

BOARDMAN PARAGRAPHS

The P. T. A. meets on Friday, March 30. Everybody come.

Mrs. Ray Brown and Mrs. Mulkey motored to Hermiston on Friday.

Mr. Cohoon had a narrow escape, Sunday when his Ford turned a double summersault with him.

Mrs. L. M. Hadley left for her home Friday of last week. She expects to locate here next fall.

Glen R. Hadley rode to Hermiston and Butter creek last week, bringing back eight first class dairy cows.

Mr. and Mrs. Larsen drove over from Butter creek Friday. The terrific wind which was blowing that day blew the top off of his car.

The social committee of the grange, met at Mr. Dillabough's Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Miller were in attendance.

The heavy wind sweeping the great Columbia region Friday was one of historic interest, doing more damage than any wind ever known here.

Lewis Partlow received an injury to his foot and ankle last Saturday. He was riding a horse across a concrete bridge, over a lateral when the horse slipped and fell with him, pinning his foot under the horse.

There will be preaching services at the Adventist church next Saturday, March 24, at 3 p. m., and Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Elder Geo. F. Watson will present an interesting subject and all are invited to attend.

A Mr. and Mrs. Wright from near Seattle landed in Boardman this week bringing with them six cows, two horses, turkeys and other livestock and household belongings, expecting to locate. At this writing they are looking at a place near Irigon.

Mr. Wicklander of the Cash Mercantile company, is ordering cereals from the Old Fashion mills and will notify the people of the project as soon as they arrive. The Old Fashion mills advocate buying in small quantities so that all cereals reach the consumer in the very best condition. So they ship in mixed cases, thus the merchant does not have a large quantity on hand at any time. Everyone will appreciate this accommodation as it is so inconvenient to order individually.

FOR SALE—Certified seed potatoes. Early Ohio and Early Triumphs. $2.35 per 100. Still have few sacks each left from car received from Moscow, Idaho, recently. N. Seaman and Son, Irigon, Oregon.

IRIGON NEWS

H. E. Allen of Oregon City has hired out for N. Seaman and son for the season and is on the job.

C. N. Wier is moving his family into the Fagerstrom house and has rented the acreage for the summer. He expects to raise hogs on the alfalfa and otherwise pasture the rest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. White have moved in from their farm and are now living in the Ives house. He could not handle the farm and work out satisfactorily, so decided to quit farming.

The young people's Sunday school class has announced an entertainment for Saturday evening, March 31, at the church. It will consist of music by the young people's orchestra and mixed songs and dialogues.

H. E. Lewis, relief signal maintainer, who had the flu last week, returned to work Friday and took a setback Saturday night and was taken to the hospital at The Dalles on Monday morning. D. E. Wilson is again relieving him. Monday morning, Tom Alexander of the section force also came down with the flu and was taken to the hospital at Portland. There seems to be more or less of the flu around all the time.

Saturday, March 17, about 27 ladies met at the cafeteria with Miss Margery Smith for the third nutrition meeting. Miss Smith is doing the best work that has ever been done by the O. A. C. extension service. Some are not attending these meetings because they think they they cannot carry out the work in their homes which this service advises us to do. You will change your mind if you would come only once. Miss Smith prepared about 10 vegetables in the most palatable and attractive manner. She gave us recipes for these preparations and valuable instruction as to cooking the many kinds of vegetables and very practically led us away from our old conservative ideas that vegetables for dinner should be cooked from 7 a. m. until 12 m.

The next meeting will be held April 21. There will be slides, too. Won't you come to see the pictures and hear Miss Smith?

Annual meeting of Woman's Presbyterial Home and Foreign Mission Society of the Pendleton Presbytery, Monday and Tuesday, March 26 and 27, at Boardman Community church. First session, Monday, March 26, at 3 p. m. President, Mrs. J. E. Akey, presiding. Hymn and devotion, Mrs. A. C. Baeker; conference, led by Mrs. Chas. Williams and Mrs. O. G. Edwards, a—Membership plans; b—Training of officers through executive committee; c—treasury plans; hymn, prayer.

Monday evening, 7:15 p. m. Hymn, devotion, story by Junior Sunday school girls; address, Miss Marie Preston, field secretary of the Woman's Board of Home Missions.

Tuesday, March 27, 9:15 a. m. Devotion, Mrs. C. L. Clark; news from the home base; (This consists of reports from the secretaries of the 10 departments of our work). Solo, Mrs. Claire Edwards; address, identity of our organizations, Rev. G. L. Clark, pastor First Presbyterian church of Pendleton.

Monday, 1:30 p. m.—Hymn, devotion; solo, Mrs. R. F. Paul; question hour conducted by Mrs. O. G. Edwards; questions, pointed, pertinent and perplexing; address by Miss Marie Preston; report of committee; election of officers.

6 p. m.—Luncheon at the church. Tuesday evening, 8:15—Song service led by J. F. Gibson, pastor; duet, Mr. and Mrs. Gu Y. Lee; offering; address, Mrs. Chas. W. Williams; Pantomime song, Stanfield Y. P. S. C. E.; consecration, Mrs. Chas. W. Williams.

Notice—We announced last week that the first session of this meeting would be Monday evening. As you read the program you see the time for the first session is Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Everybody is urged to come. Let's make this a great success.

The storm Friday, March 16, was probably the worst known in the history of Irigon for moving dust and generally upsetting things but not nearly like reported from elsewhere. The weather here is not so bad when you compare it with other places.

N. Seaman and son are installing a frost alarm thermometer with connection to the house so as to give an alarm at 32 degrees above zero. They will have straw manure piles scattered throughout the orchard and light them with torches in a hurry when the alarm is sounded.

