SCOUT MAKES BRAVE RESCUE

A deed of high courage in the rescue of two boys and the attempted rescue of a third in a storm-clouded lake was recently performed by Scout William E. Trimble of Troop 25, Bellmore Long Island, when, at imminent peril to himself in the gale-churned waters of Lake Champlain, he pulled two lads from a capsized sailboat to his canoe; when his canoe overturned, helped right it and secured the two boys a hold, and when one of the lads slipped into the water from exhaustion dove in for him, and, on being unsuccessful in finding the drowning lad in the depths of the water, began the agonizing swim to shore which resulted in his securing help in time to save both the survivors of the sailboat and his original canoe companion.

Young Trimble and his friend, Louis Grinnell, students at the citizens' military training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., were canoeing when a sudden squall arose which almost upset their bark, and did capsize a sailboat some distance from them, whose occupants were also students from the camp.

Through the darkening afternoon Trimble and Grinnell could faintly perceive the figures of the two lads, who had been thrown overboard by the storm-tossed boat. Bending their backs to their paddles, the scout and his companion steered the canoe forward and with swift strokes reached the struggling lads.

As Grinnell could swim only a little, Trimble took the situation in hand. Charles Stone of Plattsburg, who lives near the beach, peering out at the storm noticed the boy struggling toward land. He saw him fling up his arms in exhaustion. Stone ran out and dragged him to shore. The boy seemed trying to say something, but a gurgle was the best he could do.

Stone took the lad to his house. Fighting against the exhaustion stealing over him and the approaching darkness, Trimble soon pulled strength enough together to tell his story. Stone started out in a rowboat in the driving rain, following the uncertain directions. He finally found the two boys still holding to the canoe, and brought them safely to shore.

HARDING'S WARM INTEREST

Among the many evidences of the deep interest and thoughtful concern of the late president in scouting's work for the good of American boyhood, is the following letter from Secretary Christian to Chief Scout Executive James E. West, written August 1, the day before Mr. Harding died:

"My Dear Mr. West:
"Owing to the unfortunate illness of the President, he is unable to answer personally your letter of July 20, which reached him in San Francisco. On his behalf I wish to assure you of his appreciation of the action taken at the thirteenth annual meeting of the national council, Boy Scouts of America, in unanimously re-electing him honorary president of the national council. The President, as you know, regards the boy scout movement as of great importance and value. Only a few days ago at Woodland Park, Seattle, he again evidenced his great interest in the work by administering the pledge of allegiance to probably 30,000 boys and their delivering a short address to them.
(Signed)
"GEORGE B. CHRISTIAN, JR.,
"Secretary to the President."

HELP ROUT DRUG EVIL

Boy scouts of Los Angeles, Cal., helped arouse the public's attention to the evil effects of narcotics when together with thousands of individuals and representatives of other well-known civic and social bodies and headed by the International Narcotics Education association, they marched to the music of "Onward Christian Soldiers," in procession which inaugurated the world-wide campaign against narcotics to be conducted by governments, churches and schools.

UNSELFISHNESS

By GRACE E. HALL

I SET myself a task: Never to ask For what I did not just as freely give.
No kindness, sweet consideration; aught In attitude, in gentleness, in thought— Nothing, save what in full return from me
Another might expect as bounteously.

Then day by day my life began to prove How selfish and how narrow was my groove,
For one by one the blessings I had known Took wings, and to another realm had flown;
How little I had given through the days!
How much demanded in a thousand ways!

So humbled by my own acknowledgment, I set myself a task and to it bent; I ceased to talk of faults by others shown,
Aware at last of greater ones—my own; Asked not of sympathy and love a part Unless I found the same within my heart.

And lo! there is a bluer sky o'er head,
The birds sing sweeter than they did before;
And each day kindly thoughts to me are sped,
And loving hands come knocking at my door.

Mother's Cook Book

Some one has said that "true hospitality consists in having what you were going to have anyway, and not changing the cloth unless you were going to anyway."

HAVE SOME OYSTERS

A NICE after-theater dish or for an evening lunch is prepared as follows: Add a pint of oysters with their liquor, a squeeze of lemon, a dash of cayenne, salt and celery salt to taste to a half-cupful of rich bouillon. Cook the oysters until their edges curl, then serve on buttered toast.

Creamed Oysters.
Allow a dozen oysters to each cupful of cream. Heat the cream to boiling, add the oysters and when the edges curl remove at once and serve immediately. Season to suit the taste.

Escalloped Oysters.
Take a pint of selected oysters, the tender part of two bunches of celery, chopped fine. In a baking dish put a layer of cracker crumbs, and a layer of celery. Dot with bits of butter or season the crumbs by stirring them into melted butter, season with salt and pepper, repeat with another layer and finish the top with buttered crumbs. Oysters will not cook well if more than two layers are added; those in the center will be under done when the top and bottom are ready. Bake twenty minutes.

Providence Oysters.
This is a nice chafing dish recipe. In a blazer, place a pint of oysters, a tablespoonful of butter, salt and pepper to season. When the oysters begin to curl, stir in enough cracker crumbs to absorb all the juice, then add a well-beaten egg and serve while the dish is hot.

