

The supporters of the $250,000 bond issue election of August 29, in Coos county, were defeated in the circuit court in their suit to learn the legality of the issue. The bond election was held illegal by Judge John C. Kendall at Marshfield.

Mrs. Belle Goldtrip, 40, who pleaded guilty to burning the $30,000 summer home of Mr. De Varney of Portland and taking valuables from the place, was sentenced at Marshfield to six years in the penitentiary for grand larceny and arson.

Win Third Game

Boardman high met and defeated the Fossil high school team on the Fossil field last Saturday. The final score was 25 to 0. This makes three victories for the Boardman boys. Lexington high is the only school team in the Upper Columbia League that has been able to defeat us, and that by a score which came on the last play of the game thru an error on the part of Boardman.

The game this coming Saturday at Boardman with Condon high school football squad promises to be a great game from the football enthusiasts' standpoint. Every supporter of the local school should be on the football field next Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m. Boost the boys.

Seventh-Eighth Grade News

The spelling contest which was entered upon a week ago by the 7th and 8th grades is proving exceedingly lively. The rules were made and agreed upon by both classes. The finals will be held just before the Thanksgiving holidays, after which the winning side is to be entertained by the losers as a reward. Cranberry sauce, and plum pudding has been hinted, but that is as much as we can discover. Mrs. Willis made a trip to Tillamook during the week end.

Fifth and Sixth Grades

Laura Mae McCarter from Hood River is attending school here and is a pupil in the 5th grade. Fay Dempsey of the 6th grade has left for Kelso, Washington where his father is working. The 5th and 6th grades had a perfect record for attendance last week. Supt. J. O. Russell and wife made a flying trip to Wasco last Tuesday. The occasion for the trip being special business.

First and Second Grade News

We have become members of the American Junior Red Cross, as a room. Each one in our room is going to work, now to gain an individual membership, by performing some little service of kindness and help. Then a little red cross button will be given to the ones who earn them, through these little acts of kindness.

We were sorry to have little Billy McCully leave our school and go to Portland and we will miss him greatly in the first grade.

It is Halloween time, our room is decorated with pumpkin faces and black cats. We are looking forward to Friday when we will spend part of the afternoon having a Halloween party. We hope some of our Mothers will be there, too, to enjoy our fun with us.

Miss Genevieve Gorgor has gone to Aberdeen Washington for a permanent stay. We are sorry to lose Genevieve from our Sophomore class for she was an able student in all her work.

Feast of Red Corn

On November 14th, the High School girls assisted by the grammar grade girls, will give the Operatta, "The Feast of the Red Corn". The proceeds are to go to the athletic fund. This operatta will be directed by Mrs. J. O. Russell and Miss Alice Aldrich.

PLAY "MISS MOLLY" DRAWS

CROWDED HOUSE FRIDAY

The large attendance which came to see "Miss Molly", the Ladies Aid play given at the school auditorium last Friday evening, was very highly entertained.

The cast was one of exceptional ability, Miss Molly being portrayed by Mrs. De Mauro, who with her winning ways and beautiful gowns won the interest of her audience from the start. Her sweetheart, Roy Gilbreath artist, handsome and dashing in his smock and suit played his part most successfully. Nate Maycomber and Joyce Willis as husband and wife led each other thru many a gale of matrimonial cyclones. Nate with his growls and she with her temperamental outbursts gave a realistic picture of a stormy home sweet home.

Pearly White who wasn't Pearly but Barbara Hixson and her colored sister Ople Waggoner, did justice to the chocolate candy and in the mean time gave every one hearty laughs. Pearly's veil by no means muffled her voice in times of excitement and her hostility was as loud shrieking as her voice. Alice Aldrich as Governess, did exceedingly well, and had the masculine part of the audience suffering from eye strain during her lessons in deportment. She proved herself also, a successful animal tamer in subduing the vicious Mr. Peters. She displays exceptional stage presence and an ability to retain the interest of her listeners during her parts.

The dignified and stately Lady Ethel was splendidly personified by Edna Broyle. The time between the acts was well filled by a recitation by Mary Chaffer in which she told how her hearing improved when Daddy called. Mary's recitations are always well received by the audience.

Ople Waggoner and Barbara Hixson in an original pantomime exhibited unusual mechanical skill in operating a tin Lizzie and getting it safely home with the aid of a hair pin, over rough and bumpy roads so often encountered by the young and hopeful Henry Ford enthusiasts.

The play has been under the able direction of Mrs. J. O. Russell who gave untiringly of her time and energy. Her efforts brought forth remarkable success and a substantial sum of money for which the Ladies Aid is duly thankful.

Music for the occasion which was so capably and generously rendered was: Mrs. Lovell Spangle at the piano Elmo Russell and Howard Packard saxophone. This was greatly appreciated and enjoyed by all.
