ROOSTER STOPS WILD VOLCANO

(By the United Press)

HILO, Island of Hawaii, (By Mail.)—Owners of coal black game cocks are keeping out an eye to see that the chicken house door is locked securely every night.

And that's all because the volcano of Kilauea is now the most active it has been for 35 years.

Six months ago Kilauea was sputtering away in its mile wide bowl of burning, molten rock, with the level of the flaming crimson sea of boiling lava 900 feet from the top of the crater.

The night that Secretary of the Navy Daniels and his party paid Kilauea a visit—the latter part of August—the level of the seething lava lake was about 50 feet below the crater's top.

Several overflows already have occurred. A cone which once jutted 500 feet above the crater's top has melted away into the sea of fire. Two hours after the secretary and his party left the volcano the rock wall between the main crater and a second

SOAP APLENTY IN BERLIN.

BERLIN—(By Mail)—It is now possible in Berlin to buy a cake of soap without mortgaging the old homestead, without a birth certificate, a voucher of good character, or a "stand-in" with the authorities. Formerly, soap was so scarce and so under government control that the ordinary mortal had to content himself with a substitute for soap much akin to lye.

Now fat supplies have arrived from the outside world and the government has decided that soap can be sold without ration tickets. At the same time, it is removing restrictions on shoe rationing.

smaller one, caved in, joining the craters.

And Kilauea still is going strong. As to the connection of all this with coal black game cocks? Oh, that's very simple.

Many years ago, when the islands first were becoming a white man's land, Kilauea became angry. It roared and hissed and sputtered and the ground shook. Then the lava overflowed and moved slowly down the mountain side toward Hilu.

The native Hawaiians had been Christians but a comparatively short time. Their fright knew no bounds, for the island legends were full of tales of what Kilauea did when Madame Pele, the goddess who lived in Kilauea's crater, became angry.

So the Hawaiians prayed that the flow would stop. But it didn't.

Then they danced. But that was ineffective.

Finally, forgetting their Christianity for a time, they sent a party by canoe to Honolulu to consult a few remaining priests of the days when they all worshipped the strange South sea deities.

"Throw a black rooster into the lava flow," was the advice they brought back.

The sleekest, shiniest cock on the island of Hawaii was picked for the sacrifice, and while the maidens danced, the warriors cast the squawking bird into the base of the lava flow.

In an hour the flow had stopped. Madame Pele, the most feared goddess of the island, evidently had been satisfied with a chicken dinner.

American residents of the island believe that if there is ever another big lava flow, coal black roosters will come into demand once more.

THE UNDERFERD CHILD

Children require a foundation of good health, made by adequate nourishment, but many of them in this country are not laying this foundation. The United States department of agriculture is assisting the various agencies working to correct this condition. Undernourishment is not confined to the slums. Many a little Tony or Pietro, with his bowl of thick soup and hunk of dry bread, topped off with an apple or an orange, is better fed than numbers of children in well-to-do families. The latter are too often allowed to choose what they will or will not eat, and to select food badly suited to a child's stomach or that is lacking in nourishment. When this happens they are being starved just as much as if their parents, because of poverty, were obliged to give them too scanty a ration. Soggy breads, fried meats, fried potatoes, and heavy pie are responsible for many underfed children.

Milk is absolutely necessary to keep the growing child in health. It contains growth-producing substances not found in any other food. The dairy division of the department of agriculture is endeavoring to drive this lesson home to the people in every state by means of charts, lectures, and exhibits. The home-demonstration agents, supervised by the department of agriculture and state colleges, are also teaching the value of milk in a child's diet and how to select a proper meal for a growing boy or girl. Children who have been given even one pint of milk every school day for two months have made remarkable gains in every instance.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

N C Four Driven BY FORD MOTORS

"Engines functioned perfectly," said Lieutenant Commander Read, who commanded big seaplane.

The Ford Motor Company has just received official advice from the Navy Department that it was four Ford Liebrty Motors—all built in the Ford Motor Company's shops at Detroit—which furnished the power that drove the NC Four to victory in its recent record breaking flight across the Atlantic from Trespassy, Newfoundland to Plymouth, England, a distance of 4,000 miles. They were regular stock motors built during the war as a part of the Ford Liberty Motor production.

Upon his arrival in Lisbon, Portugal, Lieutenant Commander Read said, "The engines functioned perfectly all the way from America to Portugal." And American Naval Officers who thoroughly inspected the NC Four upon its arrival at Plymouth, England, stated that the big seaplane was in even better condition than when it left America.

The NC Four flight, which has meant a triumph for American engineering skill, also adds another record to Ford achievement.
