TRIED, AND TRIED AGAIN, BUT DID NOT SUCCEED

President Wilson will not speak in Ashland. Two months ago Secretary Mowat of the Ashland Commercial club started pulling wires in an endeavor to have the President's special make a half-hour stop in Ashland and the president give a twenty-minute speech in the Chautauqua auditorium. A stack of correspondence with most every prominent Democrat in Oregon, with Senator Chamberlain and Hon Joseph Tumulty, secretary to the president and in the last week, several telegrams, evidence the fact that Secretary Mowat was hitting them from every angle but the president's policy of making speeches only in the big cities, one to a state, frustrated his efforts.

The endorsement of the state and national committees at Portland were forwarded to Senator Chamberlain together with endorsements of the plan to have the president at the Southern Oregon Chautauqua auditorium from the mayors of every city in Southern Oregon. Senator Chamberlain had two audiences with the president and Secretary Tumulty while they were arranging the schedule of the quick trip around the country and urged that the Ashland stop be made but the president's physician advised that the schedule including the big cities only would tax Mr. Wilson's strength to the utmost.

As a last minute resort a telegram was sent to Secretary Tumulty at Billings, Mont., setting forth the facts that the people of Northern California and Southern Oregon were 350 miles from the nearest city where the president would speak and that they would have no opportunity to hear him, that Ashland would guarantee to jam between five and six thousand people into the Chautauqua auditorium for the twenty minute speech and that the plan had the endorsement of every city in these sections. Apparently the matter was taken up again with the president and his physician and the following telegram ended the hopes of Ashland's hearing the president: Ashland Commercial Club, Ashland, Ore.

Telegram received. In making up the president's schedule it was essential to consider his physical ability to carry through the program. The itinerary arranged is so strenuous that his physician advises the president would be unduly fatigued if he attempted to make any additional speeches. For this reason we have been compelled to deny all requests of this nature and, as much as the president would like to comply and meet the good people of your community, he is sorry not to be able to give you any encouragement. In his behalf let me thank you warmly for your courteous invitation.

J. P. TUMULTY.

The president will make his only Oregon speech in Portland on September 15. He is scheduled to leave Portland at 11 p. m. that day, which would bring him through Ashland sometime after noon on Tuesday, September 16. The special train will have to stop here to change engine and for car-inspection. The Commercial club will ascertain the exact time of arrival and if known in time will give it to the public through Monday's paper. A notice will be posted in front of the Commercial Club Tuesday.

The Commercial Club wants to put some fruit—lots of it—on the presidential party sit up and take notice. The club wants everybody who has one of those trees which grows monster peaches or apples or pears, to select a few of the biggest and most perfect and leave them at the Club room in the city hall Monday evening or before ten Tuesday morning. In addition to the great big ones, the club wants a lot of finely flavored fruit, it doesn't matter whether big or small.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

DOES THIS FIT YOU?

The following very pertinent clipping was handed in by a subscriber: In patronizing home industry, we help the laboring man and protect the home capital that is invested.

A thing that keeps any town backward is the man who wakes up at the alarm of a clock made in New England States, and buttons on his New York pants to a pair of Buffalo suspenders; puts on a cowhide tanned pair of shoes made in St. Louis, shaves with a Connecticut safety razor and dries on a cotton towel made in Pennsylvania; sits down to a Grand Rapids table on a chair made in Chicago, and butters his bread with Australian butter with a Boston made knife and eats Kansas City bacon and Minnesota grits fried in American lard, cooked on a Detroit stove, and has a dessert of California fruit seasoned with spice made in St. Paul, after which he slips into a New York raincoat and claps on a wool hat made in Philadelphia, and goes down in an Ohio automobile and finds the office boy dusting his office furniture, made in Illinois. He fills his Rhode Island pipe with tobacco put up in Georgia.

He starts to business and wonders why local trade is quiet; goes home at night and gets into a foreign-made bed, and the only thing local he gets is the bark of the street dog, after which he concludes that town is not a good place to live in and do business in.

