County Fair Is Assured

County Court Promises State Appropriation—Fair Board Is Named

The North Morrow County Fair is assured, as the county court has promised all the state appropriation for fair premiums, which amounts to about six hundred dollars. Premium lists will soon be prepared and published.

As the premium money is a state appropriation, competition must be open to all. Unless we make a special effort, some sister town or county may come and carry away most of the prize. Let's hustle so as to make it interesting for them at least.

The exact date for the staging of the fair has not yet been decided, but will be in the vicinity of October 1st.

The fair board consists of the following: Chas. Wicklander, W. T. Wright, J. B. Knight, Mrs. C. E. Glasco, Lee Mead, Sam H. Boardman, and C. H. Dillabough.

IRRIGON ITEMS

Everybody busy. Not only hoeing melons, but shipping potatoes is on in earnest. Car loads are moving this week. New buildings are going up along the highway, garages and gas pumps, so there is not much time to write up the news. The tourist travel ought to be well taken care of from now on.

Miss Ada Brownell and Ervin Chapman were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Graybeal, Sunday, June 7th. The big spread, with fifty in attendance, was put on by Mrs. Graybeal, and all spent a pleasant day congratulating and wishing the happy couple a happy and prosperous married life.

It seems that someone is trying to run one over on the poor farmers of the north end. A movement is on foot to bond the county for $150,000 for certain roads. The people of this district are not taking to it very well and expect to put out every effort to defeat it. We do not need more taxes at present.

Miss Fern Corey, her mother, and Mrs. Pompey and others are visitors at Oscar Corey's and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Walpole this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wolfe from Yakima, on their way to Burley, Idaho, to make their future home, spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wolfes, leaving for Burley Tuesday.

Mrs. Packett and daughter left for Wasco the first of this week.

Kicked by Horses

John Pruter had an exciting experience last Wednesday while cleaning an irrigation canal. One of his horses became tangled in a wire and fell into the canal dragging the other horse in. When Mr. Pruter tried to remove them he was kicked, and as a result, he is bruised pretty badly.

Car Runs Over Grade

While Pete Slavin was taking a bunch of young people in his new Oldsmobile to Willow Creek last Wednesday night to attend a party given there by Margaret Farley, he stepped on the accelerator a little too firmly and the car went over the grade while going 45 miles an hour. The car ran into a fence which prevented it from tipping over, but Chas. Marshall was thrown into the fence and pretty badly cut and bruised. The front axle and one of the front wheels were broken. The other occupants, Chas. Marshall of Castle Rock, Pete Slavin, and Kathleen Marshall, were uninjured.

At the Highway Inn

E. D. Geer, an M. D. of North Powder, registered at the Highway Inn recently, as did H. Pine and Fred Parker of Spokane. Mrs. S. A. Bennett, Mrs. J. H. Craven, and Mrs. Sadie Craven were on their way from Sossida to their home in Baker. R. W. Morse, County Agent of Heppner, also was a guest at the inn. Roy Conklin of Union, J. A. Smith of Salt Lake City, and a group composed of Mary Rafferty, Clara Burg, Caroline Wells, all of Missoula, Mont., were other names noted on the register.

A box social and dance will be given Saturday by the Greenfield Grange at George's open air pavilion.

We know it is dangerous to both life, limb and property, but the spirit of Liberty still makes us want to shoot a fire cracker on the Fourth of July, and in the words of Patrick Henry "Give me Liberty or give me Death".

Boardman Locals

Miss Mildred Lowrey, a registered nurse of Colfax, Wn., was a visitor at the Sam Shell home on Friday. She was on her way to Portland and Seattle and will stop here on her way back home.

Mrs. Clarence Berger has recovered sufficiently from her recent operation to return home. Her many friends are glad to hear of her speedy recovery.

Chas. Wicklander sent a truck load of fine new potatoes to Willow Creek on Saturday. Bruce Dillabough making the trip for him. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Price also motored to Ione Friday with several sacks in their car.

