WASHINGTON, July 19-Of 10 Oregon counties for which the 1920 population figures have been announced by the census bureau all but two showed gains over 1910. The two showing decreases are Crook and Harney.

The figures as to Crook county need some explanation because since the census of 10 years ago was taken Deschutes county has been carved out of Crook county, taking away a population of several thousand. If any figures were available for the area embraced in the present Crook county it is certain that a healthy gain would be shown. In all of the territory included in the Crook county of 1910 the gain is known to be something near 6000 or
