ASHLAND BOY KILLED AT CAMP LEWIS

FIRST PROGRAM OF CHAUTAUQUA UNUSUALLY FINE

TREMOR DANGER PASSES

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, July 17.—After passing a nervous night, but not disturbed by additional earthquakes, Los Angeles today felt considerably reassured. Stores which closed during the late afternoon yesterday, and others which gave their employees the option of going home if they chose, opened today and business swung back to normal.
A survey of the damage done fails to reveal a single instance of serious nature. Last night family prayers were said in houses where Bibles and prayers are seldom thought of.

MARSHFIELD ROAD BEGUN

MARSHFIELD, Ore., July 17.—The Scandia Shipbuilding company, successful bidders for the two and three-tenths miles of concrete paving on the Marshfield-Coquille state highway work, is gathering material and forces to start the grading of 3,000 yards at once and expects to commence laying concrete by July 20. The company has just completed several street concrete paving jobs in Marshfield and North Bend.
Manager A. E. Skogsberg says the company will finish the job by September 15 if rains do not interfere, as the materials will be supplied without interruption.

Gold Hill Man Loses Citizenship

FORTLAND, July 17.—Because he is said to have made remarks against the United States government and to have openly declared his allegiance to Germany and the former kaiser during the war, Martin Erlwein, citizen of the United States since 1908 and rancher of Gold Hill, Ore., submitted to cancellation of his citizenship papers in Federal Judge Egan's court. Erlwein's papers were cancelled on request of L. W. Humphreys, United States attorney.
It was alleged that at the outbreak of the war Erlwein notified the German consul of his willingness to enlist in the German army, but on being refused returned to his Gold Hill ranch. It is also reported that when the United States entered the struggle Erlwein confided to Gold Hill neighbors that he would rather kill himself than bear arms against Germany and that had he known that America was to become a belligerent he never would have taken out citizenship papers.
The papers were canceled when Erlwein failed to appear and answer charges filed against him by the United States attorney's office several months ago. The decree granted yesterday was by default.

ODDS FAVOR RESOLUTE

NEW YORK, July 17.—The American defender Resolute is the six-five favorite in betting in the financial district over the Shamrock today. The odds are applied to both series of today's races.

The twenty-eighth annual session of the Southern Oregon Chautauqua started last evening with an exceedingly fine program and a very poor patronage of Ashland and valley residents. While hopes are entertained that the people of Ashland will rally to the support of the association and attend during the coming days, the management feels dubious as to the financial showing at the close of the week's sessions. Opening the session last night was the prelude by Madame Arloine Scutti, a remarkable contralto singer who is spending the summer in Medford. Madame Scutti has a charming and sympathetic voice, and was most gracious in her presentations and responded readily to the encores given her.
Julius Caesar Naypbe, a Greek entertainer, presented "The Oriental Pageant," a descriptive lecture of the life and customs of the Near East. Accompanying him on the stage was a group of young women in the gorgeous costumes of the Orient, illustrating in a fascinating and entertaining manner the interesting points of his lecture. This young man is a student of theology in one of the eastern seminaries, and is spending the summer in this manner. His lecture was an attractive expose of the lives and customs of our neighbors in the Orient, of which we know so little.
This afternoon's program includes musical numbers by the picturesque Alaskan Duo, and a lecture by Carlton Chamberlayne on the subject, "Tomorrow." This evening will be the great lecture by E. B. Fish, who will present the subject, "The Cure for Social Unrest." This will be preceded by a concert by the Alaskan Duo. Both these programs are of unusual merit and are worthy of a large patronage. It is to be hoped that the people of the valley will respond to the coming sessions of the Chautauqua and give a patronage worthy of the merits of the event.
Tonight—E. B. Fish, in "Fighting the Reds." It's a live one.
Sunday Morning at Chautauqua
Music by chorus under direction of Professor Leland A. Coon of the University of Oregon.
Mrs. H. T. Elmore, soloist.
Sermon by William Wallace Youngson of Portland.

The Sunday Chautauqua Program
A big day of music. Raul Perira, noted violinist and composer, with a splendid combination of string instruments and an exceptionally fine pianist.
Mary Adel Hays, the prima donna soprano, and Captain Arthur Kachel, who gives the "Music Master" in the afternoon; altogether the finest Sunday program we have ever had in Ashland.
M. C. Reed, who is now in the state of Washington directing for Ellison & White, in a letter to J. H. Fuller says: Captain Kachel, who is now on the circuit, gives the "Music Master" in a masterly way. A regular "Whitney" on the platform—you remember Whitney last year? Captain Kachel will appear on Sunday afternoon with Raul Perira and his string quintet. In the evening Mary Adel Hays, the prima donna soprano, will be the leading attraction with Mr. Pereira and the string quintet.
Monday, the Royal Welsh Lady Singers, and Judge Geo. D. Alden.

