County Mayors Invite Governor Olcott for County July 4 Parade

(Contributed)
The committees working on the big Jackson county parade and celebration to be held in Ashland July 4th have been on the job every minute since the preliminary meeting Friday night. As the plans develop they will be announced from time to time, and many striking and novel features are being planned. It can safely be said now that Southern Oregon never had anything to equal the entertainment in store for Jackson county people on July 4th this year.

All the mayors of the cities and towns of the county have sent a joint invitation to Governor Ben Olcott to come to Ashland by aeroplane to attend and review the celebration and parade. Steps were taken to have a Government aeroplane go to Salem on the morning of the celebration and bring the Governor to Ashland, returning in the same manner in the evening. This is believed to be the first occasion in this country where a Governor has done anything of this kind. It supplies a fine opportunity for our "Flying Governor" to indulge in a pastime that is said to be a hobby with him.

The prize of $100 offered by Mr. Jesse Winburn for the most original feature in the parade has set everybody thinking hard, and there promises to be keen competition for the handsome prize from every part of Jackson county. The fact that the winning feature need not necessarily be elaborate and costly enables the smaller communities to take part with as much chance of carrying off the prize as the larger cities. The second prize of $50 and the third prize of $75 will also be awarded for originality.

The prize of $50 for the best humorous stunt in the parade, whether with an automobile or by an individual, is going to bring out many competitors, as it affords an opportunity for everybody, whether the owner of a car or not, to use his or her ingenuity in supplying something for the crowd to laugh at.

The prize of $25 for the community sending the largest marching body will be awarded on the basis of population, the winner being the town or city with the largest percentage of its population in the parade. Ashland is barred from this prize.

The judges for awarding these prizes will be editors of newspapers in Jackson county.

CHARGE LASKER IS FOR OPEN SHOPS AGAINST UNION

DENVER, Colo., June 20—The American Federation of Labor today protested against attitude of the new United States shipping board toward organized labor. Andrew Fursch, head of the Marine Workers Union, presented a resolution stating that A. D. Lasker, newly elected chairman of the shipping board, had declared for an open shop and that agents of the union should be prevented from visiting docks and ships. The resolution commended the seamen for their stand in refusing to accept "such prosecution."

"The shipping board" the resolution read, "while hiding behind a union hate smoke screen, is torpedoing merchant and United States seapower."

Internal politics, with John L. Lewis, head of the mine workers, is taking up much of his time in the active campaign he is conducting for presidency of the American Federation of Labor. The movement to supplant Samuel Gompers as president is gaining headway, with prospects of an investigation of the presidential campaigns of both men, following a rumor that a $100,000 Lewis fund had been brought here to aid his election.

The Irish question with rumors of an attempted British boycott, is drawing considerable attention.

New Freight Rate to Take Effect June 23

The new freight rate of $1.75 for each 100 pounds for vegetables and melons, including cantaloupes, in carload lots, between Pacific coast terminals and all intermediate points to points east of Chicago, will go in effect on June 23, according to a message received yesterday by H. E. Lounsbury, general freight agent of the Union Pacific system here, from H. M. Adams, vice-president of the Union Pacific system at Omaha. The new rate was announced as pending a few days ago, but at that time had not been settled on the eastern trunk lines.

The new rates are to all points in groups A, B and C, which include practically all the territory east of Chicago. The rate will be effective from June 23 until December 31 of this year.

Assistant State Attorney James E. McShane of Illinois, investigating the alleged "funeral trust" in Chicago, has announced the grand jury voted true bills against 15 officers and members of the Chicago Motor Livestockmen's association, charging them with conspiracy, boycott, blacklisting and illegal acts injurious to the public good.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, in a subsequent speech in the House of Commons, charged that the men—known to be Republican leaders—were shot by their own men because they were peaceable.

A week ago, two women were killed when automobiles in which they were driving with their husbands—police officials whom Sinn Fein was known to have blacklisted—were ambushed. The authorities denounced the acts as atrocious. Sinn Fein, in an official statement declared the police and military in Ireland, "waging a ruthless war which the British government has publicly acknowledged to be a war," cannot fight Sinn Fein in the morning and at night as ride about openly in automobiles with their wives in the afternoon.

There is no other term than war for the fight in Ireland. But it is war without a parallel—consisting of open fights, open lootings, open official incendiarism, ambushes and cold-blooded murder that respects neither age nor sex.

Each side can explain without apparent embarrassment its own acts—or if it cannot explain them disclaims them.

EXCESS PROFITS IN CANNED MILK BUTTER CHARGED

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 20—Profits as high as thirty-six per cent are common in the manufacture of creamery butter and canned evaporated milk the federal trade commission reported to congress today. The report is based on the nationwide survey of milk products. The report states that high profits from making butter from canned milk has caused prices of raw milk to soar. Also that many manufacturers of butter using canned milk do a business of $5,000,000 yearly and that unfair practices are common in the trade.

