GOVERNOR OLCOTT DELIVERS MESSAGE

REVISION OF TARIFF TOPIC OF CONGRESS

EXTRA SESSION WILL BE CALLED APRIL 4 TO DISCUSS TWO IMPORTANT DUTIES—HARDING ADVISED TO POSTPONE CONGRESS FOR MONTH AFTER INAUGURATION.

(By the United Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—President-elect Harding will call an extra session of the new Congress on April 4th, Representative Fordney, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, said today.

Representative Fordney, who has just returned from Marion, said he had discussed the time of calling the extra session with President-elect Harding due to its relation to the revision of the tariff and revenue laws, two of the most important duties to confront the new Congress. Several members of Congress, it is known, have advised President-elect Harding not to call the extra session for at least a month after his inauguration. They pointed out some time is needed to effect a change from Democratic to Republican control in the government departments.

CENTURY-OLD WILL FINALLY IS CONSTRUED

GREENVILLE, S. C.—When a century-old will was seraped from an accumulation of litigation, it was found George A. Wiseheart, Jr., an acetylene welder, had become a millionaire. The will dates back from Wiseheart's great-grandfather, who left several "country blocks" in Philadelphia to his heirs.

BEN FRANKLIN'S BIRTHDAY MARKED BY THRIFT WEEK

Y. M. C. A. Sponsors Savings Securities Sales Campaign Which Starts Today—Has O. K. of Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Today is Benjamin Franklin's birthday. It also marks the beginning nationally of Thrift Week which is sponsored throughout the country by the Young Men's Christian Association and is being supported by the Savings Division of the Treasury Department. The Government's particular interest in this week lies in the fact that its sales of Savings securities, such as 25c Thrift Stamps, $1 and $5 Savings Stamps, and $25, $100 and $1000 Treasury Savings Certificates are determined by the thriftiness of the American people. The Government is still in need of money and the sale of these securities form an important part of its post-war financing.

All of these Savings securities of the Government will be on sale throughout 1921 at post offices and nearly all banks in the country. The $1 Treasury Savings Stamp and the $25 Treasury Savings Certificate, the latter bearing four per cent interest compounded quarterly, are new issues which are expected to take their place with the older securities in public favor.

"We want the American people to start bossing their dollars," said William Mather Lewis, Director of the Savings Division of the Treasury Department. "Thrift and safe investment in Government securities will make us bosses of our dollars and economically independent."

COMES TO RESCUE OF CREW WHEN THEY FACE PERIL

LOS ANGELES ARBOR, Cal.—The crew of the West Tejun, a lumber schooner just arrived here from the Northwest, declares they were saved by Davy Jones fire department.

A blaze burst out in the ship's galley, at sea, and threatened to spread throughout the ship, when a whale came to the surface alongside to blow.

The jet of water sent aloft by the leviathan drenched the galley and quickly extinguished the fire.

CARRIES GAUZE SPONGE IN HER BODY 14 YEARS

CHICAGO, Ill.—A strange story of a woman who carried a gauze sponge, sewed up in her abdomen for fourteen years, is reported in the current number of the Journal of American Medical Association by Drs. Fred C. Watson and P. H. Desnos of the United Fruit Company's hospital, Bocas Del Toro, Panama. The woman, now 29 years old, underwent an abdominal operation when she was 15. The gauze sponge was sewed into the wound and caused no trouble for fourteen years. It was removed and she was restored to normal health.

REGULATION OF HIGHWAY LOADS MAY BE FOUGHT

Districts Dependent Upon Motor Truck Transportation Expected to Protest Law Preventing Heavy Traffic—House Committee on Roads and Highways to Meet Next Week.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 17.—Although legislation authorizing the issuing of bonds for the building of additional paved roads in the state undoubtedly will be the most important highway legislation during this session, regulation of traffic on the roads already completed will occupy an almost equally prominent place in the road program.

The question now before the state is simply this: Shall the state attempt to impose traffic regulations on state highways because the roads have not been built to stand the test of modern transportation?

Members of the legislature are known to have widely diverging views on this subject and the introduction of regulatory legislation within a few days, probably will cause a storm of protest from some districts dependent upon motor truck transportation.

Members of the house committee on roads and highways will meet with the state highway commission here early next week, the exact time not yet determined, to discuss plans and proposed highway legislation. At this meeting it is expected that a definite policy of the commission will be announced.

Members of the house committee on roads and highways which is headed by Wright, of Sherman county, are Carter, of Jackson; Elton, Washington; Looney, Marion; Blinn, Umatilla; Shiera, Douglas; Kerell, Multnomah; Burdick, Crook; Deschutes, Grant, Jefferson, Klamath and Lake; and Gordon of Lane.

