

REAL "SKY PILOT" LEADS IN AIR RACE

ASHLAND DAILY TIDINGS

REDS ARE CHAMPS

WIN TODAY'S GAME AND END SERIES

Cincinnati won today's game and the world's championship for 1919 by a final score of 10 to 5.

After coming from behind when even their staunchest supporters had abandoned hope, the Sox are today face to face with their big opportunity.

They must win today or see their game stand in hostile Redland go for naught.

On the other hand the game is also a crisis for the Reds.

Eller is recognized as the rock on which their hopes of the title rest. The Sox were acclaimed to the echo when they appeared on the field at 12:50. The Reds got a splatter of applause.

Cincinnati started scoring in the first when Rath popped out. Daubert singled, Groh singled and Rousch doubled, scoring Daubert. Then Duncan came through with a double, scoring Groh and Rousch.

James then relieved Williams, but the scoring was not ended, for Kopf walked and Rariden singled, scoring Duncan. A total of four runs.

In the second the Reds made another on Groh's single and Rousch's double.

Jackson, for Chicago, made a home run in the third, the first of the series. This, however, left the Reds on the long end of a five to one score at the end of the third.

The Cincy's picked up another in the fifth and in the sixth added three more, giving them the heavy end of a nine to one score at the beginning of the seventh.

At the end of the eighth the score stood 10 to 5 in favor of Cincinnati, the Reds getting one run over in this spasm while the Sox came back strong in their half with four runs on a series of hits and some wobbly fielding.

Unsettled weather is in prospect for the eighth game of the series, the weather bureau today announced. The rain, however, if it comes, will not be a steady downpour, the bureau added, and probably will not be sufficient to interfere with the game.

The embattled baseballers are back in Chicago and the world series has been raised from the slough of despond, into which it was forced by the Reds' early assault to the dignity of a real struggle for the title.

The Sox today enjoyed a different sort of homecoming. Last week they returned from their initial invasion of Redland twice beaten, their spirit near the breaking point and in disgrace.

It was a different crew which arrived this morning. The fighting edge has been renewed and the Sox are ready for the death impending struggle.

The old punch that carried them through the American League season has been resurrected. Cicotte has come back and the boys are hitting again.

The Reds, too, are in a fighting mood. Their overconfidence has melted away, and there is going to be a real battle when the teams take the field today.

It looks like Eller and Williams as the pitchers.

THE FINAL STRAW

SPOKANE, Oct. 9.—When Frank Lavigne brought his "affinity" disguised as a nurse to live with him as his wife, he added insult to injury, his real wife thought. She asks a divorce.

Both of the occupants were rescued and are being brought in.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The second day of the 5400 mile transcontinental aerial race opened with five of the 62 contestants eliminated through accidents.

Three mishaps resulted in the death of three aviators and injury to one. In addition to five planes which crashed, three are officially reported missing.

Forty-seven planes left New York for San Francisco and fifteen started from San Francisco for New York. The rules provide for a flight across the country and back, with thirty minute stops at each "control station," and no night flying.

Lieutenant Maynard, known as the "flying parson," the "sky pilot" who won the recent New York-Toronto air race, won the first day's honors.

He flew from New York to Chicago in 9 hours, 29 minutes.

The property damage is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars. Fifty residences were wrecked and a whole block of business establishments razed.

PARENT TEACHERS IN SESSION TODAY

Today seems to be convention day in Ashland. Not only is the state W. C. T. U. in session here, but the Mothers' Congress and Parent-Teachers' association that is holding a three days' convention in Medford this week are convening in the Auxiliary hall in this city, the guests of the Ashland Parent-Teachers' circles.

Through the courtesy of the Medford circle the visiting delegates were brought up to Ashland in automobiles and are holding the morning and afternoon sessions here. Auxiliary hall has been filled with an enthusiastic company of delegates and visiting women whose interest in the welfare of the children have brought them to these meetings, and have listened with great attention to most instructing talks by Miss Ava B. Milan, dean of the School Home Economics, O. A. C., who talked on "Maintenance of School Children."