BUREAU PREPARES REPORTS

(By Ralph F. Couch
U. P. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 17.—Approximately three and one-half million workers were affected by labor troubles, strikes and lockouts in the United States during the government's fiscal year which ended June 30, it was officially estimated on the basis of reports now being prepared for the conciliation bureau of the department of labor. The reports show the bureau is asked to mediate a total of eight hundred cases, involving approximately one million, fifty-five thousand workers, or about half the number involved during the year, it is estimated. The estimate indicates the workers have lost roughly $175,000,000 in wages. The loss to employers would be about $700,000,000 in value of the production curtailed.

JAP PICTURE BRIDES STILL ARRIVING

(By United Press)
ANGEL ISLAND, Calif., July 17.—More than 19,000 picture brides have entered the United States, the congressional committee on immigration learned today while examining passports.
Pretty Yayashina Tana, aged 17, was today examined. She told the committee she had seen her husband only once when he was in Japan. She had not seen him since her marriage. On her passport was the notation, "Picture Bride, marriage 1918."
Nine other picture brides were questioned. Five said they had never seen their husbands and know little, if anything, about them. Joaquin Silva, a Mexican, told the committee it is very easy to get into the United States from Mexico without a passport. He said he merely walked across the bridge at El Paso. He was with another Mexican, and neither was stopped. He declared a lot of Mexicans go back and forth without passports, lured by higher wages on the American side.

GERMANS GIVE IN AND SIGN

(By United Press)
SPA, July 17.—The departure of the allied and German delegates today marks the termination of the most momentous conference since signing the Versailles treaty. The signing of the allied ultimatum, calling for the delivery of two million tons of coal monthly occurred last night. The German delegation pressed their plea for a modification of the coal demands up to the moment of signing. They insisted the threat of the occupation of the Ruhr district was not in accordance, with the terms of the peace treaty.

The cabinet is fifteen miles outside of Peking, ready for flight if necessary. No estimate has been made of the casualties. The fighting at times has been desperate and a protracted northern war is feared.

Will Inquire Into Cause of Explosion

(By United Press)
TACOMA, July 17.—Searching inquiry will be made into the cause of the explosion of the six-inch field piece on the Camp Lewis artillery range late yesterday, which caused the death of three Oregon national guardsmen, and in fact, as the preliminary investigation revealed, there was no medical officers on the range during the target practice, that some time elapsed after the accident before physicians arrived from the base hospital, several miles distant.

RALPH FRALEY ONE OF THREE DEAD FROM GUN EXPLODING; 3 INJURED

Ralph Fraley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fraley, a member of B company, National Guard, was killed yesterday afternoon by the bursting of a gun at Camp Lewis during the annual encampment which is being held there this week. The Tidings was apprised last evening of the accident by a telegram from Lieutenant L. D. Mowat, who is with the Ashland company at Camp Lewis: "TACOMA, Wash., July 16.—Ralph Fraley was killed at 3 p. m. today when a 155 mm. gun manned by the Marshfield company, burst. A flying fragment struck Fraley who was standing 200 feet away near the gun manned by the Ashland company. Fragments of metal struck the back of his neck and death was practically instantaneous. No other members of the Ashland company were injured.
"The Marshfield company lost two men killed, Corporal Edwin Scott and Corporal Clyde Dinninger. Three men from other companies were injured but not seriously. Fraley was the only Ashland man hit and all the others escaped without injury.
"Governor Olcott and party, which included several women, had watched the gun which burst five a shot a few minutes previous, but fortunately had departed. The governor when interviewed expressed deepest regrets and extends sympathy to the relatives of Fraley.
Captain W. M. Briggs also sent a telegram last night to Rev. C. A. Edwards of this city apprising him of the accident and asking him to notify the parents of the young man. He also stated he would wire further information regarding the conveyance of the body to his home in Ashland. Mr. Edwards broke the sad news to the bereaved parents, to whom the sympathy of the entire city is extended.

