AMERICAN LEGION

the explorer and navigator, Amerigo Vespucci. The name, America, for our continent, had its birth in this town.

Marshal Foch, who is coming to the United States this fall to attend the national convention of the American Legion at Kansas City, will meet the American Legion delegation in France this summer. He hopes to entertain them in the old house in which he was born. The house is in the Pyrennes, and the Legion men will mark it with a memorial tablet.

The American Farm Bureau federation, with more than 1,000,000 members, has joined hands with the American Legion in obtaining legislation for the relief of disabled soldiers of the world war. More than 1800 bureaus of the federation have endorsed the legislative program of the Legion. These issues cannot be pressed too strongly at this time. Our disabled comrades are in great need and every effort should be advanced toward their immediate relief.

One of the most impressive ceremonies in which the American Legion delegation to France will participate on their trip will be the laying of the corner stone of the new bridge to span the Marne at Chateau-Thierry. The new structure will be known as "Pont Roosevelt" in honor of the late Theodore Roosevelt and his son, Quentin. Quentin Roosevelt was an aviator who lost his life near Chateau-Thierry. This will bring back to memory to a few of our Ashland comrades some of the scenes that they know something about from actual experience.

ADVICE WANTED.

"I'm in a fix with my girl!" said young Dubb, disconsolately.
"Why?" replied his sympathetic friend, "what's the matter, my boy? Have a row?"
"No, it isn't that. You see, I've been saying so many nice things to her that she's getting conceited. I can't stop it and I can't keep it up."
"Can't, eh? Why not?"
"Well, you see, if I keep on she'll begin to think she's too good for me, and if I stop she'll think I don't care for her any more."

An Old Favorite.

"How did Mr. Grabcoen enjoy the concert?"
"He didn't know what it was all about at first, but he showed symptoms of life when the prima donna responded to her third encore."
"Yes!"
"She sang 'Annie Laurie.' He recognized that tune as one he used to play on the harmonica."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Two Kinds of Women
WE know a woman, who when she needs to purchase necessary things for the home or the family puts on her shopping costume, dabs a bit of powder on her nose and sallies forth.
She shops here and there and down another hunting and h-u-n-t-i-n-g. When she gets home she is j-a-z-z-y and j-a-d-e-d. She feels all muddled up mentally and physically.
We know another who has learned the art of reading the advertisements before she starts out. She finds out what she wants and where to get it. Then she goes straight down town and right to the store that has IT.
In this way she saves time, money and effort and comes home fresh as a daisy and ready to get friend husband a good dinner instead of taking him to the cafeteria.
Which one are you?
