WEST MAY WIN A. A. U. GAMES

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—General revival of interest in sports is expected to make the national games of the Amateur Athletic Union on Franklin Field, now in progress here, the greatest in history.

Return of many star soldier athletes, whose absence "over there" made rather tame affairs of the meets during the past year should make a boomer of this year's revival. Class of the contests should likewise be put on a higher plane, due to the return of the soldiers who have been taking part in inter-army and Inter-Allied meets since the signing of the armistice.

Unless the east can bring out some excellent talent, the west is looked to be an easy winner in the national games. Outside of Pat McDonald, Pat Ryan and Matt McGrath, the New York police trio of weight stars, the east doesn't seem to have any entries that will trim the aggregation that the west will send from San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Spokane, Los Angeles, St. Louis, Kansas City and Salt Lake City.

The list of stars includes Ralph Spearow, Portland, who has cleared thirteen feet in the pole vault; Verne Winchagle, who, while a student at Cornell forced Ted Tack, who has a record of 181 feet with the javelin; Wallace Caderly, 48 3-5 seconds for the quarter; Floyd Payne, a five miler who has never been beaten; John Murphy, with a high jump of 6 feet 2 1/2 inches, and Henry Williams, who is credited with a mark of 9 4-5 seconds for the hundred.

The Los Angeles A. C. will be represented by the sensational sprinter, Charley Paddock, who won the 100 and 200 meter events at the Inter-Allied games; W. Yount, an all-around man in the hurdles, broad jump and hop-step-and-jump; Rick Templeton, second in the high jump, and Reg. Coughy, winner of the 16 pound shot put at the Inter-Allied games, will represent the Olympic club of San Francisco.

One of the strongest eastern teams will be sent from the Boston A. A. It will include Jimmy Connolly, Billy Meannix, Marc Wright, W. D. Hayes, Earl Thompson, Harold Narwise, Walter Whalen, J. W. Driscoll and L. H. Weld.

Commander Daniel Dow, the most famous figure in the transatlantic service of the Cunard line, has just retired after an adventurous career as a captain of ocean greyhounds almost unequaled in history.

Portland Flour Mill Men Go Out

(Special to The Tidings)

PORTLAND, Sept. 13.—Truckers, flour packers and wheat handlers employed in flouring mills of Portland, who went on strike Thursday, are still out. Demands for recognition of the union—said to be the first of its kind in existence—operation of plants under the closed shop plan and a higher scale of wages are the points contended for by employees, and these were denied by the millers in a statement made public last night.

Although many of the men employed on the day shifts left their places, mills were in operation yesterday and also last night. As three shifts are employed while large government contracts are being filled, the exact number of men involved is not determined until this morning. It is estimated, however, that 250 men are employed in the lines which the union would represent, but millers say all of these are not affiliated in the movement.

W. U. REPEATER STATION DIVIDES

Next Monday will see the Ashland repeater station of the Western Union Telegraph company discontinued, and new ones established at Redding, Calif., and Grants Pass. An increasing volume of business necessitates the installing of two stations instead of the one located here for over thirty years, this being the only repeater station between San Francisco and Portland.

By discontinuing the station Ashland will lose four families who have been identified with her interests for a number of years. These are the W. E. Newcombes, the J. M. Hindmans, the P. S. Moriartys and the S. E. Gunters. The first three will be located in Redding, while the Gunters will go to Grants Pass. The telegraph office will continue in Ashland in the same location and will be in charge of Charles A. Harris.

SLIPPERY ROADS HOLD UP STAGE

The Ashland-Klamath Falls stage went out as usual this morning after being held up for a day on account of the slippery roads over the mountains. The rains of Thursday made the mountain road dangerous going from this way, but C. H. Howard of the stage line stated this morning that a few hours' drying will render the roads in a fine condition, and he looks for a month of good roads yet.
