DRY AGENT STARTS ENFORCEMENT PROBE

G. W. DODSON IRON WRK. PRES. DIES SUDDENLY

FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT OF THE ASHLAND IRON WORKS DIES AT 10 O'CLOCK LAST NIGHT—HEART TROUBLE.

George W. Dodson, 47, well known Ashland resident and president and founder of the Ashland Iron Works, died suddenly at 10 o'clock last night at his home, 421 North Main street, as the result of heart failure. The attending physician states that his death was caused by enlargement of the heart due to an attack of influenza of more than two years ago. Although Mr. Dodson was known to have been in poor health for some time, his death comes as a distinct shock to his many friends in this city.

Mr. Dodson had been complaining of illness for the past few days although his condition was not thought to be serious. Wednesday afternoon he was on the streets and driving his car. Following the day's auto drive he told Mrs. Dodson that he believed he would not drive the machine after that day because of his health.

Early yesterday evening the attending physician left Mr. Dodson with the expectation that the latter would rest well during the night. Following the doctor's visit, Mr. Dodson went to bed, passing away shortly afterward while sleeping.

Mr. Dodson founded the Ashland Iron Works sixteen years ago. Before that time he was an employe of the Southern Pacific company here. The deceased man was noted for his rare mechanical ability, having filled large government contracts at the local foundry during the world war.

The body was taken to the Stock undertaking parlors. Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Odd Fellows lodge. Mr. Dodson was also a member of the Woodmen of the World. Burial will be made at Mountain View cemetery.

George W. Dodson was born June 10, 1874, at La Trobe, Calif. He had no children. Besides his wife he is survived by three brothers and eight sisters. They are: A. E. Dodson, Colorado county, Calif.; J. A. Dodson, Carson City, Nev.; R. L. Dodson, La Trobe, Calif.; Mrs. Mabel Sprague, Oakland, Calif.; Mrs. William Euer, La Trobe, Calif.; Mrs. J. T. Porter, Ione, Calif.; Mrs. R. N. Day, Placerville, Calif.; Mrs. E. W. Younger, Portland; Mrs. J. L. Cochran, Tolle, Calif.; and Mrs. O. Bryan, Oakland, Calif.

Summer Camps County Y.M.C.A. Make Big Success

The three-day camps conducted for the boys of the county by the Y. M. C. A. this summer have proved a fine success. Sixty-one boys and adult leaders from six different communities of the county have availed themselves of the camping privileges thus offered.

The camps have been so handled that the three-day outings have been no expense. The transportation has been provided, and the boys have drawn on the home larder for provisions. Hiking, cooking, swimming, climbing, baseball, volley ball, quoits, bible study, campfire stunts, etc., have made the time all too short.

One of the features of the camps has been the fine spirit of co-operation and ready response to discipline. Cleanliness, so far as consistent with camp life, a liberal use of soap and water at stated times,

Former Pupil Of Local Teacher to Head Music Class

Miss Irene Hampton, former Medford girl, well known musical artist throughout the Rogue River valley, and one time pupil of Madame Tracy Young, of this city, has been engaged by the Morgan schools of Seattle, Wash., as head of the music department of one of their schools, according to word received here. Miss Hampton is a well known concert pianist and teacher of the Leschetizky school of piano instruction. Miss Hampton is well known in this city and Medford and has a successful record as a music teacher. She only recently completed a two year course with Madame Tracy Young, a personal pupil of Leschetizky of international reputation, who has appeared with the large orchestras of Europe and the United States. Miss Hampton coached with Madame Tracy in advanced technique, interpretation and the normal course of the Leschetizky school. Madame Tracy-Young states that Miss Hampton showed remarkable musical ability during her course.

REV. ANDERSON FAILS TO APPEAR AT MARSHFIELD

Though his wife, formerly Miss Nona Pace of Talent, and the major portion of the population of Marshfield were down to greet him Monday afternoon, the Rev. J. E. Anderson, the disappearing Baptist preacher of Coos county, failed to show up per promise from Clarksburg, W. Va., where he was caught. As soon as Rev. Anderson was apprehended in the company of Miss Hazel Boardman, a young and handsome pipe organist, he telegraphed that he "would come back and explain."