There are some splendid gardens growing on the project. Frank Partlow has had fine large cucumbers for some time, beets are large enough to use, corn is tasseling out, watermelons are in bloom and some small ones have already set on.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ballenger left on Thursday for Pendleton and Walla Walla, where they visited until Sunday when they returned home. On the return trip they stopped and visited at the home of Prof. Burns at Milton and Miss Irene Jensen near Walla Walla.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Usher and children of Walla Walla visited at the Frank Partlow home Thursday and Friday.

Miss Katherine McNamee, of Pendleton spent a few days with her brother Johnny McNamee last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins and Elvira and M. Mulligan drove to Portland Thursday to see the last of the Rose show.

S. Attebury sold his fine herd of dairy cows some time ago to Mr. Archer of Stanfield. Atteburys plan to go into the chicken business.

The camp grounds are having more visitors each evening since the warming up of the weather. Some of the visitors at Warner's Auto Camp recently were: O. L. Tingell of Glen's Ferry, Idaho, John Rath of Migher, N. D., W. D. McCurdy from Steamboat Springs, Colo., C. L. Hobbell from Saguinaw, Michigan, Andrew Hill from Concord, Mass., and W. T. Anderson from Edgar, Neb.

Mr. Chaffee is putting in a new culvert at the corner by Ballenger's. This is a much needed improvement.

Mrs. Gladys Gibbons and daughter Norma returned last week from a delightful trip to Kellogg, Ida., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Ted Degendorf.

Mr. and Mrs. Rover and family departed last week for Hood River. The Rovers have conducted a restaurant here for the past few months.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ballenger and H. H. McPherson motored to Wasco Saturday night. Mrs. Ballenger remained and will go on to the coast for the summer.

Mrs. J. R. Johnson and Deibert and Rachel left Sunday with Mrs. Johnson, Sr., for Wasco where they visited for a few days.

Mrs. Eck Warren has gone to The Dalles to visit her mother and attend the celebration given in honor of her parent's wedding anniversary.

S. L. Beck has moved his drilling outfit to the John Brice place where he will drill for artesian water.

Those who met Miss Ellen Boye of Grandview, Wn., last summer when she visited at the Herdin home will be interested to hear of her marriage last week at Yakima to John Van Horn of Bickleton, Wash.

Hermiston Wins Again

The strong Hermiston nine again defeated the locals last Sunday. The opposing team hit every ball that Montague threw over the plate. Boardman seemed to lose heart after the first few hits and the game was a replica of previous games with Hermiston. The memory is too painful. We will not even mention the score.

Killed King's Favorite

Piers Gaveston, earl of Cornwall, the favorite of Edward II of England, acted so arrogantly toward the barons that they twice drove him out of England and finally captured him and put him to death.

Arlington Preparing To Greet Many Visitors For July Fourth Celebration

Wednesday morning the big open air dance pavilion began to take form on the lots next to the new McFadden Hotel, the Goddess of Liberty contest which will come to a close next Tuesday evening is beginning to take on life and keen competition between the friends of the various candidates is expected during the remaining days.

With the defeat of Arlington last Sunday by the unexpected comeback pulled by the Condon players, there is considerable speculation over the outcome of the two game series to be played here on the third and fourth.

George Clark of Roosevelt has taken over the staging of the wild west features on the program and is rounding up a choice assortment of ornery horse flesh from the reservation. He expects to bring one famous outlaw and will offer a special purse to some one for riding this critter.

The prize committee and the parade committee have determined the prizes to be offered for entries in the parade.

Some boxing card, kid! Don't over look the fastest, fightingest program you have had a chance to witness in a long time when on the evening of July 4th Joe Marcus will mix it with Cracker Warren in the main event of the evening. Both 135 pounders, each having won one decision over the other in former goes, both contending for high coast honors in their class. It will sure be a real match.

