ASHLAND MINERAL BATHS ARE SOLD BY DR. MAUDE HAWLEY

By MRS. JOHN H. DILL
Dr. Maud Ingersoll Hawley has turned over the Ashland Mineral Baths to Dr. E. B. Angell, of Portland. Dr. Angell is from Norway, but has been in America eight years and is a graduate of Pacific college in Portland. Dr. Angell chose Ashland because of the fame of its waters had attracted him and he wanted to live in a small town. He has changed the name of the establishment to the Healthorium. Dr. Hawley is going to take a much needed vacation.

Dr. Hawley started her business career as society editor for the Tidings, and we have watched with pride her success in her present profession. She has pioneered the way for the using of the Ashland mineral waters. She is one of the first chiropractors in the state to go before the state board and receive a license. After graduating in her chosen profession she opened up an office in partnership with Dr. George Utterback, in 1914. Shortly afterwards, this partnership was dissolved. Dr. Hawley retaining the business. After this she put in electrical appliances, and in 1919 put in the mineral baths. Since then the fame of Ashland mineral baths has become state-wide, and parties who have been to the famous Carlsbad, have told Dr. Hawley that so far as results go, the famous waters have no advantage over the Ashland waters.

It took a lot of pioneer grit to branch out in the business as Dr. Hawley did. Through the use of the mineral baths at her establishment many people from a distance have been attracted to Ashland and eventually made it their home. The seven rooms which she furnished and equipped were planned and arranged by her, and she laughingly says she is going to study architecture while on her vacation, as she made her establishment so restful, compact and practical with its reception, practice and cozy private rest rooms.

During the war period Dr. Hawley won the prize offered by the Civic Improvement club in the Hoover contest, by conserving the most fruit, vegetables and meats of any one in town. And she did this at the same time that she was busy with her heavy practice. So the vacation she is now taking is a deserved one. She began it with a week of relaxation at home with her father, V. V. Hawley, on his large cherry orchard near Ashland where her brother, Rev. Ray Hawley and family, of California, are for a few weeks vacation. She and her father will go a short distance on the way home with Rev. Hawley and family for the pleasure of the trip. And one her return Dr. Hawley will leave for a vacation in the mountains.

Valley View Ranchers Busy
Ranchers in the Valley View district are busy cutting their second crop of alfalfa and binding grain, according to J. R. McCracken, secretary of the Rogue River Cow Testing association.

Improving Playground
A large cement sand box has been installed at the children's playground in Lithia Park by the Parent-Teachers association, who have been taking a great amount of interest in the playground work this summer.

Writer Visits Here
George H. Angell, a writer for the Oregon Farmer, and wife were Ashland visitors yesterday, with their pet pug, Judy O'Grady. They are making a trip through Oregon and Washington.

Eugene Visitors
Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Foll and daughters, Margaret and Esther, of Eugene, were week-end visitors at the home of Rev. and Mrs. P. K. Hammond, 42 Second street. The family motored down from the northern city.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Examiner Disque, interstate commerce commissioner, today recommended a substantial decrease in the freight rates for livestock in the district from the Pacific coast to the Mississippi river, Chicago, Canadian points and to the gulf.

The national shippers league have requested application for an order reducing freight rates, claiming that the prohibitive tariff is a menace to the livestock industry. The complaint is directed against the carload lot shipments of ordinary livestock.

Disque recommended the reduction, declaring that, "lower rates would tide the livestock industry over the present period of adversity and hasten a return to normal conditions and business prosperity."

Kaiser Heard Truth About "Me Un Gott" Dominating Theory

BERLIN, July 12.—The war historians who painted the kaiser as a near-god, as a hero, overlooked this tale—the story of a war-wounded man who scorned his majesty and told him coldly and plainly truths he had never before heard from a "subject."

This happened in summer of July, 1916, when the bitterness of the populace against the government was first beginning to make itself felt. The kaiser, living comfortably in Sans Souci palace at Potsdam, had seen little of the horrible struggle "out there in the field." He felt the need to get in touch with the people, so he commanded his retainers to gather up some visitors, preferably war invalids in the park.

The retainer went on the search. One invalid was there. His mood was bad. The weather was too hot and his leg—shot off below the knee for the Fatherland—pained him.

The invalid didn't bow and scrape and salute as was customary. Instead he laughed remarking he need not worry any more since the kaiser had hunted him up instead of his searching for the kaiser.