According to the Marshfield News citizens of the town laid bets that Rev. Anderson would not return, and all are very anxious to see him again. A reception committee was appointed to greet the prodigal, but the home paper surmises he "either lost his homing instinct, or his way en route." The Coos County admits that the minister is quite an orator, but doubts his ability to "explain his vanishment."

Mrs. Anderson is still in Marshfield, but intends to return to Talent shortly after her husband's arrival.

In a room filled with scales, measuring apparatus and literature explaining the proper care of babies, Ashland's "youngest" attended the "baby conference" clinic held at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon, attended by a coterie of local physicians and county nurses. The clinic was the second to be held in Ashland during the past year and was well attended by local mothers. One hundred per cent babyhood was the slogan of the clinic conference. Engle, chairman of the local committee, was in charge of the meeting. Miss Marie Fallaine, county nurse, supervised the clinic. Miss Jane Allen, director of the bureau of nursing and child hygiene of the state board of health, attended the conference.

Haz Kik

I wouldn't throw up my hands and quit, just because a few fellows whose names I wouldn't mention, had tried to sting me, if I really loved everybody else in town, because, if I did, somebody might say: "He said he would, but didn't"; or "Talk's cheap, but it takes money to buy whiskey." I'd just swallow my Adam's apple and make good.

FORTY QUARTS OF BOOZE DRANK IS CLAIM OF WITNESS

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 16.—More than forty quarts of high proof and very expensive liquor was consumed by Fatty Arbuckle and his guests at the San Francisco party which resulted in the death of Virginia Rappe, according to an admission made here by Fred Fishback who was present at the tragic affair.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Sept. 16.—Roscoe Arbuckle must face a charge of murder. When he was led into the court room this morning, the murder case was called by District Attorney Brady who announced that the state was ready to proceed with the prosecution of the charge. Arbuckle had waited cheerfully for twenty minutes before going into court in the expectation that the state would drop the murder charge and permit his release on bail, pending his trial on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, who died following a "booze party" in the rooms of Arbuckle at the St. Francis hotel here.

The announcement of the prosecutor fell like a bolt from a clear sky to the defendant and his attorneys. Arbuckle's attorneys demanded a continuance of the case for ten days. Attorney Brady objected but agreed to a five days delay. Judge Lazarus granted a continuance of the case until next Thursday.

Last Man Co. A. Robbery Medford Is Bound Over

MEDFORD, Or., Sept. 16.—The sixth and last man to be rounded up in connection with the looting of the quartermaster's department at the armory of separate company A of rifles and other military equipment was William McClain of Medford, who was located at Sisson, California, and brought back to this city by Sheriff Terrill.

In Justice Taylor's court yesterday morning the preliminary hearing of McClain was held at which he entered a plea of not guilty. He was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of larceny, under $1000 bail.

Carl Gregg, one of the six, also had his preliminary hearing today, and was held to the grand jury on $1000 bail. This afternoon George Shaffer and William Brown, others implicated, had their hearing in the juvenile court at Jacksonville.

Ham Lewis and Vord Chamberlain had already been held to the grand jury in the same court in bonds of $1000 each. Most of the young men have confessed.

ASHLAND INVADES GRANTS PASS FOR EXPOSITION FAIR

An Ashland invasion of Grants Pass was the outstanding feature of the opening day of the Southern Oregon industrial exposition being held at Grants Pass this week. About twenty-five cars came up Sixth street about noon displaying banners. Later the delegation was banqueted at the Josephine hotel, numerous speeches being made by Ashland men and officers of the Grants Pass Chamber of Commerce.

O. S. Blanchard, president of commercial organization of the neighboring city; W. E. Newcombe, manager of the Western Union and former president of the Ashland Chamber of Commerce, and Wilford Allen, secretary of the Grants Pass Irrigation district, made speeches of welcome. These were responded to by Henry Enders Jr. and Mayor C. B. Lamkin of this city. J. H. Fuller, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, issued a general invitation for the people of Josephine county to attend the annual Ashland winter fair which is to be held here the first week in December.

When the Ashland people visited the fair grounds they found that the sister county could put on a show that does justice to all the booster arguments that have ever been made. The proverbial huge pumpkins, luscious fruits, vegetables, flowers, women's needle work, cattle, swine, chickens and many other exhibits were placed for inspection there.

