NORTHCLIFFE STATE RECEPTION STOPPED

K. FALLS MAN SHOTS WIFE; THEN SUICIDES

WOUNDS WIFE IN ARM AND GOES TO BED BEFORE KILLING HIMSELF

WAS ACCUSED BY WIFE OF INSANITY

SAID TO BE RESULT OF PAST TROUBLE; DIVORCE SUIT BROUGHT BY WIFE

KLAMATH FALLE, Or., July 29.—After wounding his wife in the arm with a revolver, Thomas Hampton, lumberman of this city, turned the gun on himself and committed suicide yesterday afternoon at about 4 o'clock. Before taking his own life, Hampton went to bed. Alleged humiliation is thought to have been the cause of the tragedy. The trouble took place at the family residence.

The shooting affair is the outgrowth of trouble that is said to have existed between the couple for some time. A short time ago Mrs. Hampton filed suit for divorce, afterwards having her husband arrested on a charge of insanity. Hampton was released after the court had decided that he was sane. Hampton is said by those who knew him to be an erratic character and was thought to have been insane at times.

The dead man has been a resident here for the past fourteen years and is well known as a lumberman. He is said to have been in moderate financial circumstances.

CAR GOES OVER EIGHTY FOOT BANK NEAR STEINMAN; OCCUPANTS UNHURT

The sudden failure of lights on a Stutz car, owned by a tourist, a Mrs. Stewart whose full name could not be learned, caused the machine to run over an eighty foot embankment last night in the Siskiyou mountains about a mile south of Steinman.

Full details of the wreck are lacking, as Mrs. Stewart left this morning with a wrecking crew from the Overland garage to retrieve her car. On leaving the road the car took a "nose dive," breaking a spring and otherwise badly damaging the machine. The trouble car from the Overland garage went equipped with block and tackle prepared for an all-day job in bringing the car back into the road.

As Mrs. Stewart does not drive her own car it is said that an employe of a local garage was driving the car. Neither Mrs. Stewart nor the driver was injured.

HERDS OF TEXAS CATTLE ENDANGERED BY LOCO WEED

SAN ANGELO, Tex., July 29.—Texas cattlemen are again confronted with the dread loco weed, the eating of which causes thousands of casualties among the great cattle herds which roam the southwestern plains.

Loco weeds are to cattle what drugs are to the human system, according to investigations made recently. The loco weeds thrive just before the spring grass sprouts, and then again late in the fall. With little to graze upon cattle eat the loco weed, which is in appearance not unlike alfalfa, although its color is purplish. Cattle, once they eat the loco weed, can satisfy their appetites with nothing else. They refuse to eat grass. The loco weed has little nutriment. The cattle become thin from undernourishment and thousands die. What substance is contained in the plant that is poisonous has not yet been determined. One theory presented is that some animal parasite or small fungoid hidden on the plant is responsible.

Auto Emigrants From New York Start For West

NEW YORK, July 29.—An emigrant train, 1921 model, left here today for the west. The trip will not be made in old-fashioned "prairie schoolers," but in automobiles, each equipped with a trailer to provide sleeping and cooking accommodations. The caravan consists of 123 families, all native Americans, who have tired of city life, and will take up farming in Idaho, on a tract about fifty miles southwest of Twin Falls. The trip is expected to be made by way of Albany, Buffalo, Cleveland, Chicago and Omaha. The scheme originated with William D. Scott, a Brooklyn salesman, who formerly lived in Minneapolis. He and a friend used to take motor excursions with their families every summer. When the idea of moving to Idaho was born, a mutual friend wanted to go with them, then another and another, until it was decided to form a regular colony.

Grand Jury Returns Two Indictments; Pleas Heard Today

The grand jury which was called into special session yesterday, will probably be in session several days, but at Thursday's session only returned two indictments. It is not known exactly what the jury is giving special consideration to at this session, but it is said that Bank of Jacksonville affairs are not under consideration.

One of the indictments returned was against Phillip Forester, on the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, and the other indictment was against Anthony Reardon, for using an automobile without intent to steal. Both were arraigned in circuit court this morning, to enter their pleas.

Forester is the former arrested months ago, who, in making his escape from the county jail, used a club on Bert Moses, the jailer, inflicting bad injuries. He was later captured by the Seattle police on the charge of second degree burglary, and then his identity as the man who escaped from the county jail here was established, and he was brought back to Jacksonville.

Reardon is a young man, who claims to hail from Oregon City, who is charged with being caught some weeks ago driving away a car belonging to F. F. Whittle, who operates a transfer line, from the railroad yards in this city.

POMPEORE MINERAL SPRINGS SHIPS CARLOAD OF NATURAL CARBONIC ACID GAS TODAY

Another carload of natural carbonic acid gas was shipped from Ashland today by the Pompedore Mineral Springs. Mr. Silver announced this morning. Shipments of the gas have been increasingly frequent during the last month, and it is expected that within a short time an average of a carload a day will leave the city. Mr. Silver is to be complimented upon his ability as a business promoter capable of putting the natural product on the market and adding to the city's many advertising assets.

