

ASHLAND climate without the aid of Medicine, cures nine cases out of ten of Asthma. This is a proven fact.

ASHLAND DAILY TIDINGS

MALARIA Germs cannot survive three months in the rich ozone at Ashland. The pure domestic water helps.

VOLUME 2 (Successor to the Semi-Weekly Tidings, Vol. 43.)

ASHLAND, OREGON, TUESDAY, AUGUST 16, 1921.

NO. 294

BRITISH-IRISH TRUCE BREAK EXPECTED

THREE GIRLS ENJOY HIKE TO C. LAKE

MISSSES MAUD YORK, RUTH ESKE AND LUCIE DAVIS "HIT TRAIL"

SCOFFING FAILS TO DETER FAIR HIKERS

WALK ALL THE WAY EXCEPT FOR OCCASIONAL LIFTS FROM MOTORISTS

By LUCIE DAVIS

"Going to hike to Crater Lake?" "Sure, we're starting Monday." "Who's the crowd?" "Why, Maud York, Ruth Eske and Lucie Davis." "It's quite impossible." "Why, girls, you'll never make it; it's foolish on the face of it." But despite these and many other hindrances, we, the above mentioned girls, left Ashland Monday, August 1, bound for Crater Lake with no conveyance except our feet, and our one object in view to have a good time and see some of the many wonders of our own state. It was decided among us, after much consultation, taking into consideration the high cost of shoe leather and the weariness of many miles of hiking, we might with great cautiousness accept a ride from anyone who saw fit to offer us the same. So with no fire-arms and a dull jack knife as our only weapons, we started, but luck was ours from the first and we rode across the burning deserts near Eagle Point to Rogue river, then with another lift from a kind gentleman we were able to make Prospect the first night. After resting and eating a slight lunch, we took the kodak and walked down to Mill creek falls, a very beautiful sight, falling over 600 feet into Rogue river.

A jolly time was spent at Prospect hotel that evening and on account of the frigid temperature of the atmosphere and a scarcity of blankets we arose early next morning and were on the road by the time the sun was up. It was then we received the first taste of real hiking; all cars passing us were tourists, heavily loaded, and we were obliged to eat their dust and still plod on. We stopped only long enough to view the Natural Bridge and marvel at the wonder of it when finally a few miles beyond Union creek our long looked for ride came and though it was a truck we clamored in thanking our lucky stars for a chance to rest our dust covered feet. This ride took us into about five miles of Crater Lake, where we took a side road to the Garden of the Gods, a very wonderful sight. It was growing late when we reached the government camp and there we met some hospitable Ashland folks who gave us a hot meal and hay to spread our blankets on. All the campers gathered around their huge camp fire that evening and the men told stories of bear hunts "once upon a time." So ended our second night of "roughing it."

Wednesday morning we slept late and after eating breakfast started to the rim, about two miles from our camp, but luck was certainly ours again, for a man overtook us leading three wild cayuses, which he seemed very anxious for us to ride. This was an opportunity not to be lightly passed up, so we galloped up to the hotel feeling like the heroines of Zane Grey's exciting novels must have felt. We walked down to the water, but as all motor boats were in use, we returned to camp. In the evening we went to see the bears that came within a short distance of our camp. We were only lucky enough to see "Maggie," the

(Continued on Page Four)

August to Be Record Month Highway Work

SALEM, Or., Aug. 16.—The month of August will probably break all records with relation to the amount of money expended in road improvements in Oregon during any similar period since the inception of the state highway department, according to Herbert Nunn, state highway engineer.

Mr. Nunn said Tuesday that contractors are busy in all sections of the state, and that the aggregate expenditures for this month probably would exceed $2,225,000.

In case of fair weather the work will continue until late in October in order that all improvements now under way may be completed this year.

North Half of Mills McCall Bldg. Is Sold

The north half of the Mills-McCall building has been purchased by C. J. Perrine, present tenant of the entire building, according to a statement made yesterday by V. V. Mills, Mr. Perrine could not be reached.

According to Mr. Mills the south half of the property, which is of two stories, with offices on the second floor, has not yet been purchased from Miss Lydia McCall, the owner. Although to all appearances the structure is one building the property has been owned jointly by Mr. Mills and Miss McCall.