At the present, there is a conflict of authority between the county courts and the highway committee and the commission that the power to issue permits for the use of state highways shall be definitely vested in the commission and removed from the county courts.

SINN FEINERS REPULSED IN EARLY RAID

GARRISON AT POLICE STATION SUCCEEDED IN DRIVING OFF AN ATTACKING FORCE AFTER A HALF HOUR'S BOMBARDMENT.

(By the United Press) CORK, Ireland, Jan. 17.—A police station in the center of the city was heavily attacked by Sinn Feiners early today. The attacking party threw bombs and fired hundreds of shots using revolvers for the most part. After a fight lasting half an hour, the police beat off the Sinn Feiners. The garrison of the station, with very light reinforcements, was sufficient to beat off the attack.

Armored motors filled with troops, rushed to the scene when the sound of bombs was heard, but when they arrived the Sinn Feiners had already dispersed.

STILL STRONG FOR PRUNES AS GOOD INVESTMENT

In Spite of Present Conditions Oregon Growers Association Pins Faith on Future Development of Fruit.

C. J. Lewis, manager of the organization department of the Oregon Growers Co-operative Association, is still strong for prunes, notwithstanding present conditions. He says that ultimately, prunes will prove as they have in the past, a good investment.

In planting of cherries, he calls attention to the fact that the Royal, Anne, Bing and Lamberts are not only self-sterile, but also inter-sterile and that these varieties must be planted the Long Stemmed Waterhouse or some other good pollinizer.

The Spitzenberg apple is likely to come into its own within a few years Mr. Lewis says. He believes the time is coming when this apple will sell at a premium as the acreage has been greatly reduced, due to collar rot in the Inland Empire and winter injury in the Hood River country.

Mr. Lewis is of the opinion that next year will be a good year for apple growers in western Oregon, as the east is not likely to have a bumper crop next season as it did last year.

BUSINESS MEN'S GYMNASIUM CLASS MEETS WITH FAVOR

Indoor Workers to Be Given a Chance To Renew Youth With Play and Body Building Exercise in Connection with the County Y. M. C. A.

The committee for the promotion of the proposed Business Men's Gymnasium Class has been making favorable progress and has called a meeting of all men interested for Tuesday at Pioneer hall at 5:30 p. m. The committee on arrangements will make their report and the details of the work explained.

Emphasis is placed upon the fact that this club is to be set up with careful thought for the special needs and limitations of the business and professional man. Expert instruction by a director of long experience is promised. There will be corrective and body-building exercises and the sort of whole-hearted play that takes 'em back to their body hood days.

The question for the business man to decide is not "Can I spare the time?" but, "Can I afford to miss this opportunity to put myself in fighting trim for business?" It is not the number of hours one works that counts, but the condition he is in while he works.

Thousands of big business men in the cities consider it better judgment to spend two hours a week in the gymnasium rather than to run an open account at the doctor's office and break down before their time. Now for the first time a similar opportunity is offered the men of Ashland.

Medford's class is bringing out an enthusiastic bunch at every session.

RESULTS OF BABY CLINIC HELD AT FAIR

TWO OF ASHLAND'S KIDDIES TIE FOR HIGHEST SCORE—CLINIC MEETS WITH APPROVAL AND WILL BE REPEATED SHORTLY.

The result of the recent baby clinic held at the County Winter Fair under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce is announced as follows.

Paul Guiley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Guiley and Robert Burdic, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Burdic, tied for highest place 99 1/2 points, being the high score reached by these. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Denton's baby scored third highest with 99 points to his credit.

Miss Faldine, the county nurse, and Mrs. Poole, home demonstrator and authority on baby dietetics, spent Friday afternoon with the mothers and babies at their office in the library and are very much pleased with the fine showing made by the large number of Ashland babies. Another clinic will be held in about three or four months and in the meantime, Miss Faldine will meet any mothers in her office February 12th for consultation.

WILL CONSIDER GOVERNMENT CODE FOLLOWING RECESS

Sweeping Change in State Administration May Be Adopted in Washington Legislature—Some Predict Stubborn Resistance for the Measure.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 17.—Reconvening her at one o'clock this afternoon, following a recess which started Friday, the Washington state legislature was expected to start consideration of Governor Hart's civil code.

The code which makes a sweeping change in state administration, will be adopted without alteration, according to some predictions. Other reports predict stubborn resistance for the measure. Friends of the code claim they are certain of 62 votes for it in the House.

