CHEERFULNESS
Cheerfulness will help you do more and better work, as well as having more fun and better friends; and be better all around.

UNDESIRABLE CITIZENS
If all the men of Ashland were as active in constructive community movement as some of them are in obstructive movement in five years "old timers" would need to hire a guide to conduct them through the old town, it would have grown and changed so.

There are two kinds of obstructionists. The first is a man who has never had any part in large undertakings and quakes at the thought of development that costs a large sum of money. He has not been used to spending a million dollars to make two million and the thought of it frightens him.

The second is a baser kind and needs no sympathy or tolerance. What he does he does because he is short visioned not only but stingy. He is ready to break his neck any day to obstruct a movement if he thinks it will cost him a dollar.

gins to fight like a son-of-a-gun to down it. According to his account everybody who favors the movement is a "grater." To make his argument appear stronger he admits a need along the line, but says that it should be done in an entirely different way. The wrong men are at the head of it—the city is too small to stand the strain—the thing is all right, but its cost will bankrupt the town—and so he rambles on with plausible argument until the movement is defeated. Then he forgets that he said he thought it should be put forward in a modified or different form, by different men, and lays down satisfied because he has blocked it. Such an one is entitled to no respect or consideration. His activity is directed by selfishness and his methods are dishonest. Such men have ruined many a good chance for community advancement. They never propose any movement that will cost a dollar for fear they will be caught in the mesh by the soliciting committee.

Ashland has a number of such and they are known by name. They need a public trouncing. Every citizen should know exactly where they stand so that their activities "against" everything beneficial may be known and roundly ignored. The sad part of it is that they are allowed to obstruct for years and still hold the confidence and respect of the community. They should be exposed.