The kaiser sought to be affable. "Where did you lose your leg," he queried, receiving the reply, "God knows I've answered that question often enough. It was somewhere in France where you don't go with your sound limbs. There was little to eat and much shooting. It wasn't as pleasant there as here."

So sharp a reply had the kaiser never before experienced. Looking sternly at the cripple he replied: "I know you've had a bad time. But I am your kaiser and your master. Your fate lies in my hand. But I consider that you shed your blood for me."

The cripple was pale with rage. "According to the law of September 23, 1915," he said, "I am forever unfit for service. Thereby my fate is removed from the hand of the kaiser. I have shed my blood for my family and my home. At least I believe that, and it would be bad for my country and my people if it had been shed for the dynasty. You are the kaiser, but not my master. I am a free man, even though I'm a cripple." The cripple hobbled off, leaving behind his majesty, ash-ash white.

A crumpled 100 mark bill lay at the kaiser's feet.

SEVEN PASSENGER CRAFT EXPLODES, FALLS 600 FEET

MODESTO, Calif., July 14.—Four men, Jiccondo Jacuzzi, John Kanke, of Berkeley, Calif., Duncan McCleish, San Mateo, Calif., and Bud Coffee, of this city, were killed today when an airplane in which they were flying crashed to the earth following an explosion which occurred at an altitude of 600 feet. The explosion caused the loss of both wings and the plane plunged to the ground, a meteor of flames. The pilot, Coffee, and the passengers were killed instantly.

Many citizens here saw the accident. Eye witnesses state that the explosion literally tore the machine apart. Three of the bodies lay several rods from where the machine was picked up, and the other was buried in ashes. All of the men were burned beyond recognition.

Electric wires, carrying a heavy voltage of current were torn by the plane and sizzled in the tarred streets.

Small portions of the bodies of the men lay scattered under the feet of spectators.

Coffee, with three passengers, left Oakland today from the Durant flying field in a seven passenger Jacuzzi monoplane. The plane was the invention of the Jacuzzi brothers, one of whom died with Coffee in the accident.

CORNER STONE OF NEW MOVIE STUDIO AT CRATER LAKE IS LAID TUESDAY

CRATER LAKE, July 14.—The corner stone of the new Kiser studio at Victor Rock, on the rim of Crater Lake, was laid Tuesday by Will Steele, the "father of Crater Lake." There was a crowd of 100 people gathered about as F. P. Salter, the contractor, and his men, swung the lava block into place and Fred H. Kiser himself took a motion picture of the ceremony. The studio will be a story and a half building, facing the lake, built of stone and timber, with a veranda across the front and a large plate glass window framing a vista of the lake between two fir trees.

It will be the headquarters for Mr. Kiser's photographic expedition in this part of Oregon, as well as the studio-saleroom for his well known hand colored pictures of Crater Lake and the Northwest, for post cards and photographic supplies, and for such literature as may be available about our scenic beauties and encouraging their preservation.

Crater Lake Popular
Crater Lake is the popular stopping place of many tourists from all the United States, according to a letter received here from Austin A. Chisholm, former manager of the Austin hotel, by friends. Mr. Chisholm is chief clerk at Crater Lake lodge. He writes that the lodge is filled to capacity every day.

ROB MESSENGERS OF $25,000; JAPAN TO JOIN CONFERENCE

ROBBERY STAGED IN THE HEART OF BUSINESS SECTION

SEATTLE, Wash., July 14.—What is classed as one of the boldest robberies in the history of Seattle occurred today when three bandits placed an automatic revolver against the heads of Leland Highy and Curtis Fisk, eighteen year old messengers employed by the Northwest Trust and Savings bank, and forced them to drop a bag containing $25,000 in currency. The bandits escaped with the loot in a high powered automobile.

BRITISH-IRISH MEET TODAY FOR FEUD SETTLEMENT

LONDON, July 14.—Representatives of Great Britain and Ireland are meeting at the round table this afternoon to settle the centuries old feud. Eamon De Valera, president of the "Irish Republic," and Lloyd George concluded their conferences with colleagues preparatory to the first session of peace negotiations, scheduled to start at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, London time, in Downing street.

