

IRRIGON NEWS ITEMS

The Irrigon Commercial club held a special meeting Saturday evening, Nov. 10th, to discuss ways and means to meet the indebtedness incurred last spring installing the new irrigation system consisting of a 15-inch pipeline from the south side of the railroad tracks to the high point on the north side, which will cover all the townsite properties. On account of the town not being incorporated no direct taxation could be made and it was up to those wishing to properly irrigate their properties to do something, and beside the Farm bureau members were anxious to do something to irrigate the park property. The more active members of this bureau got together with the townspeople and the line was installed by money loaned under joint notes. At this meeting it was decided to pull off a series of "doings," and in this way begin cutting down the principal. A dance was decided upon for Saturday evening, Nov. 17th in Wadsworth hall, but it was soon certain that this hall would not accommodate the crowd which has promised to attend and the old school building was secured and the floor fixed up for the big occasion. It was also decided to hold a big turkey shoot and raffle on Sunday, Nov. 25, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning and held all day. Several thousand turkeys have been spoken for and George E. Hendrick, specialist on "mulligans," will be the chief chef, ably assisted by C. E. Glasgow, also eminent authority on preparation of "mulligans," who will serve "mulligan" dinner from 12 noon, to 3 p. m. Light rifles will be used, 22s preferred, but groups can arrange to shoot heavier guns if enough go together to do so at any time. Various other means can be arranged as may be desired by the crowds as the old school building will be a good place for all purposes. The "mulligan" will be served from the kitchen of the old school building. This feast promises to be the big end of the day. Everybody invited from far and near. Bring guns along.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Chaney have returned on account of reduction in forces by the paper mill company at Camas for two or three months. They are at home on the old farm south of town.

F. E. Ashburn of Condon, Ore., now employed by the Port of Portland as diver first-class, was in Irrigon the first of the week. He was sent to Umatilla to see what the bottom of the river was like where the proposed dam is to go in.

Merrill E. Doble of Pendleton spent Sunday and Armistice day with his father, returning Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams of Portland were guests at Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Saling's Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Ralph Grimm of Hubbard, Ore., spent a few days with his brothers, Hugh and Chauncey, the first of the week, returning home Wednesday. Lew Woodcock of Hubbard, Ore., father of Mrs. C. C. Grimm, and Quincy Woodcock of Kerby, her cousin, came up on 24 Monday morning and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Grimm until Wednesday. This is the first time Quincy has been in Irrigon and he thought this a great country.

GIVE US A GYM, BOARDMAN!

By ROY DEMPSEY

Basketball season is coming on again. Boardman high school has the material for a first-class team. At this time everything points toward a comparatively successful football year. We have been beaten in some cases. Revenge is sweet. We have the material, the coach, and the pep. We need a gym. Why haven't we got one? The Boardman high boys have been playing in the snow several seasons. Every school in the Columbia River league has its gym. It is time we had one. We should play another season of basketball on snow shoes?

A gymnasium is one of the chief attractions of the public school. Many students receive an education because of their desire to play in competitive games. In order to play on a high school team you must become a member of that school. The athletic league requires a certain percentage in not less than three subjects to be eligible to play. The desire of a student to compete overcomes any tendency to dodge his lessons and he goes thru with high grades whether or not that is his reason for attending.

The school has changed in the last few years. Not many moons ago the word school could be defined in a very few words: Text-books, slates, husky teachers, and a cord of hickory "rads." The knowledge of books and literature made up education. The graduate stepped out from the school with a stack of rules and regulations and with a little capability of using them as before he entered.

Athletics change all this. Six steady hours in a stuffy school-room becomes very wearisome. One half hour in the fresh air of a gym brings back the same invigoration with which the day was started. Athletics bring education into use as it is obtained. These are two minor reasons why the course of learning necessitates a recreation hall.

But the main reason is its tendency to inspire a sense of competition. When this state is reached we play a broader game. We are not satisfied with the present standard but keep on trying to better ourselves and become just as much more efficient than the other fellow as possible. The rapidity of a nation's growth is measured only by its constant striving to forge ahead. This might be applied to the school. As long as we are satisfied with the present we do not want to change.