Royal Stew.
Place oysters in a sauce pan with enough of their liquor to float them. Chop a bunch of tender celery and add a finely-minced red pepper. As the liquor in the pan is heating add two tablespoonfuls of butter, salt and pepper to taste, and when thoroughly hot add a pint of milk for a dozen oysters; when the milk is hot add the celery and pepper, chopped, stew until well flavored, add the oysters and as they are ready to serve stir in a spoonful of currant or plum jelly. Serve hot.

MEN YOU MAY MARRY

By E. R. PEYSER

Has a Galoot Like This Proposed to You?
Symptoms: The man whose collar goes over his hair in the back—black straight hair. Miles of mouth and mountains of nose. Sprawly sort, never looks seedy and never looks spruced up. Seems to be just a middle-weight getter in every line. Awfully sensitive; likes a plain, unexciting woman and generally spends his Sundays walking.

IN FACT
He is no hummer. He is not and never will be the kind who is in the running.
Prescription for Brides to Be:
Be a good cook, wash ironer, and a pleasant jogger.
Absorb This:

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Oregon City.—The $9000 campaign, carried on by the local chamber of commerce for the promotion of civic affairs, is about one-third completed, reports Barney Garrett, manager of the chamber.

Albany.—President Green of Albany college Friday announced that Albany's $100,000 toward the goal of $600,000 in the state had been raised and that the state campaign will be started at once from Portland headquarters.

Mill City.—A meeting of road district No. 40, will be held in Hammond hall at 2:30 P. M., November 3, to vote an extra tax to raise funds for further work on the roads in this district, which extends for several miles on each side of town.

Salem.—More than 600 children attended the Bible school classes in the grade schools of Salem during the first week, according to a report made public here Saturday. No child was allowed to take this work unless the written consent of the parents was given.

The Dalles.—An adequate protective tariff on wheat, made effective through an export commission to take care of the surplus, was recommended as the best means of solving the present farmers' difficulty, in a resolution adopted at a meeting of 70 Wasco county grain growers, held at Dufur Saturday afternoon.

Eugene.—Announcement was made Friday that work on a two-story concrete building to be erected as a home for the Eugene Daily Guard will be started next week. The structure will be located on a lot owned by Charles H. Fisher, principal owner of the Guard, on Willamette street between Tenth and Eleventh avenues.

Clatskanie.—W. F. Schneider of this place thinks he has the champion long-burning stump, by char-pitting, in the northwest. Fire was started in this stump January 23, 1923, and the stump fell October 12 of this year. The stump measured eight feet through just above the bulge in the roots and was more at the ground, though not measured.

St. Helens.—As election day draws nearer, a favorable vote for the income tax measure seems less likely. A few weeks ago it was conceded that Columbia county would support the measure, but there has been a decided change. Interviews with a number of farmers indicated that not all of them will support the measure, although it has the backing of the grange.

Salem.—Before a tax supervising and conservation commission may add to or take from items contained in a tax budget submitted for its consideration and approval, the unanimous vote of all members of such commission in attendance at the meeting or hearing must be obtained. This was the opinion handed down here Saturday by I. H. Van Winkle, attorney-general.

Toledo.—Figures recently announced by Dr. W. H. Lytle of the state livestock sanitary board show Lincoln county to be one of the very lowest counties in the state in the point of infection from tuberculosis based on the tests made throughout the county in the past years, as only four .94 of 1 per cent have ever reacted, whereas many counties run up to 25 or 100 times as high.

Mill City.—The Hammond Lumber company fire department has perfected arrangements for giving a big turkey dinner and entertainment on Thanksgiving day. Phil Bradt was named chairman to take charge of the dinner and B. F. Brandon will take care of the entertainment. A picture show and vaudeville will be held, followed by a talk in the afternoon. A home talent show and big dance are other features.

Hood River.—Representative Sinnott, here from The Dalles to meet with a committee of the chamber of commerce for a discussion of the projected Cooper's spur lateral of the Mount Hood loop highway, said he would use his best efforts in creating a sentiment for an allocation by the United States forest service of the entire $30,000, the estimated cost of grading the new 17-mile gap between the Mount Hood loop highway and the snow line of Mount Hood.

Salem.—More than 1000 plants of the cultivated black currant, alternate host of the white pine blister rust, have been destroyed in Marion county as a part of the state-wide campaign against the disease. This was the announcement made here by officials. Destruction of these plants was in pursuance of a state law enacted at the last session of the legislature declaring the black currant a nuisance because of the seriousness of the white pine rust invasion in the northwest.

Reap the Reward of Perfect Health
Salem, Ore.—"Thru heavy lifting I developed a severe case of feminine weakness. I suffered with backaches and bearing pains. I got so weak I could not do any work, I would get very severe dizzy spells and the least excitement I would faint dead away. I was so nervous I could not stand any noise, could not sleep, and had very little appetite. I went down in weight from 118 pounds to 96. I was a physical wreck when I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription but thru the persistent use of this wonderful woman's medicine I was completely relieved of my ailment and restored to perfect health. I gained in weight and never felt better than after taking the 'Favorite Prescription.'—Mrs. Elizabeth Zander, 1370 Norway St.
