THE above picture shows that one gallon of SWP house paint covers 360 square feet of surface, two coats. Ordinary paint covers from 200 to 250 square feet. That is the first saving. SWP, though heavy bodied, flows easily and evenly, thus cutting down the time required to apply it. That is the second saving. SWP outlasts two

Former Ashland Man Dies in Iowa

Mrs. Mary Wilshide is in receipt of a recent copy of the Marengo, Iowa, Republican, containing the news of the death of Lew Marble, a former Ashland resident, who died in that city March 29. Mr. Marble and his wife are well remembered by many Ashland people during the residence in this city, where the former was a prominent photographer. After leaving Ashland Mr. and Mrs. Marble went east, and finally settled in Marengo, Iowa, where he spent his declining years among the scenes of his boyhood. His death was due to erysipelas, and he is survived by his wife and one brother, Charles H. Marble of Brooklyn, Iowa.

Denies Guilt in J'ville Bank Case

C. H. Owen, indicted on a charge of wilfully aiding and abetting in the Jacksonville bank fraud, arrived in Medford Saturday in company with Sheriff Terrill of Jackson county, who had gone to Salt Lake City to fetch him to this county. Owen was taken to a Medford hotel and bonds were fixed at $5,000 by Judge Calkins. Owen claims to be highly indignant.

over his arrest, and denies that his relations with the Bank of Jacksonville were anything but perfectly legitimate. He claims his relation with the Jacksonville bank were those of any customer and all in the way of regular financial business. Owen's case will be on docket for the May term of court. He is represented by Attorney Evan Reames.

Death Summons Two Last Night

Mrs. Anne Maude Gardner, aged 22 years, died at her home, 237 B street, at 1:35 o'clock this morning, aged 22 years. Mrs. Gardner had come to Ashland from Salem only about a month ago, and was residing here with her mother and sister. The body will be taken tonight to Salem for interment.

Mrs. Bristow, an aged lady, died last night at a local hospital after a long illness. The deceased is the mother of Mrs. Wm. T. Bockwick, who resides out of town. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

Johnson Given 10-Year Sentence

W. H. Johnson, former president and cashier of the Bank of Jacksonville, was sentenced Saturday to an indeterminate term of ten years in the state prison at Salem, and left for that institution Saturday night in custody of Deputy Sheriff J. J. McMahon. Johnson was sentenced on one of the four indictments to which he pleaded guilty, the rest being held in abeyance. Under the state law Johnson can apply for a parole when he has served a third of his sentence. With allowance for good time, Johnson, if he should serve his full sentence, would remain in prison seven years and nine months. He is now 41 years old.

NOT MANY FEEBLE-MINDED

Authority Shows That Only Two Per Cent of the Population Can Be So Classed.
The idea that we are menaced as a nation by illiterates and feeble-minded is all wrong. We have illiterates and feeble-minded in our midst, but they are a relatively negligible force numerically. The reverse idea, or idea in the reverse, that we are short on genius, also is wrong, according to Dr. George G. Chambers, director of admissions at the University of Pennsylvania, and the educator who co-operate with him. Doctor Chambers says genius as a national crop is statistically as strong as the more discussed feeble-minded and that each represents a mere 2 per cent of the population. But genius, says Dr. Chambers, is not the mere possession of a talent swollen to phenomenal degree, perhaps so hypertrophied that it is useless. He denies genius to the man, however great his talents, who cannot and does not exercise them. Genius in his definition is high intelligence followed by actual use of that intelligence in life. And intelligence is the ability to adapt one's self to new circumstances, to one's surroundings—in a word, to be able to know something and make use of one's knowledge. Under this definition it is surprising that the adaptable Yankee should not hold a higher record for genius than 2 per cent.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

CARE NEEDED IN MAKING KEROSENE EMULSION

Care must be used in making kerosene emulsion in the battle against the plant pests, says the American Forestry Association. The stock should be made up by following the directions, after which it must be diluted to the proper proportions for spraying. The proportions follow:
Stock Solution (66 per cent oil—Kerosene (coal oil), 2 gallons; soft or rain water, 1 gallon; hard soap, 1/2 pound. In small quantities use: Kerosene, 1 pint; soft water, 1/2 pint; Ivory soap, one-eighth of a cake.
Dissolve the soap and add the kerosene and shake violently in a quart jar. Dilute as follows: For fifteen per cent spray, add one part stock solution to three and one-half parts of water. For twelve per cent spray, add one part stock solution to four and one-half parts of water. For eight per cent spray, add one part stock solution to five and one-half parts of water. For eight per cent spray, add one part stock solution to seven and one-fourth parts of water. For six per cent spray, add one part stock solution to ten parts of water. For dormant spraying, twelve to fifteen per cent kerosene emulsion can be safely and satisfactorily used, but for spraying of foliage in summer never use stronger than ten per cent, six or eight per cent emulsion being the more advisable percentage for general spraying of trees and shrubs.