In the preliminaries, such fistic artists as Knight of Irrigon, Bartlemy of Rock Creek, Abbott of Heppner, and some worthy Portland talent including Peyton, Rivers, and Jose are seeking places on the evening's card. Definite matches will be arranged in the next day or two and all boxing fans will be assured of one of the stellar events of the summer.

At the close of the preliminary period of the contest for Goddess of Liberty, with the count taken Thursday

Social Activities

The Irrigon Grange has invited the members of Greenfield Grange to Irrigon on July 4th. That, with the celebration at Arlington, will take most of the people away. It has been suggested that those remaining at home all get together and hold a picnic dinner at Warner's Camp Ground. There is good shade, water, etc. The Irrigon and Boardman Granges are to have a dance on the platform at Geo. Mitchell's Grove the evening of July 4th.

Mr. J. M. Ray and Mr. A. D. Messenger of Goldendale arrived Monday for a visit at the Sam Shell home. Mr. Ray is Master of the Pomona Grange there. Mr. Ray was an old friend of Richard Dingman's, they having worked together for 12 years in threshing. Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Dingman entertained at a sumptuous dinner at which Mr. Ray and Mr. Messenger were guests. They were also over-night visitors at the Dingman home.

LA FOLLETTE HONORED BY HIS HOME STATE

Late Wisconsin Senator Laid to Rest Beside His Parents.

Madison, Wis.—Robert M. La Follette came back to his own people Saturday to receive from them a last sorrowful tribute before going to his final resting place beneath the elms of Forest Hill cemetery, beside his parents.

His body reposed in the state capitol, where it was taken immediately after its arrival here from Washington, then to lie in state in the rotunda beneath the mammoth dome of the statehouse, while crowds who knew and loved him gazed upon his countenance for the last time.

The funeral services Monday were simple. They were conducted in the capital rotunda by the Rev. A. E. Hayden of Chicago.

The honorary pallbearers included a committee from the United States senate, all the Wisconsin representatives, Governor Blaine and other state officers, members of the state supreme court, federal judges of this district, officials of the University of Wisconsin and the state normal schools, members of the various state departments, former state officials and a large number of citizens from this and adjacent states.

The Wisconsin senator, last year an independent candidate for president, died at his home in Washington, D. C., a victim of heart attacks.

HONOR PATRIOTS OF TICONDEROGA

Monument Records Glorious Deed of Revolution.

Where Lake George enters Lake Champlain, in New York state, the French in 1756 set up a post which they named Fort Carillon. This became a concentration point for French expeditions under Montcalm and others. In 1758 the fort was attacked by 16,000 British under Abercrombie. Though the French had but 4,000 men they beat off the enemy, causing the latter a loss of 2,000 men. A year later Amherst with 11,000 men took the fort after the French had retired.

By the time of the Revolution the fort was generally known by its Indian name—"Ticonderoga," a corruption of the Iroquois word "cheonderoga," meaning "sounding" water. On May 10, 1775, Ethan Allen and 83 Green Mountain Boys captured the fort and valuable stores. Captain Delaplace was in charge of the garrison of 48 men. He was asleep when Allen rapped on his door with a sword. "Your errand?" demanded the sleepy commander. "I order you to surrender," said Allen. "By what authority?" inquired the astonished officer. "By the authority of the Great Jehovah and the Continental Congress," Allen is said to have replied. Benedict Arnold was a member of the American expedition.

St. Clair and 11,000 Continentals abandoned the fort in 1777 on the approach of Burgoyne with a superior force. Colonel Brown with 500 men tried to retake the place, but after capturing 300 prisoners and many traps, besides releasing 200 Americans, he had to retire. After the Revolution Fort Ticonderoga became a picturesque ruin, but was restored to something like its original state at the expense of Mrs. Stephen Pell of New York in 1900. A monument to the Continentals, shown above, who fought in and around Ticonderoga was recently unveiled at that historic place. It is the gift of Horace A. Moses. The work, executed by Charles Keck, shows Liberty triumphant.—Pathfinder Magazine.
