait but it's coming nevertheless. You can't help the cause every shot.

(Too Late for Last Issue)

Miss Bunge, county school nurse, visited the Irrigon school Wednesday and gave talks in the different departments throughout the day. She went to Boardman the same evening. Mrs. Paul Dugal, who has been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hugh Grim appointed N. Seaman and Chas. W. Powell to make the present drive which closes for the three-year period on December 17th and some 12 or 15 paid-up members were secured before the close of the evening but several more promised to sign up. A BLESSING TO WORLD
The specific proposals of Secretary Hughes for the limitation of naval armaments by the three chief naval powers have been accepted in principle by the representatives of Great Britain and Japan. Apparently there is a general confidence that a definite agreement will be reached for the execution of the plans in detail.

Reduction in governmental expenditures in consequence of limitation of armaments would be a tremendous encouragement to industries, alleviate present tax burdens and would furnish the psychological background for development by utilization of economic resources for conservation of life and creation of new wealth.
