British-Irish Truce Asked, Preliminary to Peace Negotiations

By EDWARD L. KEEN (United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, July 6.—The British government is reported as having asked that a truce be declared with the Irish Sinn Feiners as a preliminary step toward the completion of Dominion and Home Rule for Ireland negotiations.

Jan Smuts, South African premier, returned from Dublin today and conferred with Lloyd George immediately. The Ulster premier, Craig, and Lord Middleton, unionist representatives attending Monday's De Valera conference, are attending the conference with Lloyd George. Smuts is understood to have presented the Sinn Fein viewpoint regarding the proposed truce.

By LLOYD ALLEN (United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, July 6.—Ireland needs American relief funds and needs them badly, Barry Egan, deputy lord mayor of Cork, declared today.

He flatly denied assertions made in British governmental quarters that Ireland's prosperity has removed the need of outside financial aid.

"Take the case of the burning of Cork," Egan said. "We had a property damage of 3,000,000 pounds in one night. Immediately thereafter from 800 to 1000 persons needed assistance. That was some months ago, yet a number of these distress cases must still be cared for. This requires money, and we get nothing from the British for such work."

"As a matter of fact it's absurd for officials of the British government to say Ireland does not need relief. The total property damage sustained throughout the country is approximately 10,000,000 pounds, so you can readily see that there is considerable by-product of distress from such wide-spread damage."

Egan is one of the seven survivors of the City of Cork corporation, who are not "on the run," imprisoned or dead.

When I saw him in London he had just come over from a visit of several weeks in Paris.

Describing the urgent need of funds for Irish relief work, Egan pointed out thousands in Ireland are out of work as a result of destruction of property and even a large part of the farming population is sorely pressed by reason of the military having wrecked so many creameries thereby seriously injuring the butter trade.

"Belgium needs about 5000 pounds weekly; while 2000 pounds a week is about the sum needed in Cork," Egan affirmed. "Scores of smaller towns need financial assistance."

"The British are paying no damages for property destroyed as far as I know. My own family has suffered to the extent of $21,000."

Ireland faces what may be a dreadful future, unafraid and defiant, continued Egan.

"What's going to happen," I asked Egan.

He explained quietly but with reserve.

THE MAN WHO WINS

The man who wins is the man who goes ahead with his work each day; Who's never struck by his adverse luck; But makes of his labors play; From early dawn he toils right on, And knows that the world's all right; And he sings a song as he goes along, For it sharpens his appetite.

The man who wins is the man who smiles And sees that the sky is blue; He is always there with a great big share Of smiles and of sunshine too; He never grows and he never howls That the world is out of gear— But he meets the shocks and the jealous knocks With a great broad smile of cheer.

The man who wins is the willing man Who grinds while others play; The sun shines bright and his heart's all right Though things may not come his way; He makes a boast that to get the most Of life you must dig in And work away every newborn day; When you really expect to win— Selected.

GIANT PARADE TO IMPRESS NEEDS OF UNEMPLOYED MEN

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 6.—An army of 25,000 unemployed ex-service men and ragged foreigners and women carrying babies are parading the streets here to impress the public with the needs of penniless men without jobs.

Minor Treat, head of the central labor council, told the United Press today that "unemployment must stop here. It cannot go on. Thousands of penniless men are in need of immediate assistance. The world is making no move to save them from starvation. I believe that employers are conspiring to increase the unemployment and force the wages down. Day laborers formerly earning pick and shovel wages at 40 cents an hour are now offered 15 cents an hour. They can't live on that."

TIDINGS HANDICAPPED BY GAS SUPPLY

Owing to an insufficient and undependable gas supply, on which the operation of the Tidings mechanical equipment has been dependent, the Tidings was unable today to set in type and publish several stories and at the same time issue a paper.

For the past several weeks the gas supply has been poor. To obviate the mechanical embarrassment, the Tidings has ordered electrical equipment that will soon be installed. Preparations are being made in the meantime for the installation of a gasoline burner for printing the paper.

FEAR ATTEMPTED SABOTAGE ON BOARD 'FRISCO SHIP'

ASTORIA, July 5.—The steamer Alaska arrived today from San Francisco nineteen hours overdue. The ship had encountered bad weather and engine trouble. The fear was expressed that sabotage had been attempted.

The Messaggero of Rome says that as a consequence of the almost entire absorption of the Fiat company by the Siemens Schuckert Electrical company, workmen in the Fiat plant are now engaged in the manufacture of arms and munitions for Germany in case she needs new armaments.

German nationals in China will be brought under jurisdiction of Chinese laws and courts under a treaty of amity and commerce signed by Germany and China.

W. N. WELLS, COUNTY FARM SUPERINTENDENT SUICIDES

Jackson County Naval Unit Will Be Organized

MEDFORD, Or., July 6.—Authority has been given Ensign Frame by the commandant of the Thirteenth Naval district to organize a naval reserve unit in Jackson county.