COM. HAYNES TO PLACE BLAME FOR SLACK METHODS

WILL CO-OPERATE WITH ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES AND THE PRESS—QUERIES ATTITUDE OF COURTS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 16.—Disgusted over the spread of the liquor traffic throughout the country and the law's utter failure through the federal dry machine to cope with it, National Prohibition Commissioner Haynes has today ordered a probe to be made of state enforcement organizations in an effort to fix the blame for the present demoralization of the organization regarding enforcement of the dry laws. Commissioner Haynes has ordered every director to go to the bottom of the dry law handicaps and report in detail upon the attitude of the juries in the federal and state courts.

Steps will be taken at once to co-operate with the various law enforcement agencies, and the press, with full comment upon any change in their attitude. He claims that progress is being made in the disposition of seized liquors.

The commission also ordered closed to fishing Lake creek for 800 yards below the point where it enters into Diamond lake in Douglas county.

A full legal notice of the change in the quail season is published elsewhere in this paper.

Famous Violinist Will Play Here Soon at Armory

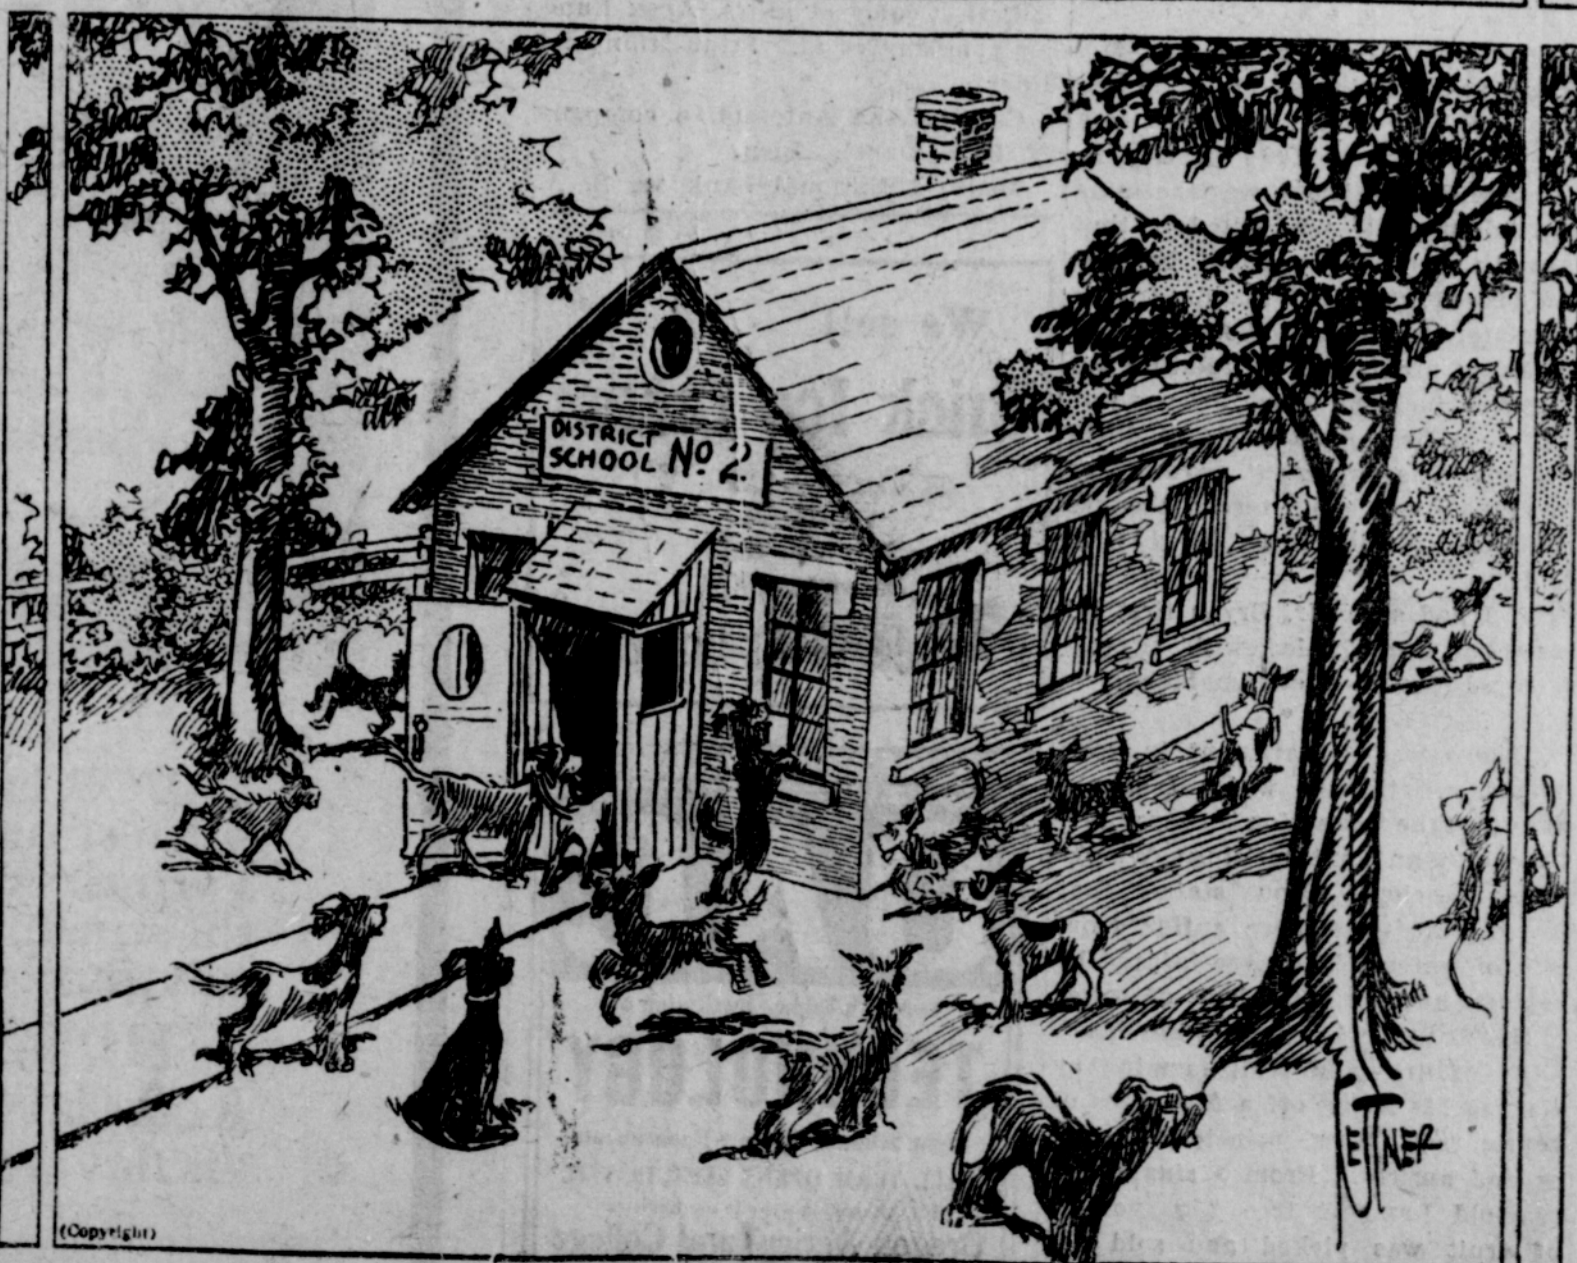

By WM. BRIGGS Skovgaard, the noted Danish violinist, is to be at the Armory September 29. This is one of the biggest features in the musical history of Ashland.

After much consideration it was decided by the committee from the First company, in charge of the affair, that only a nominal charge be made for the performance, the plan being that by making a nominal charge a very large crowd would attend, and that the First company would profit more by the volume of attendance, rather than by the price.

The First company has labored long and hard for the welfare of the organization, and need the support of every true and loyal Ashlander. It is, at best, a very wearisome task for every member to give an evening a week to military drill and endeavor, and certainly those people of the city who are not so giving their time, should help support them to the limit.

Churches and schools have been asked to announce the coming of this wonderful musician, in order that Ashland may be there with a tremendous audience. The Armory is capable of seating 2000 people, and the boys want every seat taken. Seats for this splendid event are now on sale at Rose Brothers.
