With Sells-Floto Circus at Medford, Sat., Sept. 24th

By PRESS DEPARTMENT (Sells Floto Circus)

Only papers in cities played by Sells-Floto circus during the last two years will print this yarn, friendly readers. It takes a city editor and a copy desk that have seen "Poodles" Hanneford, the riding Hannefords, and the Sells-Floto performance, since the big western circus started its annual spring openings in the Chicago Coliseum, to stand for this frankness on the part of the show's press department.

Of course, here and there will be a chap who will risk it, knowing, as all city editors know, that the second largest show on earth has long since gotten over amateurish exaggeration.

But it goes back—does this yarn—to the time that Sells-Floto, coming to Medford for matinee and evening show on Saturday, September 24, was founded by combination of the old Sells circus and the new Otto Floto shows, the greatest two car troupe that ever claimed to have twenty.

They tacked Otto's two cars onto the famous Sells trains and exclaimed: "Here's a circus of the west, by the west and for the west."

They held onto this policy for ten years, but the show got too big for 'em. It had to take in the continent to progress, to get its breath. Then came the Chicago openings, and performances that made circus history. And what a circus! With the renowned acts on its three ring-two stage roster—headed by the famous Poodles Hanneford and the Hanneford family of riders—the features of the program literally lited audiences to their feet. Encores were common—and encores were hitherto unheard of in the circus business.

And this is the show that was built for the west. But the east and the north and the south demanded that the west share with them. Sells-Floto has become a national institution. It will remain so. Three years ago, newspapers frankly referred to it as the "coming show." It came. It has arrived.

And Sells-Floto is coming to you. It comes with exactly the program it presented at Chicago, and this will be true to the last stand of November in Dixie. With over 1200 people, with the greatest arctic program ever seen in America, with its famous horses increased by numbers to 700, with 400 performers of note and sixty ballet girls on the big show pay rolls, with one hundred and fifty animal actors and animal comics, with fifty-five clowns of nation wide reputation—with all these attractions, as well as the handsomest parade that ever covered twenty-two city blocks, Sells-Floto Circus, "second largest show on earth with a performance second to none," comes to you.

WHERE'S THE FIRE? Some times that fire whistle gets into the habit of blowing off when there is no fire, but you know it when it is blowing for a fire alarm; the big question then is "Where is the fire?" The truck is on the go—where? It may be a small blaze or it may already be past control—BUT there is a fire! That's what the fire whistle tells you and your heart jumps faster. Many times that call may be answered and NOT be for your home or your business. But once—just that vital once—may prove the disaster of your life. Suppose it comes today, tomorrow—who can tell when? Are you fully protected? Why take the chances? What has happened can happen. If it should happen to you, would it hurt? A few dollars invested in a good fire policy today may save you a thousand tonight. Billings Agency Real Estate and Real Insurance Estab. 1896 Phone 211 41 East Main
