For a Song.
"Yes, sir," said the man with the frayed collar, "that land is now worth $20 a foot, and only a year ago I could have bought it for a mere song."
"But you couldn't sing?" chuckled the funny man.
The man with the frayed collar eyed him daintily, and replied in quick, cutting tones: "I could sing, but I couldn't get the right notes."

IRRIGON NEWS ITEMS

The past week has been hard life for the jack rabbits. Where poison could not be put out safely, drives have been made during the day time and also night drives with big success. A drive was made west of the Hux ranch a week or so ago during the afternoon and another at eight o'clock in the evening Tuesday near the Markham place. Chas. Powell, who was in charge of the campaign, arranged to string rabbit wire around the sheep camp grounds consisting of some thirty or forty acres and made a killing corral at one end of it. The gates along one side of the fence were left open during the day and early evening until the rabbits entered the larger area and then closed and a drive made within the larger enclosure and most of the pests driven into the killing corral. The drive was considered successful even though the fence had only been put up that day and rabbits had not located the openings. Another drive is scheduled for Friday evening, Jan. 6th at 8 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Markham had arranged a nice lunch for the crowd after the drive and the party listened to music and danced until near midnight. Everybody enjoyed themselves. There will be a wienie roast after the drive Friday evening and a large crowd and a good time is assured. Mr. Powell now estimates that at least 15,000 rabbits have been killed by poison. Some places where the rabbits have bunched, the ground is covered with dead ones. We have now taken out bait below Judson and above Bailey and the other districts should connect up with our lines and help clean up the whole country.

C. C. Calkins, Morrow county agent, accompanied by Ralph Finley, his brother-in-law, Mr. Crease and Mr. Pringle, motored to Irrigon Monday with intentions of helping out on the rabbit drive but did not stay for the drive owing to its being pulled off so late in the evening and Mr. Calkins being scheduled for another drive on Willow Creek at five o'clock Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Pearl Potts, who has been here visiting with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell during the holidays, returned to Portland Tuesday.

Mrs. Ray Castle of Wyoming, is here for a short visit.

Pastor Hills held services here Sunday and will hold another service and prayer meeting Wednesday evening and possibly stay with us longer, depending on the outcome of other plans in view.

Mrs. T. Johnson, the county nurse, spent Wednesday and part of Thursday in the Irrigon school. We have no report at this writing of her work with us, but expect to be able to report on this next week.
