"The Stealers" A Wonder Film

"The Stealers," William Christy Cabanne's powerful human document, a Robertson-Cole super-special, will be the attraction at the Vining theatre, beginning today. The picture, which has created a sensation wherever it has been shown, is said to mark a new milestone in motion picture history.

The picture is the first in the history of film making to have titles illustrated in prismatic colors instead of the ordinary black and white. The effect is novel and beautiful and has created very favorable comment. The scheme is even carried into the picture proper. In at least two of the big scenes colors are used with remarkably good effect—in the case of a scene showing a magnificent sunrise the effect is marvelously beautiful. The scene looks like a painting which moves.

Mr. Cabanne, former assistant of David Wark Griffith, conceived, wrote, directed and produced "The Stealers." The work is the culmination of Mr. Cabanne's years of experience in the art of the silent drama. It was this experience which prompted Mr. Cabanne to make the central theme of his masterful picture faith, blind faith in the certainty that right always triumphs over the forces of evil, and that the justice meted out by the Supreme Power is felt on earth without waiting for the judgments of that other world of which Christianity preaches.

Treat Assured in U. of O. Orchestra

The program of the concert to be given by the University of Oregon Orchestra under the auspices of the Junior Class of the Ashland High school in the Armory on Friday evening, April 1, is well-balanced and contains interesting features that will keep listeners up on the edges of their chairs from the opening curtain until the last echo has died away, according to John Anderson, manager of the orchestra.

The listeners are to have a choice for one of the full orchestra numbers between "Dance of the Hours," from Poncellini's "La Gioconda," and the selection from "Katinka," by Rudolph Friml.

The first named is ballet music from the opera. It is composed for the most part of very melodious melodies in which the flutes, violins and cellos have the leading parts. The first part is light and delicate. At the end, however, the full power of the orchestra is used.

"Katinka" is of a lighter nature. Friml, the composer, is well known as the composer of "The Firefly" and "High Jinks," two of the most melodious musical productions that have been on the stage in the last ten years. "Katinka" is much like them.

Requests that either of the number be played are asked: They may be sent to E. R. Ramsay, president of the Junior Class of the High school. The remainder of the program just carries itself along. It is the intention of the director to have the concert move swiftly throughout.

FIND PIECE OF BABY MASTODON'S SKULL IN RIVER

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—What is said by John A. Comstock, associate director of the Southwest museum here, to be a "fragment" of the fossilized skull of a "baby" mastodon, which lived here more than 500,000 years ago, has been discovered in the Los Angeles river bed.

The weight of the fragment, which was found at the 50-foot level, in pits of a gravel company, where Seventh street crosses the river, is 50 pounds. One tooth was found in the fragment, Mr. Comstock said. The tooth, he added, evidently was a milk tooth, and would have been displaced later by a permanent one if the creature had lived.

FELL DEAD ON FINDING A JOB

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Mar. 28—After he had spent his last quarter for breakfast, Joseph Smichanski, who had searched everywhere for work, walked over to the foreman of an excavation job and was given employment.

"Thanks. You're a regular guy," Smichanski told the foreman, and then, as he lifted the first shovel of earth, he toppled over, dead from heart disease.

NEW MONTE CARLO IN CUBA?

Possibility That World-Famous Gambling Establishment May Be Located on the Island.

"The greatest gambling center in the world will be located in the western hemisphere if plans for 'palaces' in Cuba develop as given out," said Walter P. Harris of Havana. "Cuba is already beset with the gambling fever, and fortunes change hands there almost every day."

HUMAN FACE AS A BEACON

Radiometer Able to Record the "Shine" Thrown Off at a Distance of Several Miles.

Novelists that speak of a face "lighting up" put down an actual truth that few of them are aware of or intend. One of the most delicate instruments in the world, a radiometer, records the "shine" of a human face, and can do it at a distance of several miles. So delicate is the instrument that it can detect and record the glimmer of a candle half a mile away, and if there were no atmospheric obstruction it could detect the same candle 16 miles away. The instrument consists of two thin glass disks, one polished and one blackened, suspended by a quartz thread in a vacuum. Waves of radiant energy striking this instrument disturb its balance, because the bright disk reflects them, while the black one absorbs them.

Italy to the Rescue.

Visiting a school is a doubtful pleasure. But the woman had promised to call for a friend who is known as a "rooky" teacher. She waited until almost closing time before entering the school, a red brick, lumpy sort of building, not specially attractive. It looked as if she had come too soon. All eyes soon focussed on her instead of on the busy little teacher. The word "trio" was being explained to the children and volunteers were asked to stand and use the word in a sentence. And no one need expect to go home until the word was fully explained.

IDEAL JURY IS DETAILED

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Mar. 29—An ideal, well-balanced jury would be one comprising three married women, three married men, three single women and three single men for trying criminal and civil cases, is the opinion of Common Pleas Judge Pearson.

"Such a combination would serve as a check upon certain members of a 'mixed jury,' so that justice and not mere emotional or fanciful verdicts would be given," he said. In the "balanced" jury, he added, all the points of view of matured persons would be represented.

"NOW-A-DAYS" says the Good Judge
A man can get a heap more satisfaction from a small chew of this class of tobacco, than he ever could get from a big chew of the old kind.
He finds it costs less, too. The good tobacco taste lasts so much longer he doesn't need to have a fresh chew nearly as often.
Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.
