Miss Freda Richardson returned home last week from a most interesting trip to Yellowstone park with Mr. and Mrs. Garrett of LaGrande. She came as far as LaGrande with them in the car and then came the rest of the way on the train. It was a wonderful and never-to-be-forgotten trip for her.

The West End ladies were hostesses at an all-day Aid meeting at Mrs. Crawford's home on Wednesday. Mrs. Boardman had charge of the missionary topic.

J. C. Ballenger and wife entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harter of Portland and P. McDonnell and wife of Scio at a delicious pheasant and duck dinner last Monday evening. They were also luncheon guests on Tuesday. The Harter's and McDonnell's came up to bag a few pheasants.

THIRD YEAR Edited by the High School Students NUMBER 4

Truman Messenger, '24, Editor Katherine Brown, '26, Assistant Editor Edwrad McClellan, '25, Joke Editor

Last Saturday our heroic football squad went down to ignominious defeat before the stampeding charges of the Heppner aggregation. They had the advantage of us in weight and equipment, but our boys outclassed them in every department of the game. The stars from the county-seat surely needed the practice. It seemed that the breaks of the game were against us. Some of the high lights of the game were the interception of passes by our stalwart center, and a 25-yard end run by wing-footed Bailey. We are all satisfied that everyone of our players fought every inch of the way. Our boys showed grit and pluck, playing on a rocky field without football equipment.

This Saturday we play at Lexington against the strongest team in the league. But we promise the people a first-class game of football when we met Umatilla here on Oct. 26th. Let's all come out to the game and help the boys get the equipment they need so badly.

Third and Fourth

The entrance of Frieda Richardson in the 4th grade makes a total enrollment of 28 in the 3rd and 4th grades.

Music has become a regular part of the school work; the 3rd and 4th grades have it every day, the 5th and 6th twice a week and the glee club once a week, which is Friday afternoon. The school orchestra will begin practice as soon as the books arrive.

Ellis Cohoon entered the third grade Wednesday. He has been attending school at Wallsburg and Dayton, Wash.

This week is the sixth week of school, therefore, examination week.

The third and fourth year English class are now writing essays on "Safety First" as it applies to auto traffic. This being a live subject, the case of the auto will be thoroughly diagnosed and suitable remedies offered.

Altho the freshies have their colors they have considerable trouble finding a suitable place to wear them. I think they need advice from some upper classmen.

It makes the so-called sophies jealous to hear the freshmen being called sophomores.

A new plan has been made for buying lunches in the cafeteria. Cards are going to be made costing $1 each which will be punched each day. This way there will be no back bills.

Please don't add a freshie to the sophomores. Last week Weldon's name was listed as a sophomore.

NOTICE—The Student Body dues are overdue. Those who haven't paid please do so.

Heppner high school gave our boys a practice game of football last Saturday.

While the game was somewhat one-sided it served to develop some of the weaknesses of both teams. Heppner boys had an advantage in weight and playing experience but did not make as good a showing as the Ione team.

Our boys put up such a splendid fight that Heppner's coach used all his husky subs. In all there were 15 fully unformed players pitted against Boardman's little first year team. 'Rah! 'Rah! 'Rah! Boardman!

Sidelights of the Game

1. Boardman has some promising players.
2. Did you see the Dempsey boys break thru the big wall of beef?
3. Art Bailey also ran—the ends, you know.
4. Kiltz gave them fits when he charged the line.
5. Heppner boys seemed out of breath sometimes. Wonder why?
6. Oly showed them they should have eaten more oleo before playing Boardman.
7. Truman was almost superhuman at times.
8. Our guards did yeoman service and we held Heppner for several downs.
9. The ends managed to make amends occasionally.
10. The quarter was more than a half.
11. Heppner uncorked some 'profane' history during the game—must have been in a bad humor.

Mr. Dillon and Mr. Broyles, members of the school board, visited school last Monday. Call again, gentlemen.

