IRRIGON NEWS ITEMS

About one o'clock on the morning of the 25th a number of people were aroused by the bright light reflecting into their bed rooms and turned out to see what was up. It appears some hobos had made their way into the old Corey store building and probably smoking cigarettes had set the building on fire. The section crew and a number of residents in the east end turned out with buckets and shovels and saved other buildings near by in the face of a strong wind blowing directly towards them. A number of other buildings caught fire but were put out without any damage being done. Little insurance was carried by Mr. Corey on his building. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moore had just moved out of the building about a week ago and some furniture remained stored in the building.

The hay growers have received the third and probably the final payment on the 1921 crop. Now lets move for a big crop and big money this season.

Mr. Knight, of Maupin, Oregon has traded his place at Maupin to F. M. and L. W. Jordan and Wallace McKenzie for their places on the River. New Boulevard, a total of 31 acres and will move on the place this fall. Has. Dempsey has the places leased or this season and Mr. Knight is trading his place at Maupin this summer. This will add one more to the school list.

Glen Rider has gone to Hood River to work for the season, having secured employment on a farm near that city.

Mr. Brundage, of Iowa, is spending some time in Irigon, on his way to Gervais, Oregon where himself and family expect to farm with his brother. He left Iowa on April 17 in a Ford and are broke down here. He is working at odd jobs while waiting for repairs.

You will be able to locate the P. O. in Irigon in the future. Mr. Vadsworth has put up a sign to comply with the department requirements.

N. Seaman is now booking up ap- prox orders for delivery in July. Something terrible will have to happen now to reduce the yield. However, prospects will be scarce if reports from other districts are true. Send in your orders now.

Early potatoes are looking fine. It is expected some digging will begin about the tenth.

Line up your tasters for the Irigon melons about August first. Some are taking runners now and if weather conditions from now on continue as in ordinary seasons, this will be a close figure.

B. B. Lane has moved into the Lee house on the river. Mr. and Mrs. Monroe expects to fix up their house and live in it for awhile anyway.

Ralph G. Walpole and Miss Ann Merveton were married last week a beautiful ceremony according to what received by their friends. This came as quite a surprise as it was not expected for some time. Ralph went to Portland a week ago saying that he had promised a position with the Standard Oil Co., and would lay in wait for it. This still seems to be true but the rest of the story was not foretold. Their many friends are wishing Mr. and Mrs. Walpole a long, happy and prosperous life.

The L. A. Doble fruit farm looks like a picnic grounds these days on account of men, women and children frolicking around under the tree picking gooseberries. Droves of people have come in from various places to gather gooseberries which Mr. Doble is selling very reasonable where parties do their own picking.

Georgs Hendrick returned from Portland Tuesday evening winner in the suite and possessor of the money rightly his. He also purchased a Ford truck which he drove in from Portland with a load of cats and other things.

On June 19, Judge Parker will come to Pendleton where he will sit in the case of Peters and others against the county in the case caused by alleged damage done to property owners in the west end of the city by the overflow of Tutulla Creek. LIVELY BUNCH ENJOY PICNIC AT BOULDER

A lively bunch of East-enders went to Boulder on Sunday to enjoy the salmon feed. As soon as the news of the picnic was published, nearly every one clamored for a place in Earl Cramer's truck, which we found capable of seating forty-nine occupants. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown gathered the crowd and results show their wonderful ability at such work. The truck left on its journey at 9:00 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. a tired but happy bunch returned to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tag, of Deerhart, argues at the home of their daughter Mrs. W. O. King.

Mrs. Larsen, Brown, and Cramer were entertained Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. Herlein's new home in the country. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in sewing and discussing topics of social interest.

NEW HAY BRINGS FAIR PRICES

So far as known the first sale of new hay comes from the office of the Oregon Co-operative Hay Growers. The local manager has been in the Coast dairy sections looking over the market prospects and reports having sold several car loads of the new crop hay at $14.00 per ton f. o. b. Hermiston. While this is not a fancy price it is much better than last season. Local sheep men are reported as offering from $8 to $9 in the stack. Maybe the hay men will yet see better times.