Fancy Work Party

Mrs. Perry Ashcraft entertained a company of her friends at her home on Pine street in honor of Mrs. Margaret Winter Brown of Los Angeles, who is visiting here. The close friends of Mrs. Brown were invited to meet her, and gathered at the Ashcraft home where the evening was spent with their fancy work Refreshments were served before the company departed. The guest list included Mrs. Brown of Los Angeles; Mrs. Harry Moore and sister, Miss Erna Rice of Portland; Mrs. Francis J. Murphy, Misses Bessie Carpenter, Stella Hays, Nina Emery and Ruth Osmun of Ashland.

Picnic Yesterday

The sunshine came out gloriously yesterday expressly to accommodate the members of the Presbyterian Sunday school who had planned that date for their annual picnic. While the scene appointed for the festivities was Helman's grove, it was thought by older heads to be too damp, so the picnic was transferred to the Lithia picnic grounds, and the change of location was every bit as delightful as the former place. A good sized company sat down to the tables filled with choice viands and the feast was enjoyed by young and old alike, while the children had a happy day on the playgrounds.

Newlyweds Visiting

Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Phillips of Medford are visiting relatives in Ashland for a few days, while on their wedding trip. This young couple were married in Medford September 4. The bride was formerly Miss Grace Kincheloe, a popular young woman of Medford and a graduate of the high school of that city. Mr. Phillips is a well known Ashland young man and ex-service man, having served with the Field Signal Corps of the 23rd Division. He is now located in Medford, where he conducts a repair shop and where they will reside.

C. E. Society Met

The Presbyterian Christian Epiphany Society held a business meeting at the manse Tuesday evening at which Walter Miksch was chosen president; John Hoyt, vice-president; Grace Leslie, secretary; Fred Koehler, treasurer. Reports of committee were read and plans made for the winter's work in the society. A Bible drill will be given at each Sunday evening meeting this fall, and a mission study book will be studied also.

Picnic Dinner

A picnic dinner was served in Lithia park last Wednesday at which Thomas Fuson of Medford was host. The affair was given in honor of Mr. Fuson's mother, Mrs. Mary E. Wood of this city, who expects to leave soon for Portland to spend the winter. Another honor guest was Gilbert Stuart, who is just home from France and is visiting in the valley.

Slumber Party

Slumber parties seem to be in vogue at the present time, despite the misnomer, as they apparently consist of everything but slumber. This week Miss Bernice Myer gave one of the popular events at her home on High street to the girls of this section who have been or are San Jose normal students. Wednesday night the company met at the Vining theater in a party, after which they adjourned to the Myer residence where refreshments were served. Beds were sought about midnight but not much slumber was obtained until a very late hour. The list con-

Pioneer Society Meets

Thursday in Ashland witnessed the annual reunion and dinner of the members of the Pioneer Society of Southern Oregon and their families, who gathered to the number of two hundred or more and thoroughly enjoyed the rare social features of the occasion. Chautauqua Pioneer hall was the scene of the gathering at which nearly all the pioneer families of the Rogue River valley from Jacksonville on the north to Ashland on the south were represented. A program of exercises at 11 o'clock included an invocation by Rev. Dr. Koehler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; vocal numbers by Mrs. Henry Provost, accompanied by Mrs. Nate B. Bates, and piano solos by Master George Francis Barron. This program included the reading of memorials of the following deceased pioneers: Ivan D. Applegate, John E. Grubb, Mary Ann Walker, Leander A. Neil and Mrs. Mary Shepherd.

The matter of a pioneer memorial cabin to be erected in Ashland park to preserve the historical records of this section was again discussed briefly and the committee appointed to work up the project reported progress.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were Miss Mollie Britt of Jacksonville, president, and Miss Alice Hanley of Medford, vice-president, succeeding Mrs. Alice A. Peil and Mrs. William Myer of Ashland, president and vice-president respectively for the past year.

The address of the day was given by Mr. Irving E. Vining, in the dining room, following the dinner, and Mr. Vining veritably outdid himself, not only in oratory and diction, but in the subject matter of the address, in the minds of those who heard him.

The dinner which was spread in the dining room on the first floor of Pioneer hall was prepared and served by the native sons and daughters of Ashland and was a veritable feast, prepared and served as only the pioneer families know how and the bounties of nature in this favored section provide.
