Mr. and Mrs. Pattee and Mrs. Hopkins were Arlington visitors on Monday.

Mrs. F. P. Kiltz was a Hermiston visitor Saturday where she had some dental work done.

Mrs. J. T. Healey returned last week from a few days visit in Portland. She also visited Doris at Monmouth.

Mrs. Imus visited for a few days with her daughters who are attending school here. They have house-keeping rooms at Graham's.

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Root Wednesday evening. There were eight members present and a very interesting meeting was held.

Mr. Pete Boye of Grandview, Wn. visited at the Larson and Herelm homes this week, coming on Monday. He is a brother-in-law of Mr. Larson's. He returned home Thursday evening in company with Mr. Larson who will visit in Grandview for a while.

Jay Cox and family left last week for Portland to make the trip over the highway in Mr. Cox's car.

The Patees left for Condon where Mr. Pattee will assist his sons in getting their fall seeding done and then will leave for some place where Mrs. Pattee will have better health than she had in Boardman.

F. L. Brown, of Boardman, has had a large part of his grading force at work for the past six weeks leveling and seeding to alfalfa 40 acres of the Howard tract in section 15 near the Irrigon-Patterson ferry landing.

This is a tract of exceptional quality, being a deposit of heavy river sand and Mr. Brown is believed to have made a record both as to speed and quality of work.

As you drive to the ferry you may now see 40 acres of a beautiful stand of rye and alfalfa where 40 days ago there was nothing but sagebrush

THIRD YEAR Edited by the High School Students NUMBER 4

Truman Messenger, '24, Editor Katherine Brown, '26, Assistant Editor Edward McClellan, '25, Joke Editor

From the School Records.

One month of school has passed. The total enrollment has reached 126—of which 66 are boys and 60 girls.

The High School numbers 31—17 boys and 14 girls.

The largest class in school is the 8th grade class consisting of 16 members. The 2nd and 3rd grades and the Freshman class of the High School each numbers 15.

Eighty-seven pupils were neither absent nor tardy, and 19 parents visited school during the month.

The Sophomore class had occasion for rejoicing when a new member joined their class. Harold Rice, who hails from Waitsburg, Wash., is the new recruit.

R. P. Burkhead, who represents the educational department of the John C. Winston company, visited school last Thursday. Mr. Burkhead was recognized by several of the teachers as being a former resident of Monmouth, Oregon, and a graduate of the State Normal.

Miss Zoe Hadley is doing her practice teaching in the primary room this week.

NOTICE—Big football game, Saturday, Oct. 13th—Boardman vs. Heppner—35 cents.

Junior Class

The Junior class held a meeting on Monday to elect class officers. The following officers were elected: Edward McLellan, president; Earl Olson, vice president; Blanche Imus, secretary-treasurer; James Howell, sergeant-at-arms, and Francis Gilbreth, editor.

and cactus.

Mr. Howard is out from Portland assisting in the work and plans later to build a stone house facing the Columbia and to put the remainder of the tract in grapes, asparagus and melons.

Trees Must Eat.

Do you know how trees grow by forming new layers of wood directly under the bark? The roots are the supports of the tree, says the School Book of Forestry. They also supply the tree with food. Through delicate hairs on the root, they absorb soil moisture and plant food from the earth, and pass them along to the tree. The body of the tree acts as a passage way through which the food and drink are conveyed to the top or crown. The crown is the place where the food is digested and the regeneration of trees effected.

Hotel Dorian, Pendleton, is still the house of welcome.

7th and 8th Grades

Joe Snow is the new 8th grader. Not Joe Snow. Joe comes from the state of Washington and is living with his sister here.

After a review of South America the 7th grade geography class has begun the study of Europe.

The reading classes have taken for their motto: "Speak clearly, if you speak at all. Carve every word before you let it fall"—and hope to improve in their oral reading.

The 8th grade language class had an interesting letter writing period Tuesday. Each member went to a window, looked carefully at the view from the window, went back to his or her seat and wrote about what was seen. The result showed clearly that some were close observers and others not.

JOKES

Poetry by the Joke Editor. Lives of Seniors all remind us, We should do our best; And departing leave behind us Notebooks that will help the rest.

Mrs. Crowder signs her name L.C.C. Jim asked her what the angle CC was all about.

Mildred: "Why did Clara quit going with that young farmer?"
Zoe H.: "Well, just before he proposed to her he opened her mouth to look at her teeth."

Weldon: "I fell off my horse yesterday and was knocked senseless."
Wahnona: "When do you expect to get better?"

ODD NAMES FOR CHURCHES

"Holy Zebra," "Holy Turtle" and "Eelopot" Among Titles That Are Used.

