Right Canning Process Will Keep Cider Sweet

Sweet cider may be canned so as to keep its natural flavor and aroma indefinitely, by a method worked out at the horticultural products laboratory of the Oregon Agricultural college experiment station. The cooked jelly taste is entirely absent.

The apples are collected, sorted to all sound ones, and then cleaned and piled up to sweat, which develops an exquisite aroma in the skins. The sound fruit only are then ground up with a grater. Spoiled fruits spoil the flavor and render the juice watery.

With hydraulic presses an average of three gallons from each bushel of fruit is obtained. The juice is pumped direct from the press into a receiving tank and strained through a coarse cloth or burlap to remove pulp. It is then run through a centrifuge of the type used in clarifying milk.

The juice is then put into the sterilizer, which may be a black tin or copper coil in a tank of water which is to be held at an even temperature of 160 Fahrenheit. Good thermometers and careful watching are essential.

The product next goes into sterilized plain tins which are sealed at once and processed at 160 degrees—no more—for thirty minutes or more. Time is counted after tank thermometer records 160, which must not be exceeded. After a short period of cooling, the cans are ready for market or storage.

If sterilizing the juice causes too much air in it, the cans are run through an exhaust box at 160 for about five minutes.

that we shall see him no more on earth. We tender our sympathies to the family and friends, and while we realize their hearts must be filled with sorrow over the loss of one so dear to them, yet we believe that many grateful memories which come from such a life, as odor from frankincense, will do much to console their minds.

Comrade Adams has passed from our ranks by promotion; he has answered the last roll call. Let us close up our ranks and march faithfully on.

Our ranks are wasting.
 Close up! Close up!
 Life's sun is hastening.
 Close up! Close up!
 Evening and that last bugle call
 Will come to all.
 But it need not our souls appal.
 Close up! Close up!

from employment resulting from the 9,729 temporary cases was 508 work years. The total of these three cases of disability is 5107 work years.

By again referring to the preceding paragraph, you will also note that the temporary disabilities alone result in approximately 508 workmen in the state being constantly away from their employment because of injuries.

And in addition to this showing, if a fellow could adequately express the sum total of pain and suffering and bereavement, caused by these accidents, would that not be a splendid inspiration to the employers and workmen who are now making earnest efforts to eliminate preventable accidents in our commonwealth?

iffs left Friday morning on a still hunt for him, and up to early yesterday afternoon, had not returned from the region famous for its big huckleberries and deer hunting.

Jacks was taken to the county jail, and his initial efforts to secure release on bonds were unavailing. A search warrant was issued out of Justice of the Peace Taylor's court for Jacks' residence, upon complaint of Special Agent S. B. Sandifer. Sheriff Terrill and a special gent swore out a complaint against Jacks this afternoon.

According to the police, Jacks was active in reform work last spring during the Bulgin meetings, and it is alleged that he gathered evidence for the evangelist. The authorities say that more than one complaint will be filed against him.

There are still seven or eight warrants to serve against citizens caught in the net of the special agents. Some of these are expected to be returned shortly.

SUGAR-COATED PILLS OF WISDOM

From "Aesop's Film Fables"
 —By Aesop, Jr.—

THE CATS AT LAW
 'Tis a wise fellow who knows enough law to avoid it.

Undoubtedly "The Cats at Law" came to court with a purr-rose.

Honesty is the worst policy for those "dumbells" who would steal.

Never argue over "eats" in court; the judge or the cops may be hungry.

A little stealing now and then is sure to put you in the "pen."

It's the little bites that eat away the cheese.

As ye come to court so shall ye pay a fine, or perhaps damages.

All who starve are not lawyers.

HEN EMULATES FAMOUS GOOSE

FLINTVILLE, Conn., Aug. 25.—The fabled goose that laid the golden egg has nothing on the chicken here that lays eggs with nickels in them. A housewife near Dublin declares she got a nickel out of a hen egg, she had broken into a frying pan while cooking a meal not long ago.

We wonder whether the housewife had just come from the movies after seeing "The Goose That Laid the Golden Egg" of the "Aesop's Film Fables" series. Perhaps this fun-film started her imagination.

THE LOSS CAUSED BY ACCIDENTS IN OREGON

The labor power destroyed in Oregon each year by industrial accidents is equivalent to the total labor power of a concern employing 5107 workmen and operating 300 work days during the year.

That's hard to believe, isn't it? Well, it's true.

And here are the facts.

The average number of accidents under the compensation act each year during a period of four years for each kind of disability follows:

One hundred and thirty-six fatal and permanent total disability cases.
 Six hundred and eleven permanent partial disability cases.
 Nine thousand seven hundred and twenty-nine cases where workmen were only disabled temporarily.

A total of 10,476 cases per year.

Using the national standard of measurement, each fatal or permanent total disability case equalled a loss of twenty potential work years or a total of 2,720 work years.

By the same system of measurement, the loss occasioned by the 611 permanent partial disability cases amounted to 1,379 work years.

And the total actual days away

T. LIPTON MUST WAIT AWHILE FOR ANOTHER CHANCE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—It will be several years before Sir Thomas Lipton gets another chance for America's cup—if he wants one.

Recent activities of the titled tea king in England indicate that he has not given up the ambition of his life to own the fastest yacht in the world, and that he may challenge the New York Yacht club for another race next summer.

In a period when money is not just the loosest thing on the market, a million dollar yacht race is not the best thing to get back to normalcy, and for that reason the New York Yacht club probably will discourage any attempt for another race next year, according to opinion prevalent here.

The yacht club speaks officially and it cannot discuss a challenge until it has been received, but, nevertheless, prominent members of the club have expressed the individual opinion that the cup will be kept on the shelf for at least two more years.

Lipton is said to be considering plans now for another addition to the Shamrock family of challengers. When he failed in his million dollar venture to beat Resolute last summer and win the cup, it was thought that he would be through. But he is persistent.

Two of his Shamrocks are now high and dry at Jacob's shipyard, City Island. They will remain there, however, it is believed, and a new Shamrock will be built and sailed over to compete in the next race.

For the same reason that an America Cup race is not probable in 1922, it is logical to believe that King Albert's Cup race across the Atlantic will not be on the 1922 program.

Attempts to stage the race this summer from Sandy Hook to Ostend, received a polite and courteous frown from American yachtsmen, who took the stand that the race would cost too much money and the investment of such big sums in a pure sporting event would not tend to bring the country back to its feet.

Comrades of Burnside Post:

The removal of Comrade J. W. Adams from our ranks by death has brought to us a loss which words cannot tell, and which can be measured only by the sadness of our hearts. When we recall what he has been to us, and to his loved ones and the world at large, and remember