The Mills-McCall building is one of the city's pioneer structures and has formerly been occupied by the mercantile firms of Beebe and Kinney, Vauple, Norris and Drake and other co-partnerships dating back to the early days when the property was occupied by the Mills and McCall interests.

Rev. H. A. Carnahan, former Presbyterian pastor here, is now located officially at San Francisco, his specific address being 172 Embarcadero. From July 6 to Aug. 6 he was in charge of the Citizens' Military Training camp, where nearly 700 young men from 16 to 19 years old were enrolled under Y. M. C. A. auspices. At present Secretary Carnahan's duties imply attendance at both the Presidio and Embarcadero, the former applying specifically to the army and the latter to both army and navy.

Sunday Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Tucker were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Oskar, Morton street.

Predicts Conference Will Cost U. S. Million Dollars

Musical Program Follows Dinner At Elhart Home

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick and the latter's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Barnhill, were entertained at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Elhart, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Weren and John Rigg. Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Yeo, Bernice and Everett, came later and the rest of the evening was spent in renewing acquaintances and enjoying a musical program. Miss Yeo played a number of piano solos with the perfection of technique for which this young musician is becoming noted; Mrs. Barnhill sang a number of songs alone and others with Mr. Yeo and Mrs. Weren; the men sang together and then the impromptu program closed with a song by Mr. Kirkpatrick, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. O. H. Barnhill expects to leave tonight for Eugene where she will visit her cousin, Mrs. Wayne Stead, for two weeks. Mr. Barnhill is going to California to look after some property and gather material for agricultural articles and character sketches.

Rancher Loses Two Fingers; Pulley Mishap

H. L. Moore lost two fingers by amputation Friday of last week following an accident at his ranch on the Dead Indian road. While unloading hay at the ranch barn Mr. Moore caught the ends of his fingers in a cable pulley used in unloading the hay. His two middle fingers were badly crushed, necessitating the amputation by local physicians. The fingers lost by Mr. Moore are the same ones that were badly cut in the saw mill planes a month ago. It will be some time before he will be able to use his injured hand. Mr. Moore is being cared for at the home of Mrs. Lynch, Liberty street.

WEATHER FORECAST RAIN

RESOLUTION FOR MERC. CONFERENCE IS PUSHED

BIG TAX REDUCTION FOR 1922 AND 1923, SAYS CHAIRMAN FORDNEY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16.—The latest developments of the disarmament conference includes a prediction that the disarmament conference will cost the United States more than 1,000,000, not $200,000 as at first estimated. The belief is current in official circles here.

Henry Cabot Lodge of the senate foreign relations committee will be a member of the American disarmament commission. A resolution introduced today by Senator King of Utah would authorize President Harding to call a conference of the leading mercantile nations to consider a means of stabilizing the international exchange and money values.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16.—Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee in reporting on a new revenue bill to the house declared that federal taxes should be reduced $384,000,000 for 1922 and over $790,000,000 for 1923.

PARIS, Aug. 16.—France today forwarded her official acceptance of the formal invitation from the United States to attend the international disarmament conference, to be held at Washington. Premier Briand himself intends to attend the conference, according to the message, which was transmitted to the state department at Washington this morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Following are current market prices on poultry products: EGGS, 45c; hens, 25@27c; broilers, 32@38c.

Rose Family Hold Picnic Reunion, is To Be Annual Event

For the first time Mrs. Mary E. Rose presided at a family reunion of all her children and grandchildren at a picnic dinner given Sunday on the banks of Wagner creek. The picnic was given in honor of Philip Rose, who will leave tomorrow for Monterey, Calif., where he is the principal of a California school. He will be accompanied by his wife and son, Philip, Jr.

Five machines were used to carry the family to the picnic site. With story telling, games and the recalling of family memory gems the reunion proved such a success that plans were made to make the event an annual affair at Ashland. The Rose family are numbered among the early pioneer families and have been associated with the history of Ashland for several years. The majority of the members of the family live in Ashland.