The Tum-A-Lum company has a new local manager, Roscoe Williams. Mr. Williams has been assistant manager at Granger, Wash., for some time past and comes here with good knowledge of the business in both lumber and hardware departments. He moved his family and household goods by truck via Irigon ferry. The company auditors, Wadley and Wirtz, made the transfer Tuesday morning. E. L. Walt, who has been manager here for this company, has resigned and is going to devote his entire time to farming in the future. He has put in all his spare time in the past to improving his place and says he is ready now to make a good living from farming alone.

The weather prognosis given out last week proved to be correct. However, it failed to include the damage resulting from the storm. Last Friday sign boards, tin roofs, hay stacks and hay racks were overturned all over the project. Buildings were moved from their foundations and traffic on the highway was most impossible resulting in a week of two autos. Shingles were ripped from the roof of the school building and quickly joined the exodus of moving objects. All the school buses were requested to meet at the back door on Friday and also Monday of this week.

According to old timers it is the roughest gale that ever swept Boardman.

Seventh and Eighth Grade. As this week is the end of the report month, the seventh and eighth graders are taking a few tests.

A new feature has been added this year to the English course for the seventh and eighth grades, making it necessary for each pupil to write a number of book reports. Catherine Berger is the first to complete the work.

This week will finish up the advanced work for the seventh grade Geography class and the rest of the time will be devoted to review of the whole course in geography.

Wednesday Mr. Mulkey met with the Senior class to discuss about sending for invitations, diplomas, etc.

They have selected Blue and Gold as their class colors and an American Beauty rose for their flower.

The seventh and eighth graders who find it necessary to take the state examination in Physiology have made arrangements to review with the sixth grade.

The sixth grade will finish their hygiene this week and will start their final review soon.

First and Second Grades. One of the beauty spots of the first and second grade room is the tiny garden, in the midst of which stands a dutch maiden, this stands just above the front blackboard.

Another beauty spot of the room is the sand table which represents Holland. There are dutchmen peddling milk with their dog teams, dutch maidens carrying water, others feeding their geese, dutch windmills, canals, etc.

All of the pupils of the first and second grades have recovered from sickness and are now in school with the exception of one. To this one who is out the rest of the pupils in the room have sent him a letter to which all of them signed their names.

The first grade has completed the arithmetic for the year, and are farther along in their readers than is required.

The second grade is nearly through the reader, and is taking up supplementary work.

The work being done by the First grade in writing is above the average. It is plain as print and can be read at a glance. As a class they write uniformly well and are being taught to observe the margin in making their copies.

Did you know that the Freshies are getting most terribly weak? They have to be held up by the Juniors. Ask Weldon.

Mr. Harry Crawford, our last year's manual training teacher, was here at our school, Wednesday. Every one was glad to see Harry.

Errett Hummel invited a few of his friends to help him celebrate his tenth birthday, Saturday, the seventh. They had a very enjoyable time.

The Christian Endeavor society is giving a social at the school house

Saturday night, March 24. For everyone.

Jokes.

Mr. Mulkey, blowing sand from the desk—"Takes wind to destroy the effects of wind."

Earl—I think the world of you, Blanche.—The world isn't so very hard to get around, nowadays.

Fritz, while taking pictures was asked by Vernon Cummins, how many fumes he said he had left.

James—You look sweet enough to eat, Kathryn.
Kathryn—I do eat; where shall we go?

Mrs. Crowder—You don't chey tobacco, do you?
Delbert—No; but I kin give yer a cigarette, if you want one.

Just in time for the news envelope: Mayme and Mae sitting at the back of the room. Mae be holding hands—anyway Mae blushed.

Dorothy—Mr. Mulkey's jokes are going to break some of these days.
Truman—Why?
Dorothy—Because he cracks them so often.

Mr. Mulkey—What would you rather do, eat Chinese noodles or get hit on the noodle?
Mae—I think I would prefer the Chinese noodles.

Della—The doctor told me yesterday that hammocks are bad for one.
Art—He's quite right, darling; they are not good for one, but they're splendid for two.

Mr. Lee—Why are you late for class today?
Mildred—Well, you see, our Fresh Air club met out on the front steps.

Mr. Lee—Who belongs to your Fresh Air club?
Mildred—(slowly)—There are only two of us at present—Weldon and I.

Big Play Coming. Some parts have been handed out for our big play, "Uncle Ephraim's Summer Boarders." Watch for the date.

Big Social. Next Saturday night. Everyone come! Given by the Christian Endeavor workers.

An Original Fairy Story By Albert Boardman, 3d Grade. Once upon a time there was a very small fairy. She wanted to travel so she got on a cake of soap and floated down the river.

After awhile the soap melted. All she had to sit on now was a soap bubble. Presently she ran onto a boat that was crossing the stream. The bubble broke and a big wave threw the fairy on the deck. She walked around the deck then climbed out on the anchor. When the anchor was let down the fairy went down too, but when she touched the wave it turned into a bubble and on this she floated away.

After a long time she reached the ocean. From there she went up to the clouds with the vapor and floated around with the clouds. It became cold and she came down in a rain storm.

Then she went home to stay for she had traveled enough.

Errett Hummel entertained at a birthday party, March 17. Those present were Kenneth Boardman, Albert Boardman, Helen Boardman, Mildred Beck, Howard Beck, Borden Beck, Oran Bailey, Ray Stewart, Sammy Webster, Vernon Root, Errett Hummel. Games were played, refreshments were served and all enjoyed a good time.

Mr. Mulkey has requested everyone to exert just a little more effort when in the library toward keeping books and magazines in place. Why not everyone pitch in and help?
