Bible Thoughts for the Week

Sunday.
If I Have Withheld the poor from their desire, or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail; or have eaten my morsel myself alone, and the fatherless hath not eaten thereof; if I have seen any perish for want of clothing, or any poor without covering; then let mine arm fall from my shoulder blade, and mine arm be broken from the bone.—Job 31:16, 17, 19, 21.

Monday.
Thou Shalt Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself. This do and thou shalt live.—Luke 10:27, 28.

Tuesday.
O Death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? But thanks be to God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.—I Cor. 15:55, 57.

Wednesday.
There is No Man that hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of death:—and there is no discharge in that war.—Eccles. 8:8.

Jones of Northwestern university as one of the trustees. The establishment of this school, attracting students from all the Balkan countries, is expected by Professor Jones to prove more effective than any other means in advancing harmonious relations. Christian ideals will be taught, he says. The university will be known, according to report, as the Albanian-American School of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. C. Telford Erickson of New York city has been selected as its acting president. Funds will be raised for it in this country.

COOLIDGE FAVORS FARM CO-OPERATION

Farmers Told Self Help is First Requirement of Success

Washington, D. C.—An address by President Coolidge indorsing the co-operative marketing system, marked the opening here Monday of the third annual convention of the national council of the Farmers' Co-operative Marketing association.

Addresses by Frank O. Lowden, ex-governor of Illinois, Carl Williams of Oklahoma City, Okla., and A. J. McPhail, president of the Canadian Wheat Producers, Limited, were other features of the meeting.

Mr. Coolidge, in his address, described co-operative marketing as the best means of stabilizing the country's agricultural organization, but warned that the system possesses no magical attributes and must start from the soil and be developed upward with the farmers contributing the major aid.

"There is a school of co-operators who seem to believe that the program can be started at the top and built downwards," President Coolidge said. "They want the government, or the banks, or philanthropists, or providence to lay out a scheme big enough to cover the country, set its machinery moving, guarantee it all needed capital and then invite the farmers to sit in the places reserved for them and proceed to garner their profits. Let me say that I offer no such Aindindillike project. I want society as a whole to help; but I want the farmers to do their share and I warn them that this will be the lion's share."

TO RETAIN LAND OFFICES

Washington, Idaho and Oregon Appropriations in Senate Bill.

Washington, D. C.—The interior department appropriation bill, as reported to the senate carries the amendment forced into it in the house by Chairman Sinoott of the public lands committee, retaining the land offices at Burns and La Grande, Or.; Walla Walla, Waterville, Yakima and Vancouver, Wash., and Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

The bill also restores provision for the retention of the surveyors general, who, under the bill passed by the house, would have been deprived of office July 1. All of the difficult conditions imposed by the house in appropriating $375,000 for the Kittitas Irrigation project in central Washington, including a provision for 5 per cent interest on deferred payments of settlers, were stricken from the bill by the senate committee on the motion of Senator Jones.

Coolidge on Taxation.

It is impossible to escape the conclusion that high taxes make high prices. So long as the cost of government is high, the cost of living will be high. This is usually a source of misunderstanding and always a source of discontent. The duty that government now owes to the people is to reduce their burdens by paying off the obligations that came from the war rather than imposing additional burdens for the support of new projects. Having met our war obligation to pay, let us meet our peace obligation to save.—Coolidge.

Spring Neckwear Makes Its Entry

It appears that stylists haven't the faintest notion of opposing the fondness developed for simplicity in day frocks, either in the tailored or tub varieties. Now that these frocks are coming in for spring, the tailored dresses reveal the revival of navy blue and the survival of the straight silhouette—but there is great variety in neck lines and neckwear grows important. All sorts of collar and cuff sets, vestees, jabots, ties and scarfs stand ready to contribute smart style touches to the inconspicuous new frocks. A collar and cuff set is shown here. It makes a cheerful addition to a sedate day frock or suit.
