Thousands of School Children Poorly Fed

CALIFORNIANS GO HUNTING AND GET MANY RABBITS According to the Yreka News, the rabbit drive at the Garey ranch, east of Macdoel, drew a large crowd last Saturday. They report about 1200 rabbits for the day. Mrs. Garey prepared a bountiful repast for the visitors in the way of Spanish beans and mulligan stew, which were served with bread and coffee and enjoyed by all. Another drive is expected to take place next Sunday at the old Van Couch ranch east of the Garey place. It is hoped people who are not at liberty during the week will be able to attend this.

By a happy coincidence Rose Brothers discovered they had in their stock of Victor records the beautiful selection, "The Old Rugged Cross," which Rev. George Bennard and Mrs. Lindfesty have made so popular by singing at the revival meetings in the Methodist church. Mr. Bennard composed this song and later sold the copyright to Homer Rodehaver, the popular singer with Billy Sunday. Mr. Bennard and Mrs. Lindfesty were in Rose Brothers' store yesterday listening to the record.

(By the United Press) EAST QUINCY, Ill., Feb. 25—Four armed men with rifles held up the "Hummer," the crack Chicago and Alton flyer, near here early today, and robbed the mail car of registered letters and packages. Postal authorities estimate the loss at $125,000, but said it may run higher. The robbers jumped on the tender and covered the engineer and firemen with their rifles. The engineer was forced to stop the train and then cut the baggage and mail cars loose. The cars were taken two miles up the track while the bandits looted them and then disappeared in the darkness.

JEWELS MOTIVE FOR MURDER IS POLICE BELIEF

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 25—The belief that D. Greenbaum, Los Angeles pawnbroker, had been murdered for diamonds he was said to have carried on his person, was expressed by Los Angeles and San Bernardino county officers here, when his body was found in San Bernardino county. He had been shot in the head. One pocket had been cut from his clothes. A strand of long red hair was found clutched in his hand, it was said. His business partner, Leslie Gold, said he had last seen Greenbaum when he left their store in an automobile, presumably for his home here. Mrs. Sarah Gartner of the Bazaar is back from a business trip to San Francisco, where she went to secure her spring stock of goods.

The bandits had apparently received word of these packages and were looking for them.

Katrina's face is round and smiling. She's good-natured and she's anxious to oblige. In fact she's coming to the United States expressly to help Madam America conduct the household cares. Katrine is strong for America, according to the U. S. government official immigration reports. She's flocking to this country at the rate of nearly 100,000 a year, that is counting Katrine's professional sisters, Marie from France, Mariana from Italy and just plain Mary from England and Ireland. In the official figures Katrine is listed professionally as a "domestic."

An indictment charging manslaughter was returned against W. F. DeWitt, the Ashland taxi driver, as the result of an accident on the Pacific highway on Christmas Eve, which resulted in the death of Mrs. Nonna Jennings of Medford. At the coroner's inquest the jury returned a verdict charging DeWitt with negligence and the case was bound over to the grand jury. Much interest will be taken in the trial of this case, as Mr. DeWitt has hosts of friends in Ashland who are anxiously awaiting the verdict, and who deeply sympathize with him in this trouble.

Lowe Family Starts On Extended Tour

D. M. Lowe, the well known rancher and pure-bred stock raiser of the Valley View district, leaves tonight with Mrs. Lowe and son George, on an extended trip that will cover many months. The tourists expect to go directly to New York and other points on the Atlantic coast, after which they will come back for a lengthy visit with relatives through the middle west. They will then go south to the Gulf of Mexico and strike Cuba on their journey, later returning north by the Atlantic ocean, before crossing for the Pacific coast again. During their tour they will visit Mrs. Lowe's old home which she has not seen for over twenty years, and will also be the guests of other relatives. The trip is principally planned for the benefit of Mr. Lowe's son George. This lad is only 11 years of age, but is ready to enter high school. While consulting Superintendent G. A. Briscoe of the Ashland schools about starting his son at that youthful age into high school, the latter, who is a boyhood friend of Mr. Lowe, advised him to take his son on a journey for an indefinite period, which he claims, will be of much more benefit to him than having him enter high school at the age of 11 years and finish at 15 years. They have not limited themselves as to their stay, nor made any definite itinerary, and expect to go wherever fancy leads and remain away until they are perfectly satisfied with travel. Congress provides $400,000 to start Des Chutes project.

HAS INDIAN FUND, BUT NO INDIANS

(By the United Press) BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 25—When Bridgeport was founded and a few hundred souls settled around the mouth of the Pequonnock river, a tribe of friendly Indians lived on Golden Hill, now in the center of this city of 150,000 and occupied by the county courthouse. That was not so long ago, not earlier than 1790. Gradually the Indians became unable to support themselves. In 1802, the general assembly of Connecticut appropriated the income of $5,000 to care for them, and appointed an Indian agent to administer the fund. By later legislative decree that fund and the position connected with it passed to the clerk of the superior court of Fairfield county, and today Fred W. Tracy, clerk of the court, has $38,12, which still remains to relieve needy Indians. Clerk Tracy was not aware of his trust until the other day, when in examining some old files, he discovered an ancient bank book. The last survivor of the tribe of Indians to receive aid was William Sherman, an individual of 300 pounds and more, who passed to his happy hunting grounds in 1885. No trace of living survivors can now be found. Last night was another winner at the Methodist Episcopal church. A splendid audience greeted the evangelist. He delivered a heart-searching message on "The Leper." Tonight between 60 and 70 from Grants Pass will come down for the service. This will be a great service. You cannot afford to miss it. Good singing and a cordial welcome.

Murder Result of A Nation's Hatred

PORTLAND, Feb. 25—Assassination by Austrians still faithful to the old regime is the latest theory developed toward solution of the Barnes road murder mystery. The murder victim, deputy sheriff have heard, was an ex-officer of the Austrian army, who deserted with 600 of his men to join the Serbian standard. He lived in constant expectation that he would meet a violent death at the hands of Austrian nationalists, according to information given the authorities. Disclosure of the man's name is expected momentarily by the sheriff's office. His connections and local history were learned by deputy sheriff yesterday. Deputy Sheriff Christofferson said that a possibility existed that the murderer or murderers had been concealed in the Hoffman country home at the time the body was discovered had been proved groundless. This possibility developed from reports that furnishings in the house had been moved between the time the Campfire girls entered the grounds and their return with officers from the morgue.

DIPHTHERIA FATAL TO TWO IN PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Feb. 25—Two diphtheria deaths have occurred within the past two days, and there are approximately 70 cases of the disease in the city, according to a statement issued by the city bureau of health. Two babies at the Kerr nursery are also afflicted with diphtheria.

MUST STILL BE WEDDED BY PREACHER OR J. P.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 25—The house has defeated a bill to permit notaries public to perform marriage ceremonies in sparsely settled communities. Supporters of the measure argued that some persons in rural districts have to go ten or fifteen miles to find a preacher or civil officer authorized to perform a marriage ceremony. "This seems to be a matter of convenience," said Representative Edwards. "I suggest we carry it a little further and give the right to postmasters and rural mail carriers to take it to the people's doors."