A very familiar face greeted the women of Ashland at the morning session. This was Miss Allen, Jackson county's first county health nurse, who was cordially welcomed here again and who gave a splendid talk on the position of the county nurses throughout the state. Miss Pool, the county home demonstration agent, also explained her work in Jackson county. The visitors were taken to the Senior High school this noon where they were served a luncheon by the domestic science teacher and her class.

MAY STOP SHIPPING

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The entire waterfront was tied up today by an unauthorized strike of longshoremen. Government officials estimate that fifty thousand are out and it is intimated that an embargo on trans-Atlantic freight will be necessary if the strike continues.

Still Better

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—President Wilson spent one of the most comfortable nights he has yet had and is apparently improved, Secretary Tamm today announced.

The president's condition is improving slowly. Drs. Grayson and Stitt announced.

"While there is no material change in the president's condition, the slight improvement noted yesterday continues."

Red Cross Seals Sold This Year

Once more are the Red Cross Christmas Seals to adorn our holiday packages and letters. The sale of the seals which was omitted last year in deference to the Red Cross and its membership drive, will be resumed December 1 on a more comprehensive scale than ever before. Oregon's quota is $44,260.

Plans are under way for making the campaign as far reaching and of as much value as possible both from the education and financial standpoints. The state will be organized by counties and in the several that Mr. Dorris has already visited he has met with hearty and enthusiastic response.

A survey of the state shows that there are at all times 6500 open cases of tuberculosis in Oregon. Two hundred and twenty-four Oregon soldiers were discharged after being in the service less than three months, on account of tuberculosis and 300 were rejected by the local board. The association is now employing two special nurses who are devoting their entire time to the care of these disabled men. The names of the men visited were furnished to the Oregon association by the surgeon general.

A tremendous fight against tuberculosis is to be waged during the coming years by the state and national tuberculosis associations. The work of these organizations is financed chiefly by the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals. Of the proceeds from the Oregon sale 90 per cent will remain in Oregon.

COP'S ROUT RADICALS

(By the United Press) NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Police swinging their clubs freely routed several hundred radicals last night when the latter attempted to march up Fifth avenue in protest against the Russian blockade.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—Two strikers were shot and several injured when the state police charged a mob which attacked a negro workman at the plant of the American Steel and Wire company at Donora, near here.

CENSORSHIP ESTABLISHED

(By the United Press) GARY, Ind., Oct. 9.—Censorship of news of military activities in the Calumet steel strike zone, now under martial law, has been established by order of General Wood.

Dispatches regarding raids and arrests which the military authorities make must be submitted to Colonel Maples, General Wood ordered.

He said this step is taken to prevent radical agitators in other parts of the country from learning the moves the government takes to curb their activities.

Plan Conference On Child Welfare

YAKIMA, Wash., Oct. 9.—The program for the child welfare conference of the northwest, which opens a three day session here tomorrow, October 10, has been issued by Rev. J. S. Martin, superintendent of the Washington Children's Home Finding society for the Yakima district. Child welfare workers from this state, Oregon, Idaho, Utah and Montana will gather here. All sessions will be held in the First Methodist church.

Considerable time will be devoted to a discussion, "The Missing Link," which is understood to be some place between the home and the state training school at Chehalis.

Judge Harcourt M. Taylor of the Yakima county juvenile court has long been an advocate of the institution of a boys' farm, where such lads could be sent and it is understood that Dr. G. A. Sheafe, now superintendent of the Washington state home society, will advocate its establishment in the Yakima valley instead of waiting indefinitely for the state to provide such a place.

S. M. Gilbert will preside at the opening conference. The closing meeting on Sunday evening will be a great rally, at which Dr. G. W. McLaren of Oregon will speak on "Washington's Delinquent and Near-Delinquent Girls."

Among Yakima speakers on the program are Mrs. C. A. Varney, state president of the Washington Parent Teacher's association, Mrs. J. D. Nichols, county superintendent of schools, and Dr. C. E. Keeler.

Want Handy Wife? Well, Here She Is!

LONDON. — (By Mail.)—If you want a complete wife come to England.

She can be supplied with or without frills, according to taste. But she'll be efficient.

