This young man then has a specific duty in life and certain very definite obligations.

He superintends the burial of the mighty hunter. Then, whenever the hunters of his neighborhood are about to set out the young man goes with them to the mighty hunter's grave. He kneels with his face toward the hunters and his back to the grave. The hunters approach on hands and knees until close, then they dance about the young man and the grave to the rub-adub of a "charmed" drum. Palm wine is poured over the grave, while each hunter drinks to the departed.

A bit of the mud formed of the wine and the earth on the grave is rubbed on the forehead, the arms and the in-2t posed to give the hunters keenness, sureness of aim and swiftness in the

At last the charm is completed. The hunters sing a song in praise of the mighty departed. Then off they go, assured they will have success in the

HER DOMESTIC LIFE FICKLE

Female Tinamou Recognizes No Obligation of Loyalty to Either Her Mate or Offspring.

Feminine freedom goes a long way in the case of spiders (where the spite of her hasty temper the female spider is a devoted mother.

The banner of "women's freedom" is carried much farther by the tinamou, a South American bird.

She is a fickle wife and a cofirmed child deserter. Two female tinamous will fight for the claw of a blushing male bird, who accepts the winner without any voice in the matter.

As soon as she has laid a nestful of eggs, off she spes and fights another Then she ceserts her second husband, leaving him nothing but tender memories and more eggs. In time she amasses a kind of disconnected harem of husbands.

The husbands have all the tender qualities the wife lacks. They hatch the eggs, guard the chicks, and "moth-

"The Well of Montezuma,"

Among the many natural curiosities 2t of Arizona, one that is not often visited by tourists, is the singular bowlshaped depression in Yavapai county, called "The Well of Montezuma." It is nearly circular, and between 500 land, where he has been for the past It lies in the midst of a nearly-level two weeks attending to business area. The sides are vertical to a depth of 30 or 40 feet. Below that they merge into a sloping shape, which extends down to a circular pool of Clam Clark has returned from water, alleged by popular tradition, as are so many other not very deep