GOVERNOR SMALL SAYS HE IS ON THE JOB, BUT KEEPS AWAY FROM STATE CAPITAL

CHICAGO, Ill., July 29.—Governor Small is back on the job attending to the people's business. However, he stays outside of Sangamon county, where warrant is out for his arrest. The executive, under indictment for juggling millions in state funds for his own use, is touring northern Illinois in the interest of good roads.

Jailed Policeman Kills Attorney, Shoots Self

REPORT ASKS STOCK OF BLACK BASS FOR LAKE O' THE WOODS

The following report has been made to M. L. Ryehman, superintendent of hatcheries, by J. W. Berrian. "Pursuant to instruction I visited the Lake of the Woods on July 20, 1921, and beg to report as follows: "This lake is three miles long by one mile wide, shallow on the eastern shore and quite deep on the opposite shore. It is some six feet higher than last fall, due to excessive snow and rainfall last winter. Owing to the high stage of the lake it was difficult for me to determine the extent and kind of aquatic life in same, but from what I could observe it seems to carry the usual amount, and kind found in lakes of this district. A portion of its bottom has a moss growth on it, while other parts are free from it, and along the east shore is found a fine gravel.

"At this stage of the water the principal stream flowing into the lake, known as Rainbow creek, enters the upper end of the lake, and before its waters reach the open lake it has to pass through one-fourth mile of tules and water lilies which are quite thick in many places. This stream is only a small brook with perhaps a second foot per minute, which is obstructed in many places with logs and underbrush and makes it difficult for adult fish to find suitable spawning beds. Quite a number of trout one inch in length were found in this stream, but no small fish could be seen around the shores of the lake, except chubs, which are abundant. The temperature of this stream was 48 degrees at 9 a. m.

"The temperature of the lake at 6 p. m. July 20 was 68 degrees and at 6 a. m. the following morning was 65 degrees. This lake has no visible outlet, and the overflow for a short time earlier this season flowed out on a tule flat below. But very few fish are being caught by the twenty-five or thirty camp-

Judge Ducks Behind His Bench

CHICAGO, Ill., July 29.—Just as Judge Charles McDonald sentenced Harry Kellogg, former police desk sergeant, to serve a fifteen day jail sentence, the policeman whipped out his revolver, killed Lemuel Ackley, attorney, and then shot himself. Five shots were fired by Kellogg in the court of domestic relations. The spectators were thrown into a state of panic. Four bullets struck the attorney's body, and the fifth took effect in Kellogg's body. The policeman is now believed to be dying.

Jap Chief of Staff Is Killed In Train Wreck

TOKIO, July 29.—Outlaws blew up the Japanese military train near Nokolsk yesterday, killing Colonel Niwa, Japanese chief of staff, and many other Japanese officers, according to meager reports received here today. Extensive military operations between organized bands of outlaws and Hunguzes are reported to have already been reported. It is believed that these events may delay the Japanese plans for evacuation of portions of Siberia.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Following are market quotations: Eggs, 44 1/2. Hens, 23 @ 25. Broilers, 31 @ 45.

DOCTOR ASSERTS ASPARAGUS THE CAUSE OF BLUES

CLEVELAND, O., July 28.—(Special)—Asparagus causes the "blues" said Dr. Charles Hazzard of New York City, former president of the American Osteopathic association, in a paper which he read today in the section on nervous and mental diseases, at the national osteopathic convention. This is not the fault of the asparagus, however, explained the doctor. He did not condemn asparagus, but explained that when it does cause "the blues," it is because the person's system is already clogged with its own impurities.

The asparagus is the last straw which, added to the toxic state of the system, produces a physical state of the brain and nerves which is reflected as "the blues." This happens because the mechanistic state of the person's physical system is such that the organs of elimination have not been capable of doing their work well for such a long time that the system has become poisoned with its own debris. But had the system been kept always in good mechanical condition, elimination would always have proceeded normally, the system would have kept clear of poisons, and no bad effects would have followed the eating of asparagus, for the normal mechanism would readily throw off the acid of the vegetables.

Mental functions, in other words, according to the speaker, are markedly influenced by the condition of the blood. He explained this as follows:

"In the struggle that man's physical organism must constantly keep up in order to grow, function and keep healthy, it is always that, organism that is handicapped by the presence of obstructions to the free flow of its nerve and blood currents that has the least chance to survive and keep well.

K. C. Program Arranged For the 'Frisco Convention

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Final details of the elaborate program to be presented the 26,000 visiting delegates, Knights and their ladies, to the thirty-ninth annual international supreme council of the Knights of Columbus, have been worked out jointly by the citizens' committee and "Casey" general committee, the complete program having been adopted at a meeting of both committees. Although the formal business sessions of the supreme convention will occupy the dates, August 2, 3 and 4, the entertainment program will commence Saturday, July 30, and cover a period of an entire week.