The English girl is not so satisfied with herself as she used to be. Competition begot by the war has shown her that she lacked many accomplishments. So now she's going back to school. She's determined to know all the things a wife should know.

The idea originated with the Khaki college which was established to train the future wives of Canadian soldiers in the wider knowledge of domestic science demanded by life overseas. The girls made themselves so efficient that the Canadian soldiers had everybody envying them, and now the rest of the English girls are following suit.

Schools are being opened to train girls in the special branches of domestic work necessitated by the calling of their future husbands. The curriculum includes:

Dairying, care of poultry, gardening, beekeeping, house upholstery, first aid, infant care, dressmaking, embroidery, home nursing, boot repairing, house planning, physiology, tailoring, entertaining, conversing, music, taste in dress.

In addition they will be taught to do all those unexpected odd jobs which crop up in a household. They will know what to do if the electric light fuses blow out. They will know the remedy for frozen water pipes.

HIT AT BANKERS

(By the United Press) OAKLAND, Oct. 9.—"Strikers do not intend to arm themselves; we are going to the matter along different lines," said Secretary Spooner of the Central Labor Council, refuting a statement before the city council yesterday when it was said members of the Labor Council would arm themselves if the police continued to club strike sympathizers.

Spooner intimated that the "different lines" would be an attempt to get aid from the Carmen's International.

He said the Labor Council had decided to urge all affiliated with the council to withdraw their deposits from all banks except the Bank of Italy, and added that 65 labor organizations and their members will do this.

PUMPKINS ON PEACH TREE.

COTTAGE GROVE—George Teeters evidently had heard of the famous hanging gardens and is trying to copy them. Because he did not have room in his garden for a pumpkin vine, he has trained it up over trelliswork and into a peach tree. It now has three pumpkins of good size hanging from it. His neighbors are betting that the vine will not be able to hold the pumpkins up, while he is betting that it will.

Mr. Teeters is raising three crops this year from his garden. The first two were of rye and the third is of garden truck. In the ground he planted radishes on for his third crop he now has a fourth crop of winter cabbages.

MAY CALL TROOPS

OAKLAND, Oct. 9.—With crowds of strike sympathizers here openly defying the police, and with riots becoming more and more frequent, a call for troops is predicted.

WANT HANDY WIFE?

LONDON. — (By Mail.)—If you want a complete wife come to England.

GOMPERS PROPOSES TO ARBITRATE

(Special to The Tidings) WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Oct. 9.—Immediate arbitration of the steel strike was proposed to the industrial conference today by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor. He suggested that the conference appoint an arbitration board to mediate the strike, and the strikers return to work pending a settlement.

Under Gompers' plan each group in the conference would name representatives to compose the board.

The proposals of the labor group include:

The fight to organize and bargain collectively.

The rights of "freedom of speech, of the press, and of assemblage."

The rights of employers to organize into associations to bargain collectively.

That the eight hour day, one day of rest in seven and the "Saturday half holiday be encouraged."

Overtime to be discouraged, but when necessary to be paid at the rate of time and one-half.

Equal pay for women for equal work.

Prohibition of immigration for two years after peace is ratified, and regulation thereafter to keep down the flow so it shall not "exceed the nation's ability to assimilate and Americanize" the newcomers.

The "public" group presented a resolution providing for a national arbitration board to be appointed jointly by congress and the president, and including all ex-presidents.

Secretary of Labor Wilson's plan for a labor readjustment board in each industry was presented.

The resolution which the public group presented provides that employers shall recognize the right to organize.

A report that the employers group would not be ready to present any proposals before tomorrow caused Gompers to protest. He said the committee of fifteen could not act intelligently until the views of all groups were before it.

Members of the employers group declared that the rules were responsible for the delay.

A. A. Landon, a member of the public group proposed a three months' national labor truce, immediately terminating all strikes and lockouts.

WEATHER FORECAST

For Oregon—Rain west, fair east.

KING WILL RATIFY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Ratification of the peace treaty by King George is imminent, it is stated here, inasmuch as notice of ratification has been received from all the British dominions.
