Here are two views of Mrs. Smith Wilkinson, who is acknowledged as the best dressed woman in the world, and who is coming to America shortly to show us what real gowns are. Mrs. Wilkinson started in life as a restaurant keeper in England. She and her husband expanded the business into a chain of restaurants, then into a chain of hotels and they made millions. Her whole life now is spent in buying things to wear, and wearing 'em at a cost of a million a year. Her wardrobe contains hundreds of costly gowns, priceless lace, gorgeous hats, diamond studded shoes and her strings of pearls and rubies are a huge fortune in themselves. Some of her gowns are so complicated in make and material that they take nine months to complete.

UNCLE SAM'S GIANT WIRELESS

AT GREENBURY POINT, near Annapolis, Maryland, is located the great, high-power radio station, owned and operated by Uncle Sam. Built as a war measure, for the insurance of uninterrupted communication with our army in France, in the event that for any reason the cables were put out of commission, as well as to provide added facilities for keeping in touch with and directing the movements of vessels at sea, it has successfully bridged the seas of the world and "made good."

Four gigantic, steel towers 600 feet high, set 850 feet apart and in the form of a square, support the massive web of super-sensitive wires from which outgoing electric waves "hop off" into space and to which the incoming waves from afar are attracted. The energy by which the station is operated is obtained from a nearby power plant—a suitable operating building, power-transformer house, quarters for the maintaining and operating forces, store house for repair materials and other necessary equipment having been erected at an advantageous and adjacent location.

The far-reaching importance of this miracle-like station which performs the seemingly impossible comes home to one when he understands that it successfully handles radio traffic direct with France, Italy, Germany, Norway and its outlying possessions and all U. S. Navy and all properly-equipped merchant and other vessels, no matter in what far-away part of the world they may be located.

IRRIGON NEWS ITEMS

Will Schulmerich of Washington county, spent a couple of days in Irrigon the first of the week assisting the local Farm Bureau in their drive for membership, which is progressing nicely.

C. C. Calkins, our county agent, with Mr. Jackson, spent a few days in the north end of the county making arrangements on the rabbit poisoning campaign, and we hope there will be more snow to force the rabbits to bunch up and thus make the task less difficult.

The Farm Bureau car of corn arrived Tuesday and was distributed among the various farmers Wednesday according to the bookings previously arranged.

Farm Bureau gave their second dance of the season Saturday with the usual success and good time.

The Seventh Day Adventists have rented Wadsworth Hall for two weeks, and are holding services nightly except Monday and Tuesday.

The road work was again temporarily stopped on account of the cold weather and the ground freezing up, but will be resumed as soon as the weather moderates and the River View Boulevard gravelled to

N. Seaman's west line.

George E. Hendrick has been tuning pianos near Hermiston during the past week.

Mr. Ellertson of Arlington, spent the week-end with his sister, Miss Anna Ellertson of the Irrigon school force.

Again we demonstrated our ability to navigate when some of the neighboring towns and the larger cities had to shut down school on account of cold weather and bad roads, etc. The Irrigon school buses properly equipped for the weather, made the rounds daily practically on the schedule and with no inconvenience to the children. The children in the primary room were dismissed for a few hours Monday on account of the room being a little chilly for the smaller ones. This will be overcome in another year by installing more radiators but this is the only exception on account of weather conditions so far this term.

Mrs. Lou Hayden (Genevia Glasgow) arrived via the North Bank on Monday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. Hayden will follow in a few days.

The Ladies' Aid musical and bazaar cleared the society $64. At this year, the piano contract will be cleared in a few months.

A Christmas tree and program is being provided by the school this year under direction of Prof. Grover, and will be held in the auditorium Friday evening.

Several bands of sheep have been driven across country to Coyote Springs for the winter. Dr. Kern has disposed of his hay to sheep men and if this weather should continue, more of the loose hay may be disposed of for feeding sheep before spring.