Those present at the reunion were: Mrs. Mary E. Rose; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rose and son, Philip, Jr.; George Eubanks, father of Mrs. Philip Rose; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rose, son Sanford and daughter Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose, sons, Ellis and Merrill, and daughter Mildred; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Aikin, daughters, Rose Marie, June and Frances, and son Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Combs, daughters, Bernice and Helen, and sons, Howard and Everett, and Carl Rose.

GENERAL MANAGER ESPEE COMPANY VISITS ASHLAND

J. H. Dyer, general manager of the Southern Pacific Co., accompanied by Mrs. Dyer and their son Joseph, Jr., arrived in Ashland yesterday on No. 16. Their car, the Del Monte, was cut out here and the family spent the evening with J. P. Wolf and family. While here they enjoyed a trip to the park, camp grounds, Medford, and Jacksonville. They expressed surprise at the improvements in Ashland and expect to return for a long visit. They left this morning on No. 14 for Portland.

Oregon Budget Law Explained, State Engineer

SALEM, Or., Aug. 16.—Copies of the law enacted at the last session of the legislature providing for the compilation and publication of budgets by irrigation districts have been sent by the state engineer to the officials of these projects located in different parts of the state. The budget law provides that three land owners in the district be appointed to sit with the board of supervisors as a budget committee, and also requires that the budget, when prepared, shall be published. In case there is no newspaper available then the budget may be posted and a hearing held thereon. The publication of the budget must be 20 days prior to the hearing.

Brumfield Does Not Recognize Officers, Train

CALGARY, Alberta, Aug. 16.—Dr. R. M. Brumfield insisted that he did not know the officers who placed him on board the train which was to carry him back to Roseburg, Ore., where he will stand trial for the alleged murder of Dennis Russell, laborer hermit. "I don't know who you are, unless you're Bill Mooney," Brumfield said. "You fellows think that I'm fooling, but I really don't know you at all."

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 16.—Officers escorting Dr. R. M. Brumfield to Roseburg to face trial for the alleged murder of Dennis Russell, are traveling over the Canadian Pacific railroad through Kingsgate, Spokane, Portland and then to Roseburg, according to reports.

Two additional officers plan on meeting the escort at Kingsgate to insure safe conduct for the alleged murderer owing to the high feeling among friends of Russell.

District Attorney Neuner is pushing the investigation to ascertain if the woman, "Mrs. Clara Killian," thought to be near Lake Louise, is involved in the case. Letters taken from Brumfield indicate, police state, that the woman is mixed up in the situation.

U. S. Revenue Collector

A United States revenue collector has been in Ashland the past week checking up on soft drink establishments and amusements. The revenue law, being much complicated, few had complied with the strict letter and many were assessed a fine for their delinquency.

The department rules that all ladies dancing at a public ball are bound to pay the government tax. The proprietor of the amusement is not allowed to pay the tax. As agent of the government he is bound to collect it from the persons. If the proprietor fails to so collect the tax he is subject to a fine ranging from $1,000 for repeated offense to $100 for first offense.

Therefore all ladies entering dancing pavilions, like the Bungalow, unaccompanied by gentlemen, will be required to pay 10 cents. If more than one lady accompanies the gentleman who buys a dancing ticket, 10 cents will have to be collected for the extra lady.

This is the law and unless complied with will subject the proprietor to a heavy fine.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 16.—The dream of nation-wide reputation and a reward of $50,000 vanished today when the amnesia cripple, thought to be Ambrose Small, Toronto millionaire theater owner, was identified as a former resident of the poorhouses near here.

SINN FEINERS INSIST--STATUS AS REPUBLIC

DE VALERA MAKES FIERY SPEECH BEFORE DAIL EIRANN--DEMANDS

SOLDIERS ORDERED BACK TO IRELAND

MEMBERS OF DAIL EIRANN SIGN PLEDGE TO "FREE THE IRISH STATE"

LONDON, Aug. 16.—All British soldiers that are now on leave from Ireland will be ordered to return immediately. No explanation followed this official announcement, however, following on the heels of Eamonn De Valera's speech to the Irish parliament insisting on complete independence. The order was taken to be an indication of fear of a possible break in the truce between Great Britain and Ireland.

