Sophomore News.

Mayme Hango was absent from school Tuesday and Wednesday. The class has decided to send for a pennant to be kept in the school for their remembrance. The English class is learning prose and poetry to help make the points for their work this semester.

Seventh and Eighth Grades.

Eighteen from the seventh and eighth grades were neither absent nor tardy for the school month just closed, and 14 of those were seventh graders. In a contest in department for the month, the girls beat the boys by a small margin. The girls averaged 95.5-13, while the boys could muster only 93.1-2.

Norman Reinfleisch has entered the eighth grade. Norman comes from the Port Angeles public school of the state of Washington.

On averaging the grades for this report month, the results showed that the three highest in the seventh grade were Mabel Brown (1), Helen Chaffee (2), and Donald Klages (3). In the eighth grade Louisa Klages (1), Catherine Berger (2), and Marie Messenger (3). For their memory work this month, the seventh grade are learning "The Concord Hymn" by R. W. Emerson and the eighth grade are committing Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

The seventh and eighth grades are reflecting their school spirit in the wearing of new gay colored caps that arrived recently.

Who will be the next class? The song of the hen soundeth merrily around the Project and the fruit of the fowl shall be plentiful. Yea verily, 'tis the sign of approaching spring and marks the passing of high egg prices.

(From the School Record)

man, Corlies Erwin, Verrel Woodard, Mabel Brown, Marie Messenger, Catherine Berger, Dorothy Boardman, Della Olson, Ethel Broyles, Catherine Brown, Zoe Hadley, Wahnona Rands.

PLAYS COMING

In the HI school the girls and boys both have selected a play to be given in the near future. The name of the girls' play is "The Ladies' Strike" and the boys' is "The Awkward Squad." The plays are to serve as a try-out so the teachers may be able to form their opinions as to the ability of each player. We will then put on a larger play sometime in April. Watch for further particulars.

Personals.

Mrs. A. W. Wheelhouse and Mrs. Chas. Story of Arlington were visiting here last Friday, and expressed themselves as being well pleased with our school.

The first grade regrets to report the loss of Vesta Mefford, who has moved to Portland with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mefford. Vesta leaves with our best wishes.

Basketball practice seems to be going hard with a few of the girls. Zoe sprained her finger Thursday night, but was back on the job on Tuesday night. While Fritz has a black eye resulting from a clash with Thelma, Thelma said her head was sore.

Jokes.

Mrs. Crowder in English class—"Weldon, will you read the sixth sentence?"

Weldon—Mr. Harding's warmest admirers cannot say that he was ever an industrious man.

Edward—Clippinger must have been a democrat.

Mr. Mulkey in Civics class—"Mayme, what is a representative government?"

Mayme—"One that elects six men in favor of a thing and six against it, and wonders why something isn't done."

It seems to some of us like we have a few "ex-officio Jig-a-der-Bridle" students in our school. How about it?

Chile beans are good for chilly weather, says Klitz.

Truman—There's never a loss but some small gain.

Alton—Why, what's the matter now?

Truman—My sole has come loose, and now I have a flapper.

Charles—Ethyl, may I have the "Saturday Evening Post?"

Ethyl—No.

Doris—Maybe he wants the "Saturday Date."

Frances—I hear the Kaiser is going to be married again.

Earl—Why?

Frances—Growing tired of peace, it seems.

Mac Watkins being seized with sleeping sickness one day was found wandering around muttering strangely. What name did he mention?

Blanche—What was that dreadful noise we heard?

Howard—O, nothing much, McClellan just fell down stairs.

"The wearing of the Green" is now the spring song of the Freshmen who appeared with their caps last Friday.

Student—(looking into mirror)—Seems to me my looks are improving lately.

Student—"I just despise those mental tests. They hurt my head."

Miss Ethel Knight has been absent from school several days this week due to illness.

Miss Corrigan has been suffering with the toothache for several days. Tuesday she took the train to Hermiston where she received dental attention.