"I will recall the name of the Church of the 'Holy Zebra,' as applied to All Souls' Unitarian church, Fourth avenue and Twentieth street, New York," writes William R. Hammond, in the New York Herald. "I remember hearing the term applied as far back as the time when that great apostle of Unitarianism, the late Rev. Dr. Henry W. Bellows, presided with all the gift of his eloquence and scholarship over All Souls' patriotic and influential congregation.

"Brooklyn, too, had a Unitarian church that was always known, in addition to its regular name, as the 'Church of the Holy Turtle,' an appellation unquestionably bestowed on it on account of the squat look of the church edifice. Brooklyn also had for years a Methodist Episcopal church edifice known as the 'Eelopot,' because the Brooklyn girls went fishing there for beaux. Another Brooklyn church, an exceedingly influential and at that time wealthy Brooklyn congregation, was known as the 'Church of the Holy Ice Cream Freezer.' The shepherd of the flock in question, to those who had the inestimable privilege of knowing him, was a most generous, charitable and lovable man. The congregation itself, however, was inclined to be cold, offish and to take to itself the publishers' term 'all rights reserved.' Hence the origin of the nickname."

Leave the colts in the barn while their mother is working in the field. Darken the colts' stalls to lessen the irritation from flies and give them access to clean feed at all times. This will give them a chance to develop and grow into much better individuals.

L. A. DOBLE FRUIT FARM
Irrigon, Oregon

IRRIGON NEWS

Roadmaster Caleb is in the district this week going over various road matters.

District Attorney S. E. Notson and Judge Campbell were in Irrigon Wednesday on business. They returned the same evening to Heppner.

Oscar Otto has placed on exhibition at Heppner a watermelon-pumpkin. It weighs 29 pounds and is a cross of first season seed this year. Watermelons and pumpkins were planted nearby and developed the cross. Streaks of the melon show all over the outside like a person after smallpox. He expects to butcher it later on and save the seed to find what it will produce next season.

Mr. and Mrs. Fagerstrom are up from Oak Grove for a few days packing up some of the stuff left in the house, and looking after their interests in general.

Mrs. L. B. Kicker and party of friends were in Irrigon Monday from Milton. They motored back the same day.

Mr. Van Winkle has moved from the manse to the Dawson house for the winter. We understand the manse will be occupied by other people soon.

The L. A. Doble fruit farm is a busy place this week. Many people from Boardman and other places are coming up for apples at the orchard. See his advertisement in this issue.

The Farm bureau held its first regular meeting of the season Saturday evening, Oct. 6th, at the schoolhouse. The matter of voting for special five-mill levy for road tax was discussed and the chairman instructed to circulate a petition for a special election. The clerk was instructed to get prices on feed, corn, wheat and barley. It was figured that a good deal of feed would be required this winter to feed the horses working on the roads in the district. Meetings will be held regularly every month on the first Saturday evening.

Dozen Shows at Pacific International

An exposition is a collection of shows, more or less related by nature. The Pacific International Live Stock Exposition, held at Portland, Or., Nov. 3-10, has drawn under its ample wings a dozen of them, and there is interest for everybody in some of them.

It has a beef cattle show of great size.

Its dairy cattle show is second to none anywhere in numbers and quality.

The sheep and goat show is regarded by experts as on a par with any like show in America.

The hog show has always been excellent, and this year will be bigger than ever.

The draft horse show is representative, with five breeds of heavy horses and jacks.

The Western Winter poultry and rabbit show attracts thousands of interested spectators.

The Western dairy products show is the least spectacular and one of the most important.

The boys' and girls' clubs make a show that is the outcome of work destined to make this country a better place to live in. Don't miss seeing the work they have done.

The Land Products show, with its fruits and vegetables, grains and grasses, county and other exhibits, is one of the splendid features of the Exposition.

The latest show to come to the Pacific International is the fine Northwest Grain and Hay show, hitherto held in Pendleton. This is going to be a 1923 feature.

The Industrial Exhibits department affords a show that for beauty and value would be hard to surpass. This great department is filled with fairy-like booths, showing costly furs and other refinement, beautiful furniture, every convenience a housewife needs, machinery of every sort to save labor and increase profits. Everything has its demonstration for the public. The sense of sight and the sense of smell are both appealed to, for the flour and other food products companies are doing their best to show the merits of their goods.

The Night Horse show is one of the four great horse shows in the United States. It is brilliant, exciting and delightful. Horses are coming from the Eastern states this year to show their paces in the arena and struggle for the big prizes offered.

One kind of a show isn't at the Pacific International, and never will be—the gambling concessions and other questionable amusements that rob children and sometimes grown people and leave nothing but a bad taste. The Exposition does not need that kind of shows.
