OIL PROSPECTS NEAR ASHLAND
The organization of the Trizonia Oil and Gas company, with the earnest purpose of proceeding in an energetic and business-like manner to prove the correctness of the united opinion of several geologists having practical experience in the many oil fields of America, to the effect that adjacent to Ashland, and extending northeasterly, there exists extensive oil fields, is a movement that vitally interests every progressive resident of Ashland and vicinity.

Expert Methods
The present-day oil cruiser, upon examining a prospective field, first ascertains the geological conditions as to formation, stratification and upheaval. If he finds these favorable for the existence of oil he then examines the surface to ascertain what, if any, indications exist pointing to the presence of oil within a reasonable depth beneath the surface.

Local Geological Conditions
In a report made by the United States geological survey the following statement is made:
"In the Rogue River valley, west of the Cascade mountains, beds of the upper cretaceous age occur, following generally the mountains, and resting on the older metamorphic slates and crystalline rocks. The strata consist, for the most part, of sandstone and conglomerates with a subordinate amount of shales." The California oil fields, which occur both on the east side of the Coast range and the west side of the Sierra Nevada's are in a geological formation identical with those existing here as described by the above United States report.

Surface Indications
The geological conditions being favorable, the surface showings form strong, corroborative evidence. These consist in clearly defined anticlines, traceable on the surface; there are folds in the upheaval in which are found oil pools. In these anticlines are found outcroppings of sands and shales showing the presence of paraffine and asphalt, the associates of petroleum and at several points, along the trend of these anticlines, oil seepages have been found which almost excludes doubt as to the presence of oil at depth.

Many residents of Ashland are familiar with the fact that in the hills adjacent to the city there are outcroppings of solid asphaltum a foot in thickness.
Mr. Josey's Report
During the past summer and fall the Rogue river prospective oil fields have been examined by several geologists and oil experts, among them being H. L. Josey, of California, and they are a unit in the opinion that oil exists here. Mr. Josey's report stating that the surface showings are equal in promise to those existing in the Tampico field, the greatest oil center of Mexico.
The presence of these favorable conditions warrant the expenditure of the moderate sum, compared to the tremendous results that would follow the discovery of oil, in the endeavor to "bring in," as the colloquial phrase expresses it, a pay oil well and it is the earnest hope of all citizens that success will follow the effort.

Has All-Star Cast
Seldom has a cast of such uniform excellence been assembled as that which supports Robert Warwick in his latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, "Told in the Hills," to be shown at the Vine theater Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Warwick's leading woman is Ann Little, famous as the heroine of many of the William S. Hart pictures. Wanda Hawley, who has supported several Paramount-Artcraft stars, including Wallace Reid, and Eileen Percy, leading woman for Douglas Fairbanks, are cast in important roles. The male support is equally meritorious. Tom Forman, who recently returned from service and played in Cecil B. de Mille's "For Better, For Worse," has the part of the star's younger brother. Charles Ogle, Margaret Loomis, Monte Blue, Hart Hoxie, and Jack Herbert, maintain the high standard.

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS
Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleaned and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.
For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weaknesses and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is enclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.
Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand, in sealed packages.
