Geo. E. Hendricks made a trip to Portland last week, returning Sunday.

Mrs. M. F. Wadsworth went to Hot Lake to visit Mr. Wadsworth Tuesday morning, returning that evening.

Miss Sue Embrey arrived from Richmond, Kentucky Wednesday morning. She is an aunt of Mrs. Wadsworth and will stay with her for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McCarter have moved from the pumping plant to Hood River for the time being. They have rented a place at Boardman at which they will move later.

Since the nearby markets have become more cluttered with outside stuff, a car of Irrigon watermelons including about forty crates, Pride of Irrigon cantaloupes was shipped to Portland Sunday. The reports are that they have taken the top price in Portland same as former years and the surplus cantaloupes are now being shipped to Portland to supply the better trade there. This means much as the government reports show anywhere from 6 to 20 cars of cantaloupes in Portland market daily and usually more of watermelons. The inferior quality stuff will not pay for freight or express charges. The Dalles melons have made their appearances in some of the closer towns but are not selling readily on account of their small size and quality.

Why We Sell Kelly-Springfield Tires

Kelly-Springfields are among the oldest and best known tires on the market. They have always had a reputation for giving exceptional mileage and remarkable service. The Kelly tires of today are the finest that Kelly has ever built. They are stronger, sturdier, will stand more punishment and give more mileage than the tires upon which Kelly reputation was built. They used to be a little higher priced than other tires, but now reduced prices are in effect, on account of larger factory facilities and hence the costs no more than other tires which have never borne the Kelly reputation. We sell Kelly-Springfield tires because we believe they will give our customers the most mileage and the best service at lowest cost. If you will come in and refer to this advertisement, we will make you a discount to introduce the Kelly tires.