As this item is being written up, Mrs. C. E. Glasgow, chairman of the social committee of the Farm Bureau, announces that there will be another Farm Bureau dance Saturday evening, December 24th, in Wadsworth Hall. The proceeds will be used to carry on the local farm bureau work.

COMING EVENTS

Between Christmas and New Years, date not yet definitely fixed, the high school athletic association will give a movie show and box social in the school auditorium. Watch for it.

Following the holidays, school begins on Tuesday, Jan. 3.

On Jan. 6th the basket ball team expects to play in Arlington.

Keep this for reference and pass the news along.

EGGLESS PULLETS TO GO

Mark the pullets which do not begin to lay by January 1 so that they may be disposed of when they stop laying next summer. It doesn't pay to feed a pullet ten months before she begins to lay, and she will not be the kind to breed from next year. A laying hen has bright comb and a large moist vent. As she lays the yellow color gradually leave her vent, eye lids, ear lobes, beak, and shanks. It may take as much as 15 weeks of laying to bleach out her shanks but her eye lids will lose their color in eight or ten days.

OREGON DAIRYMEN MEET AT O. A. C. FARMERS WEEK

Association to Hold Business Session, Then Consider Subject of Co-operative Marketing.

The Oregon Dairymen's association, one of the oldest agricultural bodies in the state, will hold its annual meeting at Corvallis Farmers' week on Thursday, December 29th. After a short business session it will take up for special consideration the problem of co-operative marketing of dairy products.

"Members of this association feel that this is one of the most important problems facing the dairy industry today," says P. M. Brandt, head of the dairy husbandry department at the state college. This association has already contributed a great deal to the building up of the dairy interests in Oregon, and its efforts in the marketing problem will be constructive.

Definite ideas on the value of the co-operative system and methods of making it effective are held by W. K. Taylor, dairy farmer and many times president of the association. He endorses the idea of giving it special consideration at the forthcoming meeting and believes fully in the possibilities for its success.

C. L. Hawley, state dairy and food commissioner and dairy stock breeder, is president of the association.

WOMEN TEACHERS RECEIVE LESS WAGE THAN MEN

University of Oregon, Eugene, Dec. 22.—Two hundred and seventy-seven teachers in the high schools of the state are graduates of the University of Oregon, according to information contained in the directory issued by the office of the state superintendent.

That pedagogy has a diminishing appeal for masculine graduates is indicated by the fact that only 66, or less than a fourth of the total number, are men. These are engaged in administrative school work as principals and superintendents. The highest annual salary received is $4450. The next highest is $4100. Six receive $3000 or more, while 24 receive from $2000 to $2750. Few men graduates of the University are teaching in the high schools for less than $1800 a year.

The salaries of the women range lower—from $125 a month to $2100 a year, with a considerable number at the latter figure. The highest paid women among the University teaching graduates is a principal of a Western Oregon high school who is receiving $2500 a year.

PASTURES PLANNED NOW

This is the season to plan the pasture for the farm flocks next year. Remember the dry season of the year when the sheep need some good succulent feed. Mammoth clover sown with rape in April or May will assist in providing for this want. Clay Rinehart, and W. A. Ford.

Lotys Davis, Anna Schachermeyer, Katherine Stephens, and Clara Park were chosen for the school debate team with Ruby Powell and Leslie Thompson as alternates.

SHOULD WORK ASPARAGUS

Tops of asparagus plants should be allowed to get quite brown before they are cut. Food manufacture and storage within the plant continue as long as it is green but stop when the plant is fully matured. The bed should be worked over in winter to kill weeds, although this can usually be done only on sandy loam soils which do not pack after the winter rains.

OUTLETS RELIEVE DITCHES

Many surface drains and dead furrows are now standing bank-full of water, but require only a few minutes work with plow or shovel to relieve them and drain off all surface water. Surface runs and tile lines should be inspected after heavy storms to see that outlets are free, and water not ponding.
