OUR WALTER

Respected by foe,
Whipped by friend.

Eastern Oregon is proud of Governor Pierce, especially since he kicked the tar out of a bunch of dampfoot tricksters who tried to job him and the people during the last legislature. Every time you turn Walter loses to himself he rips up the soil, tears down the fences, charges headlong into the red blitzer and gets himself in bad generally. But whenever a bunch of amateur legislators, or even a bunch of old time cowhands in this political game make an attempt to rope, tie and brand Walter, they simply make a concentrated target for his abundant energy, and Old Walter emerges from the state house corral, unbranded, victorious and with the cheers from the gallery.

Walter Pierce is by nature a leopold. He is not constructive, his is not a positive nature, he cannot lead an offensive for he scatters his forces, but just put Walter on the defensive, surround him with enemies of the dear people, imaginary or real, and watch Old Walter wade into the lurch, unafraid and come out unbranded, unbroken, undefeated, tho still unable to lead.

Walter Pierce is a real pinch hitter for the People's League. He is a better agitator than an administrator, a far better evangelist than saviour. He stands for the right, he knows the right, he wants to go right yet lacks the knack of accomplishment. We love, we like him, we are proud of him. We seldom agree with his methods or his conclusions, but his sense of right raises his aims to a high plane, while his impatient nature charges ahead in this direction or that, doing unintentional damage, wasting unnecessary time, often changing goals in pursuit of an ideal that is never found.

But after all, Walter stands out ahead of the ranks, alone, unbranded, unbranded and as all worthy warriors prepared for battle, he is respected by foe and worshipped by friends.

Spring Sacrifices in Order.

Clean-up time is here. With movable rags, vacuum cleaners, and modern laundry service the old spring house cleaning is almost a thing of the past; but the front yard still needs a spring raking, the back yard a general cleaning up and a little fresh paint here or there or on the car is a fine thing.

The tourists are coming. Twice as many as ever before in the history of Oregon. They are coming by rail, by water and by highway. The community that is prepared to serve them best will reap the greatest rewards, not only of immediate income but of ultimate settlement. The man who believes that the tourist is a pest is in the same class as the merchant who won't advertise because his is too busy to take care of any business if he had it.

The real wonders of the Willowa Lake country must be felt rather than seen. A rainbow cannot be painted, a mountain lake cannot be described, the Willowa Wonderland is an experience in itself and every resident of Eastern Oregon should get acquainted with this region where nature's soul lies open and her physical charms are bared in the splendor of her virgin grandeur.

The bootlegger is a dangerous animal. No matter which hind pocket he reaches for a shot of his stuff is apt to kill.

COURT DISMISSES OIL INDICTMENTS

Fall, Sinclair and Dohenys Win
on Technicality in Washington Court.

Washington, D. C.—All indictments of Albert B. Fall, E. L. Doheny, Harry F. Sinclair and Edward L. Doheny Jr., growing out of the naval oil reserve leases, were quashed here by the District of Columbia supreme court.

Justice McCoy sustained the motion of counsel for the defendants to dismiss the indictments on the ground that they were violated by the presence of unauthorized persons in the grand jury room when evidence was being taken.

The bribery charge grew out of the delivery to Fall here while he was interior secretary of $100,000 in cash. The fund was advanced by the elder Doheny and brought here from New York by his son in the now celebrated little black satchel. Fall gave his personal note for the amount, and Doheny, in disclosing that he had advanced the money, said it was a loan to a friend and had nothing to do with the leases.

The indictments returned here and ordered dismissed are wholly apart from civil suits which have been brought by the government in Wyoming and California for the recovery of the Teapot Dome and California naval reserves.

In dismissing the criminal indictment, Justice McCoy upheld the contention of defense counsel that the senate resolution taking prosecution of the oil cases from the department of justice and placing them in the hands of special counsel removed the right of the attorney-general or any of his assistants to appear before the grand jury.

TAX ON CAPITAL IS PLANNED BY HERRIOT

Paris.—Premier Herriot revealed to the radical socialist group of the chamber of deputies that he plans to meet the French financial crisis with a proposal for a long term capital tax levy.

The exact extent of the levy, however, he left unclear, saying it would apply "only on acquired wealth," and would not affect "wealth in formation."

Herriot made no definition of the meaning of "wealth in formation," and it was believed that on its definition will rest the real policy of the government.

The chamber gave Premier Herriot and his government a vote of confidence with a vote of 530 to 4 following close on the appointment of Anatole De Monzie as minister of finance to succeed Clementel, who resigned.

Clementel's resignation was the culmination of his premature announcement to the chamber that the government faced a financial stringency which made it necessary to issue additional paper francs.

COURT HALTS SHIP SALE

Temporary Decree Issued in Behalf of Pacific Mail.

Washington, D. C.—Justice Hitz, in district supreme court, issued a restraining order against the United States shipping board, preventing it from selling the five great "president" type liners now operating in the Pacific, to the Dollar shipping line.

The restraining order was sought by the Pacific Mail Steamship corporation, which now operates the vessels under lease from the board and follows a bitter battle between the two concerns over the right to purchase the ships.

The board a few days ago accepted the Dollar bid, in preference to the Pacific Mail's offer.

The order was made returnable on April 13, at which time counsel for the shipping board will go before Justice Hitz and argue the legality of the board's action in accepting the Dollar bid.

of Ewing, were calling in Ione on Thursday. W. V. is still making improvements and is now busy planting shrubs and trees around his residence and is also having all his outside painting done for the second time.

W. G. Palmer, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Clea, left on Friday for Eugene, where they intend to reside for the summer. W. G., we understand, has left Windyhook in charge of a friend until he decides whether he will "come back to the farm after he has seen Broadway" or not.

Tom Logan of Four Mile was calling in Cecil during the week. Leon has one thousand of wheat sown and informs us that it is coming on well and that rain visited his part of the country in heavy showers on March 30th. A heavy thunder storm hit Four Mile and the ground has got well soaked. Leon is now flushing up six thousand acres of summer fallow.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of Ridgefield, Wash., arrived at Highview on Thursday and spent the day or two with their sister, Mrs. Geo. A. Miller.

M. W. Sherrard and son, from their ranch near The Willows, were calling in Cecil on Friday.
