CLEVELAND, March 29.—It is estimated that from fifteen to twenty-five are dead and a hundred injured by the terrific storm sweeping the western edge of Ohio Sunday and late into the night. Several small villages are reported in ruins.

ATLANTA, March 29.—Early reports today indicate at least sixty were killed and hundreds injured, thousands made homeless and millions of dollars worth of property was destroyed by a series of tornadoes in portions of Georgia and Alabama yesterday, and last night. A message from LaGrange, Ga., stated the death list is far greater than indicated by earlier reports. The first reports stated forty were killed.

LA GRANGE, Ga., March 29.—Relief workers are caring for three hundred families today, made homeless by the tornado. Appeals are sent to the suffraging cities for food and clothing to care for the living, and coffins in which to bury the dead. Every home and building left undamaged by the storm is being used as a temporary hospital. It is believed the list of dead will be increased when wire communication is restored with the outlying towns. The Indiana situation is in doubt, due to a confluence of reports of the large loss of life in isolated villages.

(By United Press) SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Mrs. Agnes Hunter, the divorced wife of William Hunter, a wealthy Los Angeles and Texas oil man, went on trial today charged with assault to commit murder. BIG LOSS BY FIRE

(By United Press) CHEHALIS, Wash., March 29.—The Coal Creek Lumber company plant was set on fire early this morning. The mill proper and dry kilns are totally destroyed. The loss is $175,000.

The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin. The mill fire hose was cut and the water hydrants around the edge of the mill found open, thus destroying the pressure.

KLAMATH FALLS.—One orchard near Orland, Calif., may have furnished all the olives alleged to have caused numerous deaths from botulism during the recent outbreak in the middle west, says Dr. J. G. Geiger of Washington, D. C., United States health bureau expert. Dr. Geiger is here investigating the deaths of 12 hens which ate some canned beans thrown out by Mrs. Swan Johnson because of suspicious appearance.

The deadly olives were of the 1917 pack, said Dr. Geiger, and he feels sure he has traced them all to one source. He said the ranch was owned by a San Francisco man, but did not reveal his name.

The public health service is working night and day, he said, to determine the cause and remedy for botulism, but efforts so far have met small success. Personally he is working on an entirely new theory that hogs are carriers of the disease, he has established a number of facts in support of his conclusion and expects to have proof to convince the medical world before his Pacific coast trip closes.

SALEM.—Whether the estate of the late Judge Bernard Daly, of Lakeview, is subject to the inheritance tax of the state is a question now pending with Attorney General Brown, who will not pass on the question until briefs are submitted by the Attorneys for the estate. The escape of the convicts was not discovered until about noon. Officials believe the men will abandon the automobile soon and take to the hills.

CAMPS WILL RAISE BOARD

Other logging camps are expected to follow the example of the Buehner Lumber company in raising the price of board on April 1 from 35 cents a meal to 50 cents. A circular letter by the Buehner company declares the operators cannot furnish board at 35 cents and therefore are unable to put an increase into effect.

Communist Move Complete Collapse

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.) LONDON, March 29.—The complete collapse of the communist movement in German Westphalia is forecast in dispatches received here today. The Red army which has been holding the line along the River Lippe between Wesel and Haltern, collapsed Saturday and is reported in a disorderly retreat.

The central workers' council at Essen decided Saturday night to ask for an armistice, a dispatch to the Times said. The decision came only after a long debate in which military leaders outlined the defeat of their men. An uprising in Westphalia has collapsed, said a dispatch to the Chronicle from army headquarters by way of Essen. The situation is still serious, however, the dispatch said. Thousands of armed workers are bitterly disillusioned by their leaders, it is reported, and have scattered throughout the countryside. Food is almost unobtainable, it is reported.