Miss Freda Seaman, Reva Ransler and Gertrude Graybeal were absent from the seventh and eighth grade room on Monday.

The young people's orchestra held a short practice and business meeting at the school house, Sunday afternoon.

BOARDMAN PARAGRAPHS

Evan Stoneman left for Hardman Thursday.

Mr. Kutzner butchered a fine beef Wednesday.

Mr. King also butchered a real Wednesday.

Earl Cramer butchered two porkers on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mitchell were guests of the Kutzner's Sunday.

Mr. Hunt of the C. H. G. A., was in town Wednesday in the interest of hay growers.

Mrs. A. T. Hereim has been on the sick list this week having had an attack of pleurisy.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. MacDaniel walked out to East End on Sunday and also on Monday, on business.

Glen and Everett Hadley returned from a combined business and pleasure trip to Hardman Wednesday.

We regret the loss to our neighborhood of the Morgan family, for in losing them we lost two very public spirited citizens. We wish them well.

Mrs. George Mefford left for Portland last Saturday where she will reside.

Wm. Gilbreth, with Violet, Wanda, and the younger children, were guests of the Broyles family Sunday.

A number of enthusiastic boosters for the community park have already dug a few trees. We hope others will follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Rands returned Wednesday from a short visit with relatives in Athena and Freewater. They report lots of snow around Athena and Weston.

A special meeting of the American Legion auxiliary was held Tuesday night at Mrs. Morgan's in order that Mrs. Morgan might resign her position as president, as she expects to leave soon. The members present were Mesdames Morgan, Goodwin, Davis, Albright, Macomber, Root, Stewart, Mefford, and Misses Sybilgrace Macomber, Sophia and Ida Mefford. According to instructions the next meeting will be held at Mrs. Davis'.

IRRIGON NEWS

The car of certified treated seed potatoes is expected about February 8th. Refrigerator has been ordered for Monday, Feb. 5, to load at Moscow, Idaho. Those having orders placed in this car should be on the lookout for notice to come and get their potatoes out of the car.

D. E. Dane of Patterson was in Irrigon on business Tuesday.

Mrs. N. Seaman and daughter, Freda, spent the week end with friends in La Grande.

Lyle Seaman made a trip to North Powder, Imbler and La Grande Friday on business, returning Sunday night.

Regular monthly meeting of the Farm Bureau will be held at Wadsworth hall, Saturday, Feb. 3. A big dance and card party is scheduled after the business meeting. Everybody should turn out.

George A. Palmeter of Hood River, and Sam P. Shell, master of the Boardman grange, gave us a very interesting talk about the workings of the grange last Thursday as announced in last week's issue. However, it will be a question whether we can maintain farm bureau organization and the grange, too, successfully, and for that reason, it appears doubtful whether a grange will be organized here. The general opinion appears to be that the two would take up too much time and neither could be run successfully. N. Seaman was appointed as committee of one to ascertain if enough people were in favor of the grange and agree to take an interest in it to warrant organization.

January has been a big month for Irrigon. Forty-nine cars of hay loaded and billed out and if the month had been a few hours longer, an even 50 would have been loaded. The increase in alfalfa acreage this year will insure substantial increase in business for this year.

Mrs. J. E. McCoy has not improved as had been expected from medical attention at Pendleton and Mr. McCoy went to Portland Tuesday with her to see Dr. Burners, a nose and ear specialist.

The American Legion of Boardman played the Irrigon railroad team a game of basketball Friday evening. The score ended 33 to 2 in favor of the legion. Boardman had a couple of experienced O. A. C. men who knew how to handle the ball.

Melvin Benefiel returned to his work at Blalock Tuesday. He has been here a few days with his parents.

Miss Doshia Graybeal, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Graybeal, is reported improving under the doctor's care at Hermiston.

W. B. Howard and family spent the week end with friends at Touchet, Wash.
