Tourists stopping at the Columbia hotel are Mr. and Mrs. William Morley, F. A. Morley and J. P. Muhlall.

Captain O. C. Applegate and family of Klamath Falls are Ashland guests this week.

A letter of the alphabet is a small affair, but it makes a deal of difference in the meaning of an expression. When The Tidings chronicled the happenings at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon it stated in the writeup these luncheons would "now be established during the fall and winter." In the setting of the article the letter "l" took the place of "w." Only the difference of one small letter, but it conveyed an idea that this luncheon which was so successfully carried out and met with such hearty favor by the recipients would not be repeated in the future. On the contrary these luncheons are expected to be given with frequency from now on.

Mrs. Butterfield left this morning for Portland to visit with a sister for several weeks.

Mrs. C. W. Winne left last night on train 16 for Michigan to visit for a month or so with relatives and friends.

Ralph and Prof. Irving E. Vining, who have been in from the Lake of the Woods for the past day or so, started back to their summer homes this morning.

Rev. J. W. Hoyt is in Lake county this week on Sunday school missionary work.

Lloyd Carrick and Miss Annabel Taylor, who will be in Ashland the last of the week to attend the Christian Endeavor rally today and Sunday, will go on to San Anselmo to enter the theological seminary for training in Christian service.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter have sold their home in Ashland and with their daughter expect to leave soon for San Jose, Calif. The change to a lower altitude is made for Mrs. Carpenter's health. Miss Bessie will enter her senior year at the Normal school in that place. Many Ashland friends regret to lose these splendid citizens from our town.

DRY NOMINEE'S CAMPAIGN FROM WASHTUB ON BACK PORCH

Aaron S. Watkins, of Germantown, O., Prohibition candidate for president, goes Senator Harding one better, in conducting his dry campaign. He is running for office from over the washtub on his back porch. Watkins, professor in a military college, has long done the family wash every Monday morn—and he is staying on the job despite his nomination to lead the dry ticket, as these new pictures show. He is a Methodist Episcopal minister, twice vice presidential candidate and once candidate for the governorship of Ohio.

Bishop Charles Edward Locke, former pastor of a Methodist church in Los Angeles, will pass through Ashland tonight on his way to Portland to preach tomorrow. A number of his friends will greet him at the station while the train stops here. Bishop Locke will leave shortly for Manila, where he will serve as resident bishop.

A remarkably light vote was reported at noon today at the polls where the citizens of Ashland are voting on bonding the city to develop Ashland creek for an increased water supply. This afternoon, it is supposed, will see a larger number responding.

The Tidings is in receipt of two handsome boxes of strawberries of the Progressive Everbearing variety from the Chamberlain-Palmer ranch southeast of Ashland. These berries are of a wonderful size and flavor and afford a remarkable yield for this time of year. The Tidings force is especially fond of strawberries, and fully appreciates this dainty attention from the hands of the donors.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church participated in a watermelon feed held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Weren last Friday evening. The merry Leaguers were taken up in cars and entertained by means of games and singing. After which they adjourned to the lawn where the "big feed" of luscious melons from Scott's field near Talent, awaited them. About thirty were present, and, needless to say, all had an enjoyable evening.

The Pioneers of Jackson county will hold their annual reunion at Jacksonville the first Thursday in October, and will be in the form of a basket picnic. Mrs. H. H. Sargent of Jacksonville will be the speaker of the day.

That delightful class of young women known as Mrs. Wicks' Bible class, were entertained in a charming way Thursday evening in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Will Moor and Miss Nellie Ross being hostesses. Most of the class members were present and a goodly number of the new school teachers. Ice cream, cake and coffee topped off the pleasant evening's entertainment.

Mount Ashland Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met at the Lithia fountain in the park yesterday afternoon in the first stated meeting of the season. As that was the anniversary of the legal adoption of the constitution of the United States, a program was given in observance of the event. Mrs. Littlechild read a paper on the forming of the constitution and its adoption, while Miss Grace H. Chamberlain gave a talk on the literary productions during the revolutionary period. The elec-

Members of the Senior high school faculty entertained the other teachers, together with the school directors and their wives, at a picnic supper held in the park last evening. The company gathered after school hours and spent a delightful period with games, when they put away their official dignity and played football with as much enthusiasm and energy as the youth under their instruction during the day. KNOW YOUR TOWN

We're proud of our town and county. It is a humming business center and a natural trading spot for a very much larger population. It is the normal nerve center for a wide and rich farming country—and it is fast adding to its importance as an industrial community.

Our stores, shops and business organizations are equipped with all that is necessary to the best service—but telling you about the advantages that are here isn't quite getting it across. You'll never know how good this community of ours is until you study its growth and development, week after week—fifty-two weeks in the year. There is only one correct way to do that. It is to read the news, editorial and advertising columns of the town's leading newspapers—THIS NEWSPAPER. Every week in the year this newspaper places at your door interesting, instructive and profitable information—news both in editorial and advertising columns which can mean DOLLARS AND CENTS to you. And all for less than 3 cents per week. It's a HOME PAPER for this town and community of ours. It is a part of YOU. If we haven't your name—subscribe today.

work up a good appetite for the wonderful spread laid out on the tables in the picnic grounds, which was hugely enjoyed by the guests.

Former Ashlanders marry Miss Nellie Ross received today the announcement of the marriage of Miss Laura K. McCormick of Tabor, Ia., to Howard E. Ewer of Portland, which took place in the latter city September 4. Mr. and Mrs. Ewer will reside in Portland. Both the principals of this event are well known in Ashland. The groom was a former prominent young business man here for a number of years, while his bride taught mathematics in the Senior high school for three years, leaving Ashland for Portland three years ago.

TO RETAIN GERMAN PROPERTY AS LOAN

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 18.—Property of Germans to the value of 9,000,000 pounds is to be retained by the South African government as a loan repayable in 30 years. This intention of the government was announced today in the South African house of assembly by the premier, General Smuts. He explained that enemy assets held by the custodian of enemy property in South Africa totalled 13,000,000 pounds of which 3,000,000 pounds had already been paid out to Germans domiciled in South Africa. Of the remaining 10,000,000 pounds, 1,000,000 pounds would be temporarily applied in satisfaction of South African claims on Germans for debts or for property in Germany sequestrated by that government. On the balance of the 9,000,000 pounds, the government of South Africa has decided to pay interest at 4 per cent, raising the total to 10,000,000 pounds, which will then be held by South Africa as a loan from the German owners for a term of 30 years, the government paying owners 4 per cent. One hundred banks in cattle territory to finance pure bred livestock. Metolius.—Local mill to operate night shift.

Meredithe Beaver entertained a number of his close friends with a dinner Thursday evening at his home on Iowa street. Five boys, with the host, all ex-service men in France and students at O. A. C. or the U. of O., sat down to a sumptuous repast which was greatly enlivened by reminiscences of the past and plans for the future. The guest list included Merrill Throne, Verne Blue, Elwood Hedberg, Oscar Silver and Harold Simpson.
