tribute to Ashland park, which she had visited some time ago. She briefly outlined the work of the Parent-Teachers' Association and told of its great influence as the connecting link between the teachers and parents in working for the greatest good for the children. Mrs. Hayhurst also stated that this association is one of the most influential matters, and called the attention of Jackson county's representatives, Hon. E. V. Carter and Hon. Ben C. Sheldon, both of whom were present at the luncheon, to the influence that can spring from this organization in encouraging and promoting educational legislation. As Mrs. Hayhurst speaks again this afternoon and evening, she made her remarks brief.

the committee on education, was the principal speaker at today's Chamber of Commerce forum luncheon. He gave a general resume of the educational measures considered at the last session.

Mr. Sheldon spoke of the general feeling at the session, which reflected were largely due to the peoples' generous voicing of increased mileage allowances for the three educational institutions of the state, with a consequence that there was a rigid questioning of every school measure which might mean heavier taxation. The result was the adoption of many forward-looking school laws, but practically none looking to an increase in school costs—a result, according to Mr. Sheldon, fair to the schools and to the taxpayers alike.

Special reference was made to the two most important new school laws: the county unit plan and the requirement for a gradual increase in training for the teachers of the grade schools of the state, this latter bill having a direct and helpful bearing on the ambitions of southern Oregon to have its normal school reopened.

The two hard fights at the session over educational matters were on the free text book bill and the Portland teachers' tenure of office bill. The former proposition was not adopted, and in the latter case a change was made in the former tenure law.

A brief statement was given of most of the remaining 20 educational bills considered at the session.

THE THEATER BEAUTIFUL

Tuesday----Wednesday

"YOUR CURSED PRIDE DID THAT!"

And the boy, soul-sick at the wreck of his love, flung out of his father's home and sank to the depths.

But this smug "foremost citizen"—what of him? What of the girl who gave up when she wasn't fit for his son? What of his church that was ruled by hypocrites? What of honest workers, whose lives these hypocrites darkened?

Was there any way up to the light?—Only one!

A romance that grips the whole of life and turns it inside out.