Evangelist Bulgín Leads "Parade of Christians"

Young People Have Unique Program

By REV. C. F. KOEHLER

Yesterday was a great day in the Bulgín evangelistic campaign, the outstanding event was the great parade in which people from the various churches of the community marched under the banner of King Emmanuel. This parade was one of the finest demonstrations of the power of the churches that has ever been made in the city. Dr. Bulgín and Mr. Lewis led the parade followed by the ministers. Then came the band which made a very good showing and was one of the attractive features. After the band came a host of Sunday school children; then came the women and men. A number of automobiles brought up the rear. The parade was an endorsement by the churches of Dr. Bulgín and his work, and a demonstration of the force that will be marshalled behind all constructive projects of the community or arrayed against all unrighteousness.

After the parade the children gathered at the Presbyterian church where Mr. Lewis worked with them, and the adults gathered at the Chautauqua building, where the Evangelist preached on the subject of Wine, Women, and Gambling. He set forth in unmistakable terms the fearful dangers of immortality and wrong doing, and made plain which those who heard will never forget for purity of life.

The young people had their inning at the Methodist church, where after an excellent luncheon prepared by the Young people of that church, a very unique program under the direction of Mr. Lewis was put on. The program consisted of music furnished by the Epworth League of Talent and C. E. Society of the Christian church, sermonettes given by a number of the young people which were received with the heartiest applause.

Mr. Lewis was so taken with the excellent presentations of fundamental Christian Truths, that he persistently accused the preachers of having had a hand in it. The churches and the community should feel proud of its Christian young people. The beaming faces of the preachers as they saw these evidences of promise and ability testified to their great pleasure; for in a way it is a demonstration of the good results of their labors.

The day was crowded by a wonderful meeting in the evening. Dr. Bulgín preached on Hell. He insisted that the existence of Hell was in no wise incompatible with the love of God; but was actually demanded in the universe for the sake of justice. God does not damn men; they damn themselves, was a truth strongly stressed.

At the close twelve people hit the sawdust trail and gave their hearts to Christ.

The audiences are constantly growing in size and great things are expected this week. The subject tonight will be "Moses; Was He Scientific?" This is one of Dr. Bulgín's great Chautauqua lectures and should be heard by all.

Advocates of Closed Shop Win Victory

CHICAGO, Ill., June 20.—The "Closed Shop" advocates here won a victory today before the United States railroad labor board with the board's announcement that representatives of the majority of men in one draft may draw up agreements to effect all the members. Since the unionists have a vast majority, this ruling was interpreted as a ruling in their favor.

Insurgents of the Woodmen of the World, headed by Claude Wilkerson, an attorney of Sedalia, Mo., have filed a petition in federal district court at Omaha, Neb., asking an injunction to enjoin W. A. Fraser of Omaha, sovereign commander of the order, from presiding at the national convention of the sovereign camp in New York, July 5.

FIFTY-FIVE OREGON TEACHERS REGISTER AT HIGH SCHOOL

The six weeks summer extension session of the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth started in Ashland today at the high school under the supervision of G. A. Briscoe, superintendent of schools. Fifty-five teachers from various schools throughout the state gathered at the high school today preparatory to arranging a schedule of study. School will start tomorrow.

The summer school was brought here through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce. A budget of $2000 was set aside by the Chamber of Commerce for that purpose here although it is expected that the school will practically pay for its self by tuition fees.

Efforts were made in advance by the Chamber of Commerce and the faculty of the school to obtain living accommodations for the teachers.

It was stated at the high school late this afternoon that the teachers, in the majority of cases, had found rooms or apartments. Special efforts were made by the Chamber of Commerce to complete the erection of three cottages and three tents on the Chautauqua grounds before the opening of the summer school. A number of the teachers have taken advantage of the semi-camp life and rented the cottages and tents.

The regular normal courses as offered at Monmouth are offered at the summer school and the same credit will be allowed by the state normal school for the work done here.

The courses will include psychology, educational measurements, rural school problems, methods in arithmetic, reading, language, geography, etc for primary, intermediate and grammar grades, public school music, and physical training.

DECLARES NEARLY HALF OF SCHOOL CHILDREN BEHIND

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, June 20—Nearly half of the children in the grade schools—41 out of every 100 to be exact—are a grade behind where they should be, considering their age said Dr. B. W. DeBusk, professor of education at the University of Oregon who lectured here on the question of child delinquency. They are in the large majority, children who are handicapped by conditions of health, many of them having tonsillitis, adenoids, or some kindred ailment.

An examination on subjects regarded as absolutely essential for the next higher grade was given to a class in an Oregon school, pointed out Dr. DeBusk. The students who passed with an extra high standard were separated from the rest of the class, placed in a coaching room for a period, given intensive training, and passed over the next grade into the second above.

"There are 5000 mental defective in the state," said Dr. DeBusk, "and something must be done to cut this number down. They are a source of expense to the state and intelligently training and help will undoubtedly be the best thing for them."

Extended Motoring Trip

Floyd J. Place, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Edwards, Mrs. Ethel Chappel, and daughter, Dorothy, will leave tomorrow morning by auto on an extended outing trip. The party will continue their trip to Pikes Peak and on returning will make a several days tour thru Yellowstone park. This trip will cover 33 days.