All present commissions and boards are to be abolished, according to the code, which would centralize all power in the governor, under whose appointment ten directors of as many departments would take charge.

THIS PIG IS USED AS A BIRD DOG

NATCHEZ, Miss.—Tucker Gibson, known as the champion big-game hunter of Tensas Parish, La., owns a pig which he uses for a bird dog. He asserts the pig makes perfect stands and never flushes a covey of birds until ordered.

Gibson said that soon after the birth of the pig, on the death of its mother it was adopted by a pointer dog with a litter of pups, and that the pig continued to associate with its foster brother and sisters after it became well grown. He declared that the hunting proclivities of the pig were accidentally discovered the first time the young dogs were taken in the field, the pig accompanying the party and taking an animated part in the hunt.

YOUNG SOLDIER LAID TO REST IN HOME CEMETERY

Body of Sergeant Leo Parrish 14 Brought Back from France to Sleep Beside His Brother in Family Plot—First Soldier To Be Sent To Ashland from Overseas.

Yesterday afternoon the body of Sergeant Leo Parrish, the first soldier to be brought back from France to be buried at home, was laid to rest by the side of his brother in the family plot in Ashland cemetery, following a military funeral conducted by Ashland Post, No. 14, American Legion. This body arrived in Portland during the past week with the first consignment of Oregon boys who made the supreme sacrifice for their country in military service in France. Following out the wishes of the mother of the dead soldier that her boy should sleep in the cemetery or his boyhood home, the body was sent to Ashland, arriving here yesterday morning, and a large concourse of sympathizing friends gathered at the Armory at 2:30 in the afternoon to pay the last tribute of respect to the young man, who gave his life for his country.

Rev. C. A. Edwards, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, paid a fine tribute to the memory of this young man in a funeral address, while a male quartet sang two beautiful selections. Six members of the American Legion, Past Commander W. M. Briggs, and Comrades Burdic, Moore, Henry, King and Amer, bore the flag draped casket.

At the grave Rev. Edwards read the impressive burial service, after which a firing squad from the First Company, O. C. A., fired a salute and taps were sounded over the casket before it was lowered to its last resting place.

Sergeant Leo Parrish was a former resident of Ashland. Several years ago the family moved from here, and when the United States entered the war, Leo was living in Klamath Falls. He enlisted in the quartermaster corps in San Francisco, December 17, 1917. From there he was sent to Camp Johnson at Jacksonville, Fla., where he remained until August 1, 1918, when his corps sailed for France. He arrived in France sometime in September, and was put in a wood unit of the 304th company. On October 11, 1918, he died in a hospital at Ise Sur Tille, where he was buried. By the request of the family his body was exhumed and brought overseas to be laid in its final resting place in the family plot in the Ashland cemetery, where sleeps another son of the Parrish family.

Surviving the young soldier are his wife, father and mother, who were at his funeral yesterday.

DETECTIVES ROOM ACROSS HALL FROM HUGH STILL

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Two moonshine stills of twenty-five and thirty-five gallon capacities and one hundred gallons of beer were seized by Federal officers in a raid on an apartment building in the downtown section. The alleged operator was taken into custody.

The stills were found in a room on the third floor, across a narrow hall from an apartment rented by a city detective. He said he had not known that the stills were there. The officers acted on a "tip" of a resident on the first floor that he "smelled" liquor in the building.

LEGISLATURE RE-CONVENES AT NOON TODAY

MEMBERS RE-ASSEMBLE AFTER FOUR DAYS' RECESS—MUCH CURIOSITY EVINCED OVER EXPECTED GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE AT JOINT SESSION.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 17.—The Oregon legislature re-convened here today, having been in recess since Thursday at noon.

Members of both houses re-assembled with a lot of curiosity in their systems, for Governor OLCOTT is scheduled to deliver a special message at a joint session this afternoon. The nature of the recommendations has been kept a secret by the executive board.

SALEM, Jan. 17.—Depreciating "publicity and attendant surmises preceding its delivery" Gov. OLCOTT ready his "mystery message" to a joint assembly of legislature today, urging the repeal of the quarter mill state road levy, and the diversion of at least three hundred thousand dollars of the amount to improvement of the boys' training school.

"We devote a great deal of time, energy and money to the breeding, development and betterment of our cows, horses and pigs," he said, "and rightfully too. But I sometimes think we give more consideration and thought to animals than we do to humans. I am sure every one within the sound of my voice will say the reformation and saving of just one boy is sufficient warrant for his or here presence here today.