DUBLIN, Aug. 16.—Eamonn De Valera, president of the "Irish republic," today told Dail Eirann that Ireland will treat with foreign countries, meaning England especially, only on the basis of recognition as the Irish republic. The Sinn Fein parliament met here today to determine the acceptance or rejection of the British peace offer, or reference of Ireland's peace question to the Irish plebiscite for settlement. De Valera declared that Dail Eirann is the only government that the Irish people will recognize, having elected its members through a popular vote. In a fiery speech, De Valera made an uncompromising demand for independence.

With serious faces members of Dail Eirann signed an oath of allegiance to "free the Irish state." The speech of De Valera and its acceptance by Dail Eirann is considered a practical refusal to accept the peace terms of Great Britain.

Large Attendance At Y. M. C. A. Aquatic Meet

Approximately 300 people attended the Y. M. C. A. aquatic meet held yesterday evening at the Natatorium under the direction of Cash Woods, county organizer for the organization. It is estimated that 50 men, women, boys and girls entered the various contests staged in the big tank between 7 and 10 o'clock in the evening.

The contests served the purpose of bringing into the limelight several swimmers and divers of remarkable ability. The entire program was carried out without an accident. High dives, 25, 50 and 100-yard dashes, relay races and handicap swimming contests were aquatic features of the meet.

