PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

$2.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

Entered as second-class matter Feb. 11, 1921, at the postoffice at Boardman, Ore., under act of Mar. 3, 1879. A little ad in The Mirror will sell it for you.

With three long months of vacation ahead, the school boys wear a smile that won't rub off these days.

We can't do too much at the swimming hole to safeguard the lives of the boys and girls old and young who want to enjoy the cooling waters of Old Columbia this summer. When other towns spend a lot of money to build a swimming tank, we can spend a little to better the vast tank nature has provided, for our enjoyment.

Love is the greatest gift God has bestowed upon man. It is the one thing in all the world that can be given and received freely. We would all be better off if we used a little more of it in our every day life. Living with a feeling of love in every "give and take" would make life really worthwhile. Try it for a week and you will become a regular user.

MAN CONFESSES TO BOTHELL ROBBERY

Portland, Or.—Alva R. Kilbourn, 24, of Everett, Wash., who is at a hospital here suffering from four serious bullet wounds in his arms, confessed to Portland police that he was the third man who figured in the attempt to rob the bank at Bothell, Wash., Friday. His two companions were killed by gunfire as they sped from the scene of the robbery.

In his confession Kilbourn said he had started his career of crime a year ago as a run runner across the Canadian border, then turned hi-jacker, and finally decided, last week, to join in the Bothell bank robbery with James Pollock and George Jones, both of whom were killed following robbery of the bank.

The trio, he said, stole an auto near Mt. Vernon, Wash., drove to Bothell, and stopped in front of the bank. Jones drove the car, he said.

When they stopped, Jones pulled on the emergency brake so hard as to "freeze" it, Kilbourn said, and it was this error which resulted in Kilbourn's arms being so badly wounded.

Kilbourn and Pollock entered the bank, seized about $2000 and ran back to the car.

A fusillade of shots was fired after them by bank officials and citizens warned of the robbery.

WAR IN CHINA EXPECTED

Reports indicate Japan and Russia backing rival factions.

Washington, D. C. — Information from authentic sources of the swift approach in China of general warfare, which promises to dwarf present disturbances in Shanghai, Canton and Changsha, is in the hands of the Washington government.

The purport of this information is that a clash for military mastery of China is impending. Chang Tso Lin, Manchurian war lord, with his force of 200,000 men, and Feng Yu Hsing, with a following of 175,000, are being watched by observers.

Chang has the sympathy and probably some form of substantial aid from Japan. Feng, the so-called Christian general, admittedly is receiving active and material assistance from soviet Russia. Unquestioned sources have reported a continuous supply of arms to be reaching Feng's troops from Moscow and Urga.
