Seventh and Eighth Grades.

The study of the Spanish-American war by the eighth graders this week was made more interesting and realistic when Mrs. Mulkey brought several relics to show them. A piece of the Spanish flag, which was floating over Manila harbor, when Dewey captured the Spanish fleet there, the flags of Spain and the Philippines, and the different shells used in the guns of the Americans, Spaniards and Filipinos, as well as other relics from the islands, were all noted with interest.

The first grade completed their second book in less than a week. They are now busy decorating for Easter.

Two High girls were "called down" in English class, for "smiling." It doesn't pay to be too happy, does it?

Mr. Agee has begun replacing shingles on the roof of the school building, which the wind carried into Umatilla county last week. Anyway the building still stands.

Tuesday afternoon Chat was happily singing until he saw Mrs. Crowder.

They always take the joy out of life.

Attention: P. O. of the Guard.
The Senior class is expected to go A. W. O. L.

The Walla Walla Concrete Pipe Company has a crew of men on the job laying the pipe from United States Reclamation Service connections to the school grounds. This should have been done two years ago.

SENIORS!

Kodak day is the next thing on the Seniors' program.

Last week Visitors.

J. A. Churchill and County Superintendent Mrs. Shurte, Mrs. Wicklander, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Garret, Mrs. Ransier and Mrs. Klages.

Banquet.

In a class meeting held by the Juniors, they planned to give a banquet for the Seniors, probably some time in April.

The High School boys play their first game of baseball at Arlington, Friday. Let's hunt up our yell leader and go!

The battery for the Hi School baseball:

Klitz and Attebury;
Attebury and Klitz;
Then Klitz and Attebury.

The suggestion of every one helping or doing his part in the library seems to have taken effect. Mrs. Crowder reports that neatness and order have raised 100 per cent.

Receipts from the school play amounted to $38.25.

Tut! Tut! Tut!

That's what some people say about the grave robbers in Egypt. What do they say about those who rob the living?

The living are robbed even if they aren't entirely robbed. For further information see the latest styles.

Jokes.

James—My foot is asleep.
Zella—So is your head.

Mrs. Crowder—Mac, will you please turn around?
Edward—Got a turn table.

Kathryn—I don't care anything about dates. I prefer figs.

Frances—"So there's the picture of the horse you used to ride to see your best girl in the pro flivver days, eh?"

Mr. Mulkey—"Yes, that's my sparkplug."

Blanche—What's the matter with the phonograph?
Carl—O nothing; only it has a flat tire.

Mrs. Crowder—Do you ever clean your sweater?
Fritz—I washed it twice.

Mr. Mulkey—Does your wife ever get up in the air?
Mr. Lee—You bet; and she always lands on me.

Mrs. C—Haven't you anything to do, Weldon?
Weldon—Yes, busy trying to find something to do.

Edward—Say, Mr. Mulkey called me a girl.
Teacher—Well, I suppose it's because you talk so much.

To Easterner that just returned from the west:
Did you meet any stage robbers out there?
Easterner—Yes, I took a couple of chorus girls to dinner.