The 7th and 8th grades are learning table manners in cooking now.

The 5th and 6th grades are getting preliminary work on how to serve a meal.

A new linoleum will be put on the kitchen floor and people using the kitchen are expected to keep it clean.

Report cards were given to all the grade children last Monday. This being the six-weeks' test for the high school their reports will appear next week.

Some damage was done by the wind storm Tuesday, probably the greatest loss was the breaking of the swings.

For their current event work the 7th and 8th grades have ordered 20 copies of the current event paper. These come weekly and Friday has been chosen for current event day.

The advanced cooking class finished breadmaking and are now working on meat cuts and how to prepare them. They would like to visit a butcher shop if anyone here owns such a thing.

The contest between the Mutts and the Jeffs was won by the Mutts, who got 23 signers for the Country Gentleman. The Jeffs succeeded in getting 17. Forty dollars was taken in, half of the money, $20, went to the Student Body. The Jeffs will entertain the Mutts some nice evening in the near future.

In response to a letter from the county superintendent, the school board decided to grant Friday, Oct. 26th as a holiday. This will allow the teachers to attend one of the three local county institutes. It is expected that a meeting of the teachers in this immediate neighborhood will be held on the above-mentioned date. Some outside speaker will probably be present and a program rendered.

It is to be hoped that many patrons of the school will attend these sessions.

Those receiving 100 per cent in department in the grades are as follows:

JOKES

Poetry by the Joke Editor
Lives of football men remind us
'Tis for safety that we run,
And deapting leave behind us
Footprints showing how it's done.

Diebert: "Did you see where a man went 65 days without a bath?"
Erma: "No, I never read dirty stories."

Freshman: "Why do you keep asking me if I was wounded during the Great War?"
Senior: "Well, you seem to have lost the use of your arms."

Lauren Cummings had a dispute as to his age, but he proved he was 21. He's had the seven-year itch three times.

Mr. Mulkey: "You didn't take much pains to get up a neat paper. It looks mussy."
Roy D.: "Yes, but it gave a lot of pains."

Mr. Griggs (in Physics class): "The sun shines on the moon and the moonshine's on the earth."

Mr. Olsen: "So your boy is a live wire, is he?"
Mr. Ayers: "Yep, it was just the other day when he went out and shocked a whole field of hay."

In the English class Mr. Mulkey was giving instructions on the topic "Safety First." One of the things he said was, "There are people getting killed now—that never got killed before."

Ellis (Dumpy) Cohoon came Tuesday from Dayton, Wash., and is at the Ray Brown home until his parents come. They are expected in about two weeks.

Miss Ethel Broyles, who is attending school at Pullman, returned home last Saturday. Miss Broyles has just been pledged to Theta Upsilon, a national Greek letter sorority on the State College of Washington campus. The chapter has just been formally installed as the Epsilon chapter of the national organization. Its members are active in scholastic activities at the college and are prominently identified with campus affairs.

IRRIGON NEWS

Henry Hironimus of Enterprise, Ore., has taken the sub-contract from the W. C. Kelley Contracting Co. to build the section house buildings at Irrigon and is on the job with his men. The basement has been dug out and a car of material unloaded and on the grounds. We understand this will be one of the latest style of buildings and nifty quarters for the section foreman.

Mrs. G. C. Holland of Portland was the guest of her father and mother, Mr and Mrs. Saling, Sunday and Monday. Mr. Holland had figured on coming to get a few birds but could not arrange to get away.

C. E. Glasgow has a tree of early transparent apples bearing its second crop for the season and are now ripe. Occasionally some trees have a freak year and do that around Irrigon. Seasons are too long.

Late peaches, grapes and everything else have moved out now but the apples. There is a good crop of apples, however. The association is making no effort to handle these, as it is believed the whole crop will move at the orchards.

The association hopes to make payments nearly in full to the growers soon. Watch Irrigon the coming season with increased acreage!