Come on now Boardman, let's boost for a gymnasium. We know the greatest reason of all. Pride. Do we want to be behind the rest of the world just because of lack of support? Let's have a gym.

Mohava Kutzner, a fifth grader, moved away last week.

Mrs. Parson has been visiting her sister, Miss Wolf, over the week-end.

The Elliott orchestra will give a grand concert at the school auditorium the 5th or 6th of December. The date will be given definitely in next week's issue. This is a Canadian group of eight people—three ladies and five gentlemen. All come with the best of recommendations. The program will be first-class and one that will delight all music lovers. If properly supported the student body of the school will share in the proceeds.

Mabel Brown ranked first in the 8th grade for the month just ended, Edna Reinhardt second, and Helen Chaffee third. In the 7th grade Ivey Olson made the highest average and Helen and Kenneth Boardman time. It being the school's opportunity.

Until the requirements of the state fire marshal are met it will be unlawful to operate a moving picture machine in the school auditorium. There being no fire-proof cage in which to place the machine it is considered unsafe.

There are too many steps leading up to the community building. Reason: The tobacco chewers can't hit the bottom.

Mrs. Clarence Berger and Mrs. Chas. Dillon were pleasant callers at the school last Wednesday.

Last Friday morning an assembly was held in the auditorium in which all the rooms were represented. A beautiful new flag purchased by the school board was saluted for the first time. It being the school's opportunity for Armistice day observance, the program was of a patriotic nature. Mrs. Warren favored the school with a talk on the meaning of Armistice day. In all it was one of the best programs the school has given.

Monday being declared a holiday there was no school.

Several of the teachers availed themselves of the opportunity to visit over Sunday. Misses Sears and Marvin went to Portland, Miss Hixson soloured in Arlington, Mrs. Crowder went to her home in Hermiston, and Mr. Griggs started to his home in Yakima but on account of trouble with his motorcycle finally landed in The Dalles. He completed the journey by train.

JOKES

Said the joke-smith to the jaw-smith, "Your jaws work overtime." Said the jaw-smith to the joke-smith, "Your jokes are very stale." Followed an exchange of blows. Now they're both in jail.

Mr. Griggs: "Explain evaporation." Roy: "When I study three hours and forget all I read."

Truman: "I'm going to visit my history this week." Howard: "Why?" Truman: "She called on me three times last week, for History outline."

First Voice: "How well does Jim Howell do his work?" Second Voice: "O, pretty well."

Junior: "I can't see thru this proposition." Freshie: "Then look around it."

Examination—A memory test consisting of questions on subjects of which the applicant has never heard of before.

Speaking of a Gym.—Mr. Mulkey objects to ship-lap for flooring with knot holes in it, because it will interfere with the girls' high heels. (Them days are gone forever.)

Freshie: "Geel Multnomah must be a big college."

Cutie: "Why does Miss Wolff like the bus driver?" Smarty: "Because he keeps a-cummin'."

Freshie: "Next to a Ford, what kind of a car do you like best?" Louise: "A Packard, of course."

Said a little Freshie To a little lass, "If you don't work faster You will never pass."

Stella Dallas, Prouty.

Proper Housing Means More Profits In Hog Raising

The Hog needs protection more than most domestic animals, because it lacks natural protection, and is very susceptible to the influence of cold, heat and drafts. Hog houses should have tight walls, roofs, doors and windows, abundant sunlight, well drained floors and plenty of fresh air without drafts.

They should be strongly built of good materials.

Frame construction meets all these requirements and Tum-A-Lum Lumber is recommended because it is carefully and accurately made, is strong, durable, dependable and will give life-long, honest service.

Pictures of Hog house here shown is only one of many properly designed styles that our architectural department worked out.

Our detail blue prints and material lists are so complete that building can be done by yourself. These are furnished free with the material.