Ralph Fraley was the youngest of Mr. and Mrs. Fraley's four boys, all of whom served their country during the world war. Ralph was among the first of the boys to go out from Ashland, and enlisted with the old First company when they were sent to Fort Stevens in 1917. He later went over to France with the 69th regiment and was in that country in the army for six months. After being discharged from service he had been working with his father, Street Commissioner C. W. Fraley. With B company Ralph left nearly two weeks ago for Camp Lewis to attend the annual encampment of the Oregon National Guard. Only a few days remain of what was to be the boys' a pleasurable vacation, but which has been darkened by this frightful tragedy that has befallen one of their comrades.
A message was received in Ashland today at about 2 o'clock from First Sergeant H. T. Elmore stating that a detail with the body of the unfortunate young man will arrive here tomorrow morning. Sergeant Elmore will be one who will bring the body home. It is expected that funeral services will be postponed until the Ashland company arrives home, when a military funeral will be held. Earl J. Fraley, a brother of the unfortunate young man who was killed, is with the encampment at Camp Lewis.

JAPS EVADE BRIDE BAN

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 17.—Charges that the Japanese were preparing to continue in other forms the "picture bride" practice of bringing women into this country, which the Japanese government recently abolished, were made before the house immigration and naturalization committee this week by V. S. McClatchy, publisher of the Sacramento "Bee."
One of these new forms, Mr. McClatchy said, was that of bringing "yoshi" or adopted children who later could divorce their parents here. This made possible, he declared, a "yoshi" becoming the "picture bride" of her adopted and divorced father.
Japanese land holdings in California last year was 427,029 acres, according to figures to the Japanese Agricultural association of California, an increase of 400 per cent in 10 years, he said, while the value of the crops in 1919 was $67,000,000, against $6,000,000 ten years ago. The crop figures were taken from the state board of control report on Japanese immigration questions, Mr. McClatchy said.
Everything was done to get Japanese picture brides into this country in the three months before February 25, when the emperor abolished the practice, Mr. McClatchy asserted. He quoted the publisher of the Daily News, a Japanese language newspaper of Sacramento, as accusing the Japanese consul-general in San Francisco of having attempted to obtain extension of the time limit before discontinuance of the practice, and also of proposing substitute plans.
As many as 65 Japanese women have come from the far east on one ship since February 25, Mr. McClatchy said, while Representative Baker of California, a member of the committee, added that the immigration officials at San Francisco had furnished him with a photograph of 129 who arrived at one time.

Yacht's "Big Day" Has Come at Last

(By United Press)
ABOARD THE GOLDSBOROUGH, July 17.—The Resolute led the Shamrock nearly a mile at the end of the first leg of their second race. The Shamrock was practically becalmed by a change of wind.
ABOARD DESTROYER GOLDSBOROUGH, July 17.—After being held up for more than an hour due to lack of wind, the Shamrock and Resolute crossed the starting line shortly before 2 o'clock today.
Both vessels slipped over the line close hauled on the starboard tack. The Shamrock was only nine seconds behind the Defender. The Shamrock tried to kill the Resolute's wind at the start, but Captain Adams slipped away each time by bearing off.
Twenty minutes after the start both racers were holding a starboard tack, with the Resolute to the windward, and the Shamrock a trifle ahead, but unable to cross the Resolute's bow. The Resolute increased her windward advantage to the third mile. The Shamrock continually sagged off to leeward, in order to outfoot the defender, but although she forged ahead, was somewhat too far to leeward to profit by it.
The Resolute was leading at 2:25 o'clock by a quarter of a mile to windward, but somewhat astern of the Shamrock.
A few minutes after 3 the Resolute went about on port tack and the Shamrock followed immediately. The wind, which had been steady and uncertain, increased to five knots an hour, and looked as though the race would be completed today, although the finishing will be very late.
The Resolute was nearly a mile ahead as the racers headed for the mark. Shortly before the three steam yachts headed for the mark to give the racers their course, the wind had increased to six knots. At 3:32 the two racers split their tacks, the Shamrock going to starboard, and the Resolute to port, with the mark about four miles off. At 3:50 the range finders showed the Resolute 400 yards ahead to windward.

The Shamrock gained as they approached the mark, less than 200 yards behind, but still to leeward at 4 o'clock. The wind dropped back to five knots and again threatening the incomplete race. The Shamrock was gaining rapidly at 4:10, then only 100 yards under the Resolute's lee.

(By United Press)

Expressmen Want Raise

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, July 17.—The United States railway labor board will begin hearing the demands of 70,000 railway express employes for increased wages July 27, it was announced today. The workers want a boost of 20 cents an hour.

Americans Victors Over British Pair

(By United Press)
LONDON, July 17.—The American tennis players today dominated England from the Davis cup race when Tilden and Johnston defeated Kingscott and Parke, the British pair, in doubles at Wimbledon. This victory makes it certain the Americans will play the Australian title holders for the cup.
Tilden and Johnston won after a bitter battle. The Americans took the first set, 8-6, but Parke and Kingscott rallied, and took the next two sets after a hard fight. They weakened after their rally and Americans won the two succeeding sets by decisive scores.
