W. C. T. U. WOMEN WHO WORK WITH YOUNG PEOPLE AND CHILDREN

Mrs. Maude B. Perkins of Syracuse, New York, is general secretary of the Young People's Branch of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The organization, under the charge of Mrs. Perkins, is composed of both young men and young women and is designed to unite the whole group of young people in the community in the development of the essentials of proper citizenship. Miss Mary B. Ervin of Cedarville, Ohio, is the general secretary of the Legal Temperance League, the children's organization, under the general direction of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. It was this branch of W. C. T. U. organization that aroused both amusement and anxiety by their campaign song, 'Tremble King Alcohol, We Shall Grow Up.' It is the generation of grown-up L. T. L. children that has provided the votes which made the Eighteenth amendment an accomplished fact in the United States. Mrs. Elizabeth A. Perkins of Ann Arbor, Mich., is the national director of the department of Child Welfare of the W. C. T. U. The purpose of her department is to bring to the children of the nation, and particularly the children of the poor, the best possible chance for soundness in their physical and moral development. Mrs. Perkins has instituted many valuable policies in the program of work of her department. Mrs. Culla J. Vayhoyer, Director of the Department of Americanization of the W. C. T. U., embraces in her activities the children, as well as the women of the foreign born in the communities in which the organization has established centers. Great industrial centers are the choice field of work for this department, ten of which have been provided with Americanization centers and others are about to be added. Mrs. Elizabeth Owens Middleton is the Director of the Department of Scientific Temperance Instruction of the W. C. T. U. Under her charge is the teaching of the children in the public schools the effects of alcohol and narcotics upon human tissue, a field whose importance is considered very high in the organization because of the belief in education as the real cure for intemperance.

The Lost Needle THER'S an old English play known as "Gammer Garton's Needle." It's plot is woven around the loss of the family needle—no trifling misfortune in the days of old. Today, in this era of ours, life is so rich in comforts that we seldom wonder how folks got along in the ancient world And we sometimes forget what an important role advertising has played in making life pleasant and altogether livable. Advertising has one of the leading parts in the eternal drama of dollars. To it is directly due much of the multiplication of products and services which has come about during the last half century. It has smoothed the mechanics of existence—made life easier and more pleasant by bringing countless necessities—once considered luxuries—within our easy reach and into continuous use. Think of this when you read these columns. You owe much to advertising. And you miss much when you fail to read it!
