A Worthy Cause

A NEWS ARTICLE which we publish today sets forth some of the main facts regarding the progress of the University of Oregon gift campaign. It is a worthy movement, well deserving of the support of every man and woman who believes in the University of Oregon and who favors giving the rising generation of boys and girls their maximum chance in the world through the equipment of higher education.

The University of Oregon has in recent years been faced with a serious problem. Its attendance has been growing faster than have its facilities or its maintenance funds. In 1913-14 there were 732 students enrolled. Today there are 2,389. For this year the total will reach 2500. Within the ten-year period just past the enrollment in Oregon's high schools has almost trebled. Ten times as many high school graduates are going to higher institutions of learning as were going ten years ago. On the basis of all this it may be confidently predicted that attendance at the University of Oregon will double again within the next five years.

In 1920 the University of Oregon received from the state under the millage bills $896,497. In 1924 it will receive $848,820. Thus the income from the state in four years has increased 5 per cent. Attendance in that four years has increased 39 per cent, eight times as fast. Obviously a 5 per cent increase in income will not take care of a 39 per cent increase in attendance. The University must increase its income. Oregon is tax-burdened already, and the University does not desire to go to the taxpayers for a larger millage tax. Hence the gift campaign.

Through this gift campaign the University hopes to raise $5,000,000 in five years. The money will be expended for new buildings and increased facilities. The University alumni have undertaken to raise $1,000,000 for three principal buildings. The current student body will finance another building, the Student-Union. Citizens of Eugene have undertaken to raise $500,000 for a University auditorium. Thus a very substantial beginning has been made. A little later the intensive campaign is to ramify. The whole public will be asked to participate. It is a worthy cause.

The campaign inaugurated in behalf of the University of Oregon to obtain $5,000,000 in five years through gifts has reached the active stage of its progress. On May 9 there will be inaugurated by the University alumni, who have taken upon themselves the task of raising $1,000,000 of the scheduled $5,000,000 as their share, a three weeks' intensive drive. Former students of the University everywhere, the world over, are to participate. Necessity is the spur which is driving the University of Oregon gift campaign. Attendance at the University is increasing so fast that it is outgrowing the facilities. Attendance within the past four years has increased 39 per cent. During the same period the University's income from the state has increased but 5 per cent. All of the University's buildings are crowded. Some of them are overcrowded. Not only is the attendance growing, but the rate of increase in the attendance is growing. These facts and the further one that the University prefers not to ask appropriations from the over-taxed public for increased facilities, furnish the reasons for the gift campaign.

This campaign was inaugurated a year ago, but it has only recently become fully organized and begun to attain real headway. The first big effort of the campaign is that to be made by the alumni from May 9 to May 30. With the $1,000,000 which the alumni propose to raise it is intended to provide a new library, a gymnasium and a splendid memorial court. Citizens of Eugene in a mass meeting held recently have pledged themselves to provide $500,000 for a splendid auditorium to be built on the University campus, big enough to accommodate from 5,000 to 6,000 students. At present it is not possible to hold an assembly of all students indoors, because there is no building at the University which will accommodate the 2,400 students now in attendance. The current student body has pledged as its contribution to the gift campaign the funds necessary to supply a building for the Students' Union.

The alumni of the University are taking the lead in the campaign. After they have completed their share of the work and the fund, a similar drive to theirs is to be made among the citizens of Oregon generally. Through the alumni drive it is expected that the scope and purpose of the plan will become familiar to the public generally, so that the progress of the state-wide campaign to come later will be facilitated. Efforts also are being made to enlist the contributions of persons of means everywhere who have special reasons for interest in the University of Oregon.

The "kick-off" of the alumni intensive campaign on May 9 is to take the form of drive dinners. Wherever there is a group organized for the campaign, in Oregon and out, that group will get together at table on the evening of May 9 and launch the drive.

After the sleep of death we are to gather up our forces again with the incalculable results of this life, a crown of shame or of glory on our heads, and begin again on the new level of progress.—Hugh R. Hawers.

Protection is the price of obedience everywhere, in all countries. It is the only thing that makes government respectable. Deny it, and you cannot have free subjects or citizens, you may have slaves.—Robert Toombs.

Last Thursday evening was a memorable one to the teachers and superintendent of the school when they were guests at a most bountiful dinner at the Clarence Berger home. The table fairly groaned with tempting viands according to all reports and the fortunate ones who partook were Prof. and Mrs. Mulkey, the Misses Barbara Hixon, Juanita Wolff, Louise Sears, Mrs. Crowder and Mrs. Degendorfer, and Mr. Griggs.

SINNOTT IRRIGATION AMENDMENT GRANTED

Washington. — Plans and estimates for the Deschutes irrigation project will be submitted at the next regular session of congress, if a bill

EXPERIMENT STATION NOTES

(Alfalfa Varieties)
In all 21 varieties of alfalfa of alfalfa have been tested at the Umatilla Experiment Station. The difference in yield between the poorest and best varieties has averaged 2.29 tons; enough to determine the difference between profit and loss. The Grimm, which has given the highest yield, has averaged 200 pounds more than the next variety and 480 pounds more than the third variety. Grimm will probably justify the extra seed cost on shallow soils or those having a close water table but any standard strain is just as good for average conditions. In general the hardy northern varieties as Grimm, Black Hills common or seed from good producing local fields should be planted rather than the tender southern varieties as Indian and Peruvian.

amended upon the motion of Congressman N. J. Sinnott of Oregon, is passed by the house irrigation committee, it was learned today.

Congressman Sinnott appeared before the committee this morning and asked for an amendment of the senate bill calling for plans and specifications of the Casper Alcorn irrigation project in Oregon. The amendment was granted.

The bill provides for the submission by the secretary of the interior at the next regular session of congress, of plans and estimates for the Wyoming and Deschutes projects, the latter being a house amendment, under the Sinnott proposal, to the senate bill.
