What Constitutes Advertising:
 In order to allay a misunderstanding among some as to what constitutes news and what advertising, we print this very simple rule which is used by newspapers to differentiate between them: "ALL future events, where an admission charge is made or a collection is taken is ADVERTISING." This applies to organizations and societies of every kind as well as to individuals. All reports of such activities after they have occurred is news.

All coming social or organization meetings of societies where no money contribution is solicited, initiation charged, or collection taken is NEWS.

more liberal in supplying free publicity to quasi-public undertakings. We have tried to give Ashland a creditable daily paper. The volume of business possible in a city the size of Ashland will not permit of as large a paper as we would like to produce, but we have done the best we could on the amount of income derived, and feel that we have done well. The city is rapidly advancing in population and prosperity and the Tidings hopes to advance to a better and better paper every day.

THE WEEKLY TIDINGS

We wish to call attention to the Weekly Tidings, which has been published continuously for forty-four years in Ashland. It does not circulate much in town, because nearly every family in the city takes the Daily Tidings, but it has a good circulation in the Talent and rural routes among folks who do not take the daily. There are few families in this end of Jackson county who do not read either the Daily or Weekly Tidings. They cover the field, and afford the merchants fine advertising mediums for this trade territory.

IMMIGRATION INTO CANADA

A recovery of immigration into Canada amounting to 27 per cent over the previous year occurred in the year ending March 30, 1921. Of a total of 148,000 immigrants 74,000 were British, 48,000 came from the United States and 26,000 from other countries.

Emigration from the United States to Canada increased steadily from 400 in 1897 to the high point of 139,000 in 1913. The flow was checked at the outbreak of the war. The prospect of conscription and heavy tax burden, and later by the increased prosperity of the United States. An even greater reduction followed the armistice, and the present recovery is but a small advance toward resumption of the pre-war movement.

American immigrants are eminently desirable, not only because they are assimilated without difficulty, since living conditions are so much alike in the two countries, but because they are on the average wealthier than the settlers from any other country. It is estimated by the department of immigration and colonization that the American settlers in 1920 brought with them wealth averaging $372 per capita. It is estimated that the British immigrant before the recent enactment prescribing possession of at least $250, should with him on the average about $100.

Financial Digest

By COURTESY CITIZENS BANK

On all sides people may be heard asking the remedy for present conditions. Expedients, artificial because always along unsound economic lines, will not greatly stimulate business. The real and only remedy is an adjustment more nearly equitable throughout, the elimination of waste wherever found and the conversion into actual results of the willingness to work hard.

There is a growing conviction that we shall not pass into a rapid and vigorous recovery during the next three or four months. On the other hand constructive factors have been piling up to such an extent in the past six months as to almost preclude any possibility of a considerable financial strain or forced readjustment. The present convalescing period offers unusual opportunities to those with courage and confidence and resources sufficient to carry them through temporary setbacks, to place themselves in a position to make the most of the coming prosperity when it actually sets in.

Agricultural Liquidation

Optimism is generally expressed in the agricultural districts over the money outlook, especially since crops have been moving freely. The surplus from the crop returns after the payment of farm debts is not expected to be large enough, however, to permit much buying of goods. In some sections, even the 1922 crop will be needed for liquidation unless improvement in livestock prices permits earlier debt liquidation.

Wheat

The wheat crop figures reported by the government indicate the smallest yield since the unlucky harvests of 1917 and 1918. Other favorable price factors are the famine in Russia and revised views of European import requirements on account of the prolonged drought. On the other hand the weather has been more favorable and the visible supply has greatly increased through prompt selling by the farmers of the southwest, northwest and Canada.

Wool

The Boston wool market appears to have been fairly well stabilized. The volume of domestic wool moving is increasing although prices are still held in check by the sale of "distress" lots of wool. The success of the recent goods openings and the sold-up condition of the mills of the leading interests have greatly encouraged the wool trade.

ness of the recent goods openings and the sold-up condition of the mills of the leading interests have greatly encouraged the wool trade.

The compilation of wool stocks by the United States bureau of markets as of May 1, 1921, showed three-quarters of a billion pounds of wool in this country. With the new clip of one billion pounds, this gives a total of one and three-quarters billion pounds, or enough for a two-years supply for our mills.

Bonds

One most encouraging development is the rise in bond prices and the better demand for seasoned issues which undoubtedly reflects the beginning, at least, of the accumulation of surplus funds. Rapidity of absorption of new issues indicates considerable funds seeking employment.
