Orres cleans clothes clean. 2941f

Limestone Plant to Be Idle—

The news comes from Gold Hill that with small capacity storage bunkers filled and no orders for limestone coming in, the state limestone plant is again preparing for a season of idleness. The farmers throughout the western part of the state have expressed their willingness to buy limestone to replenish their sour and otherwise refractory soils, but raising wheat at pre-war prices while the limestone is produced at war-price costs are a bar to placing orders at the present time.

Will Locate Here—

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Clay are new arrivals in the city with the intentions of making their home here. They are visiting at the home of Mrs. L. E. Inman, a niece of Mr. Clay.

Leave for Dunsmuir—

Mrs. Nellie Conner and daughter, Mrs. Frank Hanna, left this morning on train 13 for Dunsmuir and Shasta Springs. They expect to be gone about 10 days.

Nazarene Church Worker Visits—

Rev. Charles A. Kinder, special representative of the Nazarene Publishing house, Kansas City, Mo., was a visitor in Ashland over Wednesday. While here he was in consultation with Rev. J. E. McShane, pastor of the local church of the Nazarene, relative to the distribution of the products of the church publishing house. Reverend Kinder is making a tour of the Northwest and expresses himself enthusiastically regarding the opportunities found in Oregon—commercial and otherwise. He left for San Francisco, from which city he will make a tour of the Northern California district of his church.

Fixing Lake o' Woods Road—

G. V. Gillette, who made a trip in from Lake o' Woods this morning for camp supplies, states that the county is fixing the road between Ashland and Lake o' Woods.

Early Crawford Peaches—

Just to prove that the peach season had started, R. W. Dunlap, orchardist at 159 Nob Hill, brought two dozen early Crawford peaches into the Tidings office this morning. The Tidings staff had many compliments to make, especially pertinent to the peaches.

Entertain Civic Club Officers—

The officers of the Civic Improvement club were entertained this afternoon by Mrs. W. A. Shell at her home, 171 Granite street. The purpose of the meeting was for a general discussion of plans for the rest room club building to be erected on city property on Mill street. Refreshments were served.

Santa Monica Visitors—

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hargadine and daughter Mary Virginia of Santa Monica, Calif., are revisiting Ashland, attending to property interests remaining here and renewing many acquaintances of former times.

Leave for Crater Lake—

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hanson accompanied by their daughters, Catherine and Louise, and son Sam left for Crater Lake early this week in the family auto.

THREE GIRLS ENJOY HIKE TO CRATER LAKE

Thursday morning we again caught a ride to the rim and this time took a motor ride around Phantom Ship and Wizard Island, climbed to the top of the latter and slid on the snow to the bottom of the crater. That evening we secured ponies and rode around the rim to see the sun set on the lake, the road being cut through huge snow banks; one 25 feet in depth.

Friday morning we packed our knapsacks, in our excitement forgetting our frying pan, and started on our homeward journey, riding 14 miles in a government truck as a good starter. With a few "lifts" now and then we made Ft. Klamath at 1 p. m., and being ravenously hungry we extravagantly ordered dinner at the best hotel in town and enjoyed ourselves hugely for about an hour. Thanks to some farmer boys and a kind forest ranger we arrived at Pelican Bay Lodge at 6 o'clock that evening and there we enjoyed great hospitality from the keeper and his nieces, who even invited us to sleep in a bed that night, which chance, believe me, we did not pass up. Upon leaving, the keeper presented us with a beautiful hunting knife to slice our bacon with and for use as a weapon.

Saturday night we spent at Lake o' Woods and waded in the warm water of the lake. There we met some more "home folks" who divided food with us, our supplies having dwindled immensely.

Sunday morning we struck the trail bright and early and walked steadily for 12 miles, when we ate the last of our food supplies. Finding no one at home at several ranch houses we surely thought we would starve in the woods, but we chanced upon some cattlemen who gladly divided their lunch with us and for diversion played horseshoes with them for about an hour, at which time we resumed our hike with lighter hearts expecting to spend at least one more day on the road, but soon a friendly Ford stopped and asked us, "Want a lift?" We scrambled in and reached dear old Ashland at 7 o'clock p. m., and, take it from me, three weary girls were glad to see mother's face and to have a chance to sleep on a bed that didn't have rocks for feathers.