Lloyd George has drawn up a formal statement of England's settlement proposals to give De Valera at the conference. The atmosphere surrounding the negotiations are considered to be favorable for peace. Thousands of troops are arriving from Ireland on leave, indicating the government fears no quick breakdown in peace proceedings. The Sinn Fein headquarters has issued a statement characterizing the conference as "personal."

Reformer "Anxious to Save the World from Destruction" Would Make U. S. Close Shop Sundays

By HERBERT WALKER (United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Noah Cooper, of Nashville, Tenn., chairman of the Southern Methodist Sabbath Saving crusade, presented a bill to President Harding today which would propose measures practically closing the nation down on Sundays. He later urged the members of congress to support the measure. The bill would prohibit the following activities on Sunday: work by all employes throughout the United States, the running of trains carrying on interstate commerce, all post office work, publications or newspapers entering the mails, and interstate commerce business. The measure is limited to interstate and federal business because congress is not authorized to interfere with state affairs.

Women Political Leaders Hold Party Conference in N.Y.

CONFERENCE ON "GOVERNMENT EFFICIENCY": NATIONAL LEADERS INVITED

SCARBOROUGH, N. Y., July 14.—Prominent republican and democratic women met here today at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip to hold a conference on "government efficiency."

Mrs. Vanderlip, who is chairman of the New York State League of women voters, in addition to inviting republican and democratic county leaders and assembly and congressional district leaders of her own organization, sent invitation to presidents of all the federated women's clubs in the state, presidents of local chapters of the W. C. T. U., members of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, Northeastern field committee of the Y. W. C. A., and other persons interested in promoting efficiency in government.

At the second national convention of the League of Women Voters it was decided to create a department of government efficiency. The conference today was part of the campaign to advance this undertaking. The principal question discussed was that of equal representation for women inside the party organizations.

EUROPE SEETHING WITH INTEREST IN CONFERENCE

LONDON, July 14.—Europe is seething with interest regarding President Harding's disarmament conference. In Great Britain a bitter political fight is raging over the attention of Lloyd George to head the British delegation. The French press is commenting cynically on the conference and expressing doubt that France will derive any benefit from it. In Italy the people are eager for disarmament in the hope that such universal action will reduce taxes in their already heavily taxed country. The pope of the Roman Catholic church is understood to be enthusiastically supporting President Harding's proposal.

The state department is understood to have received official notification of Japan's intention to participate in the conference. The Japanese statesmen are cautious in their actions. The people, commercial interests and the press are eager to have Japan participate in the conference, as the disarmament will probably reduce the heavy tax burdens.

BOLSHEVIKS START BUSINESS TO BACK UP THE THEORIES

TOKIO, July 14.—The Japanese newspaper Nichi Nichi stated today that the Japanese government will insist upon completing the present army and navy building program. The general feeling among public officials is for acceptance of the disarmament principle, adding to it many reservations concerning the present and future situation. It is believed that the time is not ripe for Harding's disarmament.

PARK REST ROOM SPONSORED BY NEW ASHLAND IDEA ASSN

Followers of the "Ashland Idea" movement will meet at the Hotel Austin Thursday evening of next week at 8 o'clock to elect a directorate of the Ashland Idea association, organized for the purpose of giving Ashland every possible social and economic advantage as a city.

The Ashland Idea association is sponsored by Miss Grace Chamberlain, president of the Civic Improvement club, and has made as its initial aim the establishment of a permanent rest room at the Lithia Park entrance, close to the Plaza.

Enough money has been subscribed, Miss Chamberlain states, to erect a small portable house on some suitable place. It is planned to have a fair-sized room for general purposes, a smaller one readily darkened for women suffering from headaches, and a bathroom equipped with a stationary tub for laundry purposes.

Chairs, couches, a first aid kit, ice box, electric plate and hot and cold water will complete the equipment. Miss Chamberlain states that "there will be baskets for babies to sleep in, and for their lunch a couple of pure bred goats that can be had if the city council permits them to be put into a small movable pen, during the daylight hours. The news that Ashland maintains such a rest room will be spread, told by the public, as the fame of our park has spread to the advantage of all concerned."

The following membership fees have been decided upon: Life members, $500; senior members, $10 a month or $100 a year; full members, $5 per month or $50 a year; associate members, $2 a month or $20 a year; contributing members, $5 a year.

All parties interested in the movement are invited to attend the meeting at the Hotel Austin at 8 o'clock in the evening, July 21.