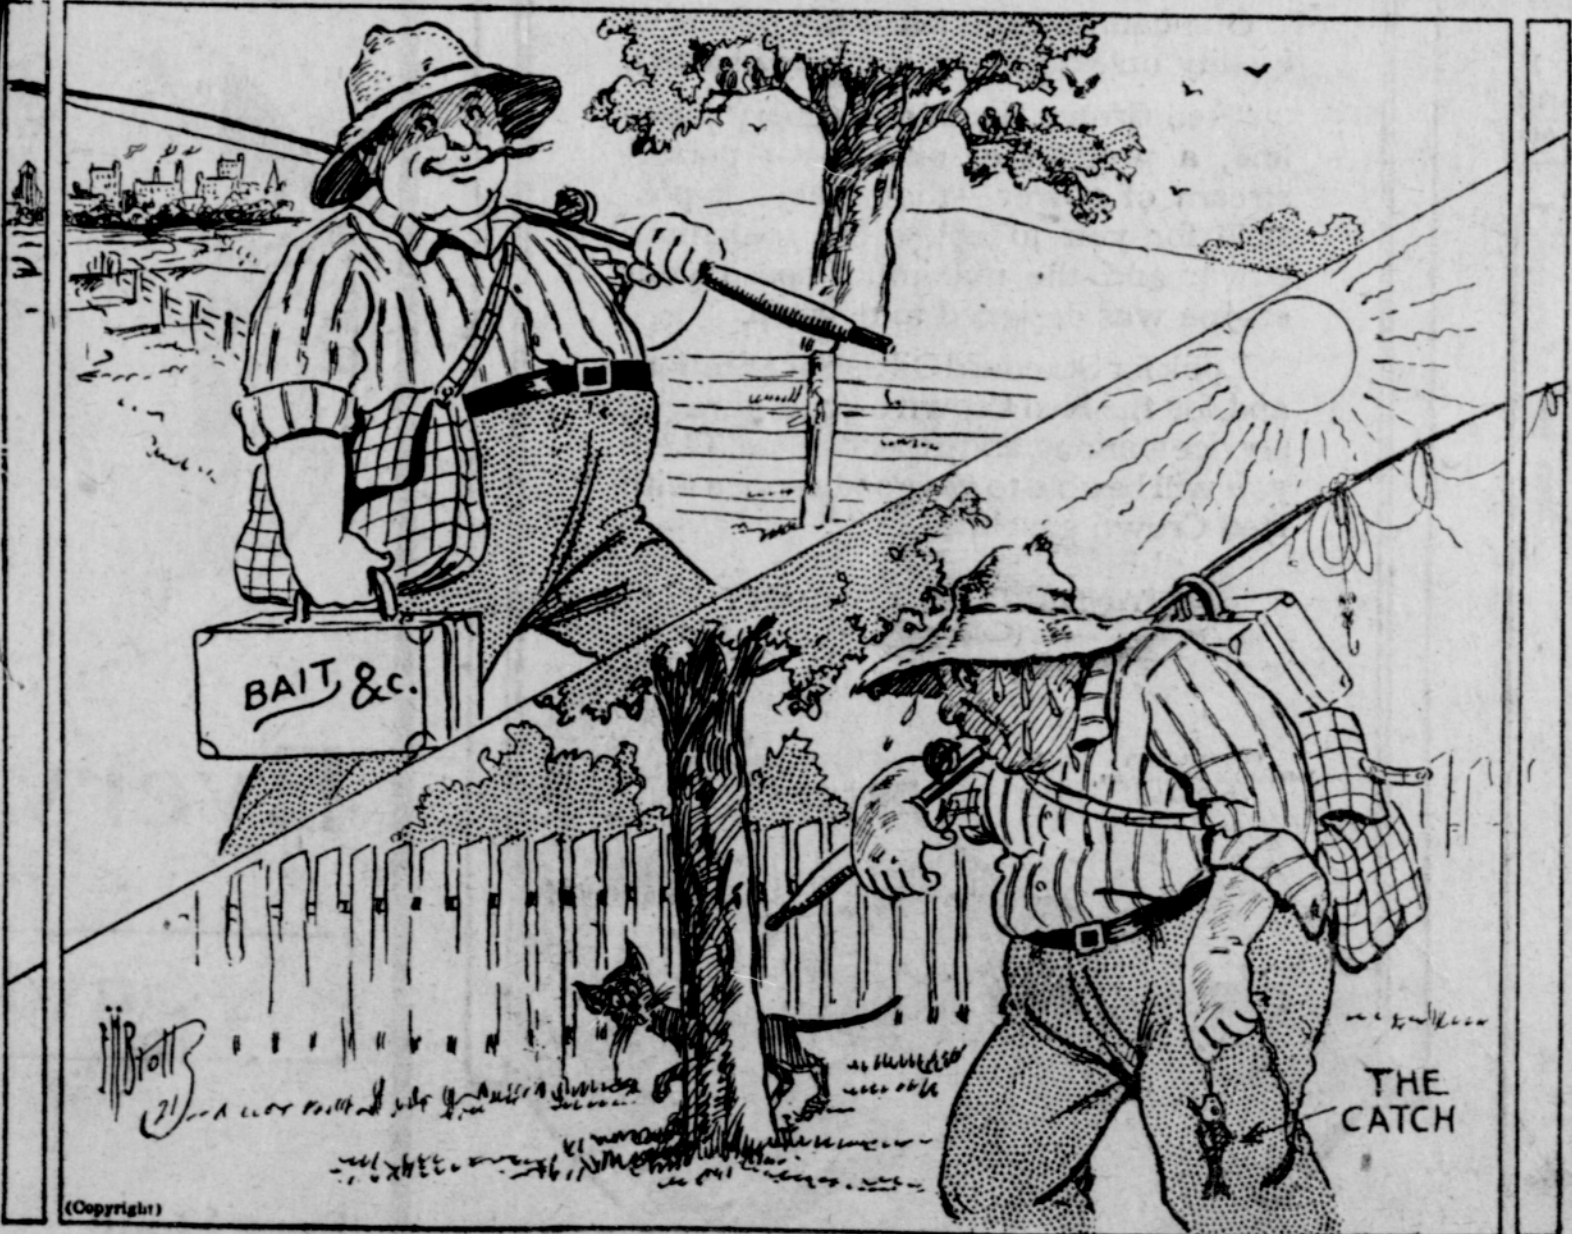

Cash Woods stated that the success of the meet was such that plans have been made to make the affair an annual event.

Names of the contest winners at the meet could not be obtained in time for today's paper. They will be printed in tomorrow's Tidings.

ANGLO-FRENCH ALLIANCE QUESTIONS SETTLED IS CLAIM OF LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Premier Lloyd George today declared that the questions affecting the solidarity of the Anglo-French alliance has been satisfactorily settled. It was feared in official circles that there would be a break between the two countries, although none is anticipated now.

To and Fro

(Copyright)

THE CATCH