According to the program that has been outlined, the first day of the formal business sessions of the supreme conclave will be the most brilliant date in the gathering of any organization in the history of this city, leading to the grounds of the old Mission Dolores church, the oldest church in this city, having been erected in 1776 by the hardy Franciscans. Here, on the grounds of the beautiful Notre Dame convent, next the old mission, pontifical high mass will be celebrated by Bishop P. J. Keene, coadjutor-bishop of Sacramento. Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco will deliver the sermon.

Rogue R. Valley Is Rendezvous For Fishermen

The Rogue River valley is rapidly coming to the front as a rendezvous for eastern sportsmen who come to Southern Oregon to enjoy the thrill of catching steelheads and cut-throat trout.

Frank O. Ayers, second vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, is here from New York on the war path of the flinty tribe. Mrs. Ayers accompanies Mr. Ayers on his fishing trips. Mr. Ayers and his party are scheduled to take a trip to Crater Lake.

From Norfolk, Va., comes J. Cox Webb, as ardent a fisherman as ever rolled a reel, and Mr. Webb has been coming to the Rogue River valley for the past five years. With him is B. R. Webb of Los Angeles.

Washington contributes another noted fisherman to the valley's visiting list in Dr. F. W. McKnight, of Cle Elum, Wash. He is accompanied by Mrs. Knight and a son, John, all of whom pay tribute to the sport in the valley.

Fishermen who benefit by the sport have the Butte Falls Lumber company to thank for its part in making the state hatchery possible. The company donated the site to the state, it donated part of the lumber for the construction of the flume and the citizens of Butte Falls chipped in $800. Today the hatchery, under the management of Superintendent J. W. Berrian, is making fishing de luxe possible, and sportsmen, as a result, sing the praises of the Rogue River valley.

REPORT MEDFORD WOMAN IS KILLED IN AUTO WRECK NEAR PASCO, WASHINGTON

MEDFORD, Or., July 29.—Telegraphic reports were received here yesterday of the death of Mrs. William Matthews, said to be a Medford woman, in an automobile wreck near Pasco, Wash. The car in which Mr. and Mrs. Matthews were riding overturned during a brief sandstorm about five miles east of Pasco. Mr. Matthews managed to extricate himself from the wreck, but his wife was dead when she was removed.

There is no Mrs. William Matthews listed in the directory here, the telephone directory nor the Jackson county tax list. The two Matthews families, one in this city and one on a ranch near the city, have no knowledge of anyone by that name. It is thought probable that a mistake has been made in the name.

REFUSES TO HEAP BLAME ON GEDDES

ACTION RAISES QUESTION OF DELEGATION MEMBERS TO DISARMAMENT MEET

LOYD GEORGE MAKES ATTACK

NORTHCLIFFE REFUSES TO LAY BLAME HEAVILY ON SIR AUCKLAND GEDDES

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—Lord Northcliffe, wealthy British newspaper publisher and political power, arrived here today only to be boycotted by the British ambassador, Sir Aueyland Geddes, who secured the cancellation of the official dinner scheduled in Northcliffe's honor. The action has precipitated the question of what Britishers will serve as members of the delegation to the Washington disarmament conference.

Newspapers owned by Lord Northcliffe recently opposed Lloyd George and Lord Curzon as prospective members of the British delegation to the conference. His action is being deeply resented by those two statesmen, although it is not certain that Lord Northcliffe's lack of reception here by Sir Geddes was due to their action. A London dispatch states that Geddes acted on his own initiative in cancelling the dinner, despite the fact that Lord Curzon was responsible. The latter was not to be found today.

King George was drawn into the controversy between Lloyd George and Lord Northcliffe today, when the British premier read a letter from the king in the house of commons repudiating the accuracy of the statement that Northcliffe made in the United States. Northcliffe is reported to have said to Lloyd George that the "Irish killings must stop."

"I hope," Lloyd George told the house of commons, "that the king's statement sterilizes the effect of criminal malignity that Northcliffe is trying to stir up between Great Britain and her friends to frustrate Irish peace."

Lord Northcliffe has branded as a "lie," the London report placing on Ambassador Geddes all responsibility for refusing him the use of the British embassy and causing the cancellation of a state dinner in his honor.

SINN FEIN REFUSE BRITISH TERMS; ARE DRAFTING COUNTER PROPOSALS

DUBLIN, July 29.—Sinn Fein leaders are drafting a refusal of the principal terms of the British peace proposal, and framing counter proposals. The latter principally relate to the degree of self government offered and future relations between Ulster and the southern counties of Ireland.

RESTORATION OF 2,000,000 ACRES YEARLY IS PLAN OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

PORTLAND, Or., July 29.—Reforestation through the planting of young trees at the average rate of 2,000,000 acres yearly during the next seventy-five years is the basis of the drive fostered by the forestry committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce to rehabilitate the nation's deforested areas, it was announced during a meeting here today.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—Prices are now considered between forty-five and fifty per cent above those of 1913, with the exception of building materials. Food prices have declined during the past year in some of the most important western cities as follows:

Butte, Mont., 39 per cent; Salt Lake City, 37 per cent; Seattle, 31 per cent, Los Angeles, 31 per cent.