The purpose of such a unit will be to give the present naval reserve of Jackson county a chance to comply with regulations regarding retainer pay and to keep them in closer touch with navy activities. At the same time men not having had previous naval experience will be permitted to enlist in the reserve here.

The navy reserve offers a man 15 days' cruise or vacation each year, with pay and traveling expenses in addition to a retainer pay of from $12 to $252 a year, depending on rating.

By the formation of such a unit, reserve men will be allowed to take their summer cruises in a body and at such a time and place as the unit might decide.

This will be explained in detail and questions answered at a meeting to be held at the American Legion hall Thursday evening, July 7, at 8 p. m. This meeting is of vital importance to all reservist and ex-navy men and a large delegation is expected to be present from all over the county.

DEMAND FOR PLAYING-CARDS

Manufacturers Report a Tremendous Increase in Their Use, Mostly in Private Families.

There has been a tremendous increase in the use of playing cards in private families within the last 20 years in this country, the representative of a big American card-manufacturing house says in the New York Times. It may seem strange, but it is the private family that does most of the using of cards. The proportion of playing-cards used in the big clubs is small. There is an average of from two to three packs of playing-cards used per family each year in the United States, it is estimated, which is a big percentage of the total.

Men's clubs absorb the higher-priced cards, which are sold at prices varying, according to the club, from $1 to $1.50 or $2 per pack. The government tax on cards since 1917, which was raised last year to 8 cents per pack, with increased cost of production, has practically driven the cheaper cards out of the market, and business has gone to the higher grades, which retail at from 20 to 25 cents. The increased playing of bridge has brought into vogue the narrower card, which is more graceful in shape, smaller and a little less bulky.

The bulk of the cards sold have a simple standard design for the back. Among those the best liked in the better class are the ones with the fine-steel-engraved or "banknote" back, engraved with the lathework design. These come in the four colors and now have a linen-finish face.

THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN DISPONDENT OVER POOR HEALTH

W. N. Wells, superintendent of the Jackson county poor farm between Talent and Ashland, was dying in a manner that brought round after round of applause. Every selection on the program was entored. Under ideal conditions and playing to an appreciative audience, the artists were expressive of the fact that they were giving the best that was in them, playing with a vim and ability that kept the Chautauqua building crowded until the end of the last selection.

Local Woman on Program

Margaret Caldwell Speer, a former Ashland girl, with a clear soprano voice, featured the evening's entertainment with selections that brought much appreciative applause.

Margaret Speer is making her first visit to Ashland in four years. She lived in this city 12 years ago, as the granddaughter of Mrs. Mary M. Dunn, and is now visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. E. J. Van Sant, 179 Oak street. Margaret Speer is a graduate of the local high school and has many Ashland friends. Her present home is in Oakland, Cal., where she is prominent in church circles, singing in the choirs of that city and San Francisco. She was

Oregon Gets Busy

Oregon was awakened from a smug contentment by certain embarrassing facts brought to light in the census figures of 1920. The figures showed that the average density of population throughout the United States was 35.5 persons per square mile; for the state of California, 22 per square mile; for the state of Washington, 20.3 per square mile, while Oregon could only boast of 8.28 per square mile. These figures were disconcerting to the complacent and therefore self-satisfied citizens of Oregon.

"Why is it," they asked, "that other states to the north and south and east of us are developing at an enormous rate while we are practically standing still?" Questions ceased and investigations began with the result that representatives of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce are now in the Middle West, operating from Omaha as a base, and are grouping together all prospective homeseekers for the purpose of bringing them to Oregon in a body. Special train parties are being arranged for after harvest, thus enabling the Middle Western farmer to come to Oregon and see for himself the opportunities awaiting him.

While Oregon's land settlement plan as inaugurated this year is an example of the aggressive spirit of the new West; it is a symbol of the passing of the old order of things. "Go West," said Horace Greeley, and for 60 years the mandate was obeyed. The mandate has changed now. "Come west—where opportunity awaits you"—is the call.

ATTENTIONS REPULSED
GIRL AND KILLS SELF
MARSHFIELD, Or., July 5.—Bert Clinton, 21, an ex-service man and member of the American Legion, in a fit of jealous rage, shot and killed Erma Wagner, 18, today, and then killed himself. Friends say that the girl had repulsed the advances of Clinton, and as a result the man brooded until he committed the crime.

Erma Wagner is the daughter of a second cousin of Mrs. Joe Miller of this city, it was learned today. Friends and relatives here are grieved to hear of the tragedy.

Tide is Turning

Who hath the vision of the stars hath all that man may need To help him climb the happy hill of high and noble deed.

For he shall lift his eyes from earth and all its sordid dust; And he shall sing and he shall smile and he shall live in trust.

The vision of the stars—and then the might of hope and faith To lay the ghost of fear and dread and laugh at every wraith.

It is a seeing more than sight, that clothes with heavenly guise The beauty that we look upon alone with inner eyes.

The seeing that is vision's dream beyond the peaks that mark The glory of eternal dawns beyond the outer dark.